

Insurance.

M. A. CAMERON.

Amongst the insurance men of the Island Mr. Cameron may be regarded as one of the most prominent, he having in a few years built up a large business. He devotes his entire attention to insurance, hence the secret of his success—he has, however, had considerable experience in this particular line of business and therefore is conversant with all its details including fire, life, marine, and accident.

One important feature in Mr. Cameron's business is the character and stability of the offices which he represents—they have only to be named to be appreciated. The "Royal" of Liverpool, and the "Lancashire" of Manchester are old and substantial companies which, with others for which he is agent, are well known for their soundness in a financial point of view.

E. H. NORTON.

Few subjects have engaged public attention and especially that of the prudent part of the community more than the subject of Insurance during the past half century. Notwithstanding its paramount importance however, there are thousands who do not avail themselves of its numerous benefits. Mr. Norton's advertisement which appears on page 170, should be read with interest, and the case of the "poor fellow" who had no accident policy on his life should be carefully studied. If a man unluckily is overtaken by calamity by which he is disabled, he will receive $10 or $20 a week, more or less, as the case may be according to amount of policy; and it is astonishing how quickly a medical man will attend the sick and dying when he knows he will be paid for his services and it is not less surprising how readily the sympathy of our friends is bestowed when a golden reward is seen in the distant future. Mr. Norton undertakes all risks.

Cabinet Makers.

MARK BUTCHER.
