JESS WILLARD IS TRAINING FOR FIGHT New York, Dec. 26—When Jess Willard recently issued his 'sweepingly liberal patriotic' offer to fight anyone, anywhere, anytime, for the benefit of the American Red Cross he immediately plunged into the arduous work of physically preparing himself to withstand the tidal rush of responses from rival heavyweights. It was generally supposed that outside of the work he did while crossing last summer this preparation was Willard's first attempt to get in shape for a bout.
