

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THEATRES OF
ST. JOHN"LIBERTY," DASHING SERIAL,
COMES TO OPERA HOUSE

"Liberty," the great Universal photo drama serial, with Marie Albany, Jack Holt and Eddie Polo as co-stars, the first episode of which will be seen at the Opera House Friday and Saturday of this week, is one of the most thrilling, astounding, sensational and gripping serial stories ever placed upon the screen. The vast resources of the great Universal film were taxed to the limit to meet the demand of the director, Jacques Jaccard, for equipment to properly develop the many huge scenes the serial calls for. Of course it has many hair-raising stunts—no photo drama with Eddie Polo would be complete without them—and the whole action of the serial chapters is said to fairly buzz with speed, thrills, adventure and climax.

It deals with adventure below the Mexican border at the present day. Out-end useful remembrances presented to her in novel form. A pleasant time was spent in dancing, games and music and refreshments were served.

"ETERNAL CITY," HALL CAINE'S
TENSE DRAMA, AT OPERA HOUSE

"Eternal City," Hall Caine's intense drama of modern Roman life, filmed by the Famous Players Company in England and Italy, will be seen at the Opera House tomorrow night only. "The Eternal City" is brimful of thrilling scenes photographed against background of surpassing beauty. It is this last feature which adds the finishing touch to the production. St. Peter's and the Vatican, the narrow, steep streets and the ancient palace of the capital by the Tiber appear frequently, while the ruins of the Coliseum are used for one of the most effective passages of the play. Taken on the very ground described in the novel, the play at once has conferred on it an air of reality, impossible to achieve by any mere evocation or makeshift of the cleverest director. The London scenes are no less convincing. There are changing Crook Station, Trafalgar Square and an unmistakable Mt. of Soba right in front of the spectator.

Pauline Frederick plays the part of Donna Roma in a thoroughly convincing manner and her acting may be designated as a personal triumph. Frank Holding ably supports Miss Frederick in the role of Pauline's brother, Frank. Louise is seen as Baron Bonelli. The Eternal City made such an impression when seen here a few months ago that the Opera House management has made strenuous efforts ever since to secure return engagement. It will be here for one day only—tomorrow—one show in the afternoon at 2:30, two shows in the evening at 7 and 9. (Usual little prices.)

IMPERIAL TONIGHT AND TOMORROW

Imperial Theatre will tonight present an entirely new programme of pictures and the concluding presentation of Sidney Grundy's English drama "A Member of Parliament" by the Kendal Weston Players. The pictorial feature will be a Metro's wonderplay "The Notorious Gallagher," in which Marguerite Snow and William Nigh are said to have created a veritable sensation in the big cities. Weekly and other pictures, all new.

Tomorrow (Thursday) the Kendal Weston Players will change their bill, offering DeMille's highly dramatic burlesque story "In The Watcher of the Night." This is a weird dialogue between a house-breaker and the wife of a corporation lawyer, whose home has been broken into. The burglar, driven by poverty through oppressive labor conditions, by sheer fate seeks the safe of his starving family by stealing from the home of the very man responsible for his condition. Needless to state, the scene is of the most intensely dramatic character.

FIRST EPISODE IN THE YELLOW MENACE

The Gem tonight and tomorrow will present the first episode in the new million dollar serial "The Yellow Menace," a gigantic story set in stupendous scenes. See page XI for particulars. The first chapter "The Dragon's Claw," gives the clue to the whole story, so do not miss it. It is told in three gripping reels. This serial is bound to electrify movie patrons. Thousands take part in some of the scenes. The programme also includes Robert Warwick, a Gen. favorite, in "The Stolen Voice," a beautiful four-part drama.

COMING TO THE PALACE

On Friday and Saturday the Palace Theatre will present "The Nature Man," a wonderful five-part play of a struggle for existence. But man fitted against brute animals on equal footing. The film of a thousand wonders. This has been spoken highly of by leading college heads, especially physical culturists and those who advocate plain living.

LOCAL NEWS

CONTRACT AWARDED

The contract for the complete electrical installation, including dynamo, etc., for the "Pipscot Lumber Company's" new saw mill at Grand Salmon River has been awarded to F. E. Jones of this city.

ONCE MORE

A woman arrested yesterday by the city police was taken into court this morning and charged with drunkenness. She is an old offender and has paid many a visit to police headquarters. She was remanded and will likely be sent to the Home of the Good Shepherd.

FIVE TODAY

Five recruits were secured at the recruiting office in Prince William street this morning—Harry Fay, St. John; William Pickett, Bridgewater, N. S.; Ernest Watts, Fredericton; Thomas Reid, Lunenburg; and John Cope, Nova Scotia.

NOVELTY SHOWER

Last evening a novelty shower was tendered Miss Agnes Ogilvie at her mother's home, Ludlow street, Carleton, in anticipation of an approaching nuptial event. She was the recipient of pretty and useful remembrances presented to her in novel form. A pleasant time was spent in dancing, games and music and refreshments were served.

C. P. R. NOTES

H. J. Humphrey, superintendent of the C. P. R. car service, with headquarters in Montreal, arrived in the city yesterday enroute to Bathurst where he will visit relatives.

DOUGLAS AVE. CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Mrs. Reynolds Ford of Indianapolis, Ind., will give an address tonight at 8 o'clock at above church. She is an exceptionally able and interesting speaker and as a result of fourteen years' missionary work in South America, has extensive report business conditions all over country exceptionally fine.

HUGHES IN ILLINOIS

Hughes in Illinois attacks eight-hour law, saying it is nothing more than measure to fix wages.

WILSON ADHERES TO DETERMINATION

Wilson adheres to determination not to take stump. Will make speech at Shadow Lawn discussing eight-hour law, tariff and Mexico.

BOSTON AND MAINE RECEIVERSHIP

Approved by stockholders. Railroad men report car shortage in Pittsburgh worst ever known.

HEADS OF RAILROADS

Heads of railroad industry which are believed to be casting about to obtain such. We have reasons for believing that important advances may be expected in coming during the next few weeks.

CRUELTY REPORTED TO BE HEAVILY OVER

The rise has not forced the shortage in, according to well informed sources. Inquiries indicate large horse scale demand. Information channels which have been very bullish on the stock for some time, show a lack of confidence in higher prices for it. Unofficial earnings estimates continue between $40 and $75 a share.

INVESTIGATIONS OF THE CHARACTER

of U. S. show a continuance of outside absorption of the market by many operators who sold out recently at lower prices. The odd lot absorption of Steel is growing and from the west come indications of a big western participation in the Steel stock rise.

GERMANY AND THE VATICAN

London, Sept. 20.—A movement in favor of re-establishment of the temporal power of the Pope is reported by the Amsterdam correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph Company to have been inaugurated by Catholic newspapers of the Vatican wholly away from Italian influence.

NOTICES OF BIRTHS, MARRIAGES AND DEATHS. 50c.

BIRTHS

COOLEN.—At 66 Quinpool road, Halifax, N. S., on Sept. 15, to Mr. and Mrs. E. Arthur Coolen, a son, Wilfred.

KING.—On Sept. 19, to Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. King, 65 Belfair street, a daughter (Doris Marie).

DEATHS

ERB.—Suddenly, at Little Salmon River, on Tuesday, September 19, 1916, George N. Erb of this city.

FUNERAL WILL BE HELD FROM THE residence of his brother, Edward Erb, apothecary, on Thursday afternoon at one o'clock. Burial at Sussex.

O'REILLY AT THE GENERAL

Hospital, on the 19th inst., George, son of Frances and the late Thomas O'Reilly, West End, leaving his mother, four brothers and two sisters to mourn.

FUNERAL ON THURSDAY MORNING

at 8:30 o'clock, from his mother's residence, Woodville Road, to the Church of Assumption for requiem high mass. Friends invited.

CARDS OF THANKS

Mrs. George Cunningham and family wish to thank their friends for kindness and sympathy extended to them during their recent sad bereavement.

USE THE WANT AD. WAY

LOCAL NEWS

SALE OF HATS.

Miss Rosamund McAvity is now holding a sale of misses' and children's hats at moderate prices at Pedersen's flower store, corner of Princess and Charlotte streets; proceeds to be devoted to the purchase of Christmas comforts for the lone soldiers.

Wm. Donahue, Boarding, Hack and Livery Stable, Autos to hire. Careful chauffeurs. Phones—Stable, 1787-11; House, 1787-41. 46048-9-21

Miss Emma Heffer will organize gymnastic classes on September 22, 29 and 30 at 92 Princess street.

Turner is showing a good assortment of fall overcoats from $12 to $22—Out of the high rent district, 440 Main. T. Reid, Lunenburg and John Cope, Nova Scotia.

Big shoe sale at Monahan's, 189 Union street, West End. 46048-9-21

HAPPY BOYS

Don't keep the boys back. Let them be happy and contented. We have several styles to suit all ages at lowest prices—Amey's, 206 King street west. 46048-9-21

UNION MADE OVERALLS

Brotherhood, Headlight, Carhart's Peabody's, Leather Label, overall, and also gloves—Mulholland's, near Corner Union street, No. 7 Waterloo street. 46048-9-21

NOBBY HATS FOR MEN

Mulholland's, No. 7 Waterloo street, are showing the finest lines of Nobby Hats in St. John at the right prices. Look for electric sign, Mulholland's. A call on this firm is advised. 46048-9-21

DOUGLAS AVE. CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Mrs. Reynolds Ford of Indianapolis, Ind., will give an address tonight at 8 o'clock at above church. She is an exceptionally able and interesting speaker and as a result of fourteen years' missionary work in South America, has extensive report business conditions all over country exceptionally fine.

AT HENDERSON'S.

Arthur Henderson says: "There's 57 varieties of tailoring. Which one of the kind you want, you pay for it. If you will let me make your next suit or overcoat you will get something different from the common kind. My tailoring is made to a standard, not down to a price. Located at No. 8-King.

"BURN RADIO CHESTNUT, THE SUPERIOR

Kitchen hard coal—Consumers Coal Company, sole vendors."

FATHER MORRIS'S

Stomach Remedy for the cure of Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Heartburn, Gas on Stomach, Sourness and all forms of stomach troubles. No return—No Pay. Price 50c. All Druggists.

CASUALTY LIST.

INSIDE WEBS
Ottawa, Sept. 20.—(Casualties):—

Infantry.

Wounded—Capt. John Flint Cahoon, Dartmouth, N. S.; Pte. Herbert P. East, Ormstown, Que.; Pte. Henry W. Howard, Shawville, Que.; Pte. Harman Lester, Shawville, Que.

DIED OF WOUNDS—Lieut. A. Horner, Charlottetown.

DEATH OF COMMANDER OF GERMAN TROOPS IN ALSACE

Berlin, Sept. 20.—Gen. Gerd, commander in chief of the German troops in Alsace is dead.

The Nile Threatens

Cairo, Sept. 20.—The waters of the Nile have reached a very high level, necessitating the enforcement of a decree of 1887 which empowers the government to call on any able-bodied man to assist in the construction of the threatened regions and penalty of imprisonment or fine.

TO CONDUCT MISSION

Halifax Echo—Rev. Father McKinnon of Herring Cove, announced on Sunday that there would be a mission in Ketch Harbor and Herring Cove in October, to be conducted by Rev. Father Connolly, of the Redemptorist Order, Montreal. (Rev. Stephen Connolly, C. S. R., was formerly stationed at St. Peter's church.)

THE BEST QUALITY AT A REASONABLE PRICE

Watches For Teachers

The school teacher cuts down her efficiency unless she has an accurate watch. She can't depend on the clock.

The Bracelet Watch is always where she can see it. She doesn't lay it on the desk and take a chance of forgetting it.

If she buys it at Sharpe's, selects from the latest styles, at the price she wants to pay, with positive assurance of getting a durable, accurate time-piece.

Mrs. Brown, wife of Dr. Norman Brown of the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal, is the guest of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Charles Heales, Rockland Road.

A visitor to the city yesterday was Charles Armstrong of Chelmsford, Mass., who was here on his way to Sussex, his former home. Mr. Armstrong is extensively engaged at Chelmsford, near Lowell, in the manufacture of temperate drinks, mineral water, etc., and is prospering.

Frank Royce of the staff of the Bank of Nova Scotia, Chatham, N. B., is visiting his mother, Mrs. A. Royce, Elliot Road.

Mrs. Alex Scott of Lancaster Heights left last evening for Woodstock to visit friends.

Miss Ollie and Miss Blanche Livingston of North End have gone to Boston to visit friends.

Rev. D. A. Patton, parish priest in Lochaber, N. S., is visiting his uncle, Hon. R. J. Ritchie. Father Patton is a brother to Dr. Harry Patton, who was a practicing dentist in St. John some few years ago and who at present is in St. Stephen.

PATRIOTIC CAUSES

Christmas Stockings.

Will you add to the Christmas cheer of the wounded and ill men in Canadian hospitals overseas? You can do so by sending a Christmas stocking to them.

If you call at the local Red Cross rooms on Chipman Hill, socks will be given to you, which you are asked to fill and return. These will be sent to Lady Drummond, who will distribute them among the hospitals. Small games, cards, bright ties, chocolate in various forms, tobacco, cigarettes, paper, pencils, gum, puzzles, any small thing that will interest and amuse an invalid should be included among your gifts. It is asked that the things be not expensive, as the men enjoy the simple gifts, and the demands for necessities are now very heavy.

Y. W. P. A.

A general meeting of the Young Women's Patriotic Association will be held in the Order of Moose rooms on Thursday evening at eight o'clock.

Prepared, Should Not Delay Going. An old farmer lay dying. The minister was sent for and prayed at the bedside. Then, at the last minute, the sick man replied, "Ah, my dear," he said to his better half, "it may be I'll be spared to you yet." The old wife frowned and grimly said, "No, no, George. You're prepared and I'm resigned. Die now."

Thought the Kaiser Was a Geyser. The teacher was giving a geography lesson, and the class, having travelled from London to Labrador, and from Thessaly to Timbuctoo, was thoroughly worn out. "And now," said the teacher, "we come to Germany, that important country governed by the Kaiser. Tommy Jones, what is a Kaiser?" "He's, m' yawnd Tommy, 'a stream o' hot water springin' up an' disturbin' the earth."

An Overco Solid Alcohol Lamp and Extra Tin of Alcohol for 50c

THE ROYAL PHARMACY
47 King Street

ESTABLISHED 1894

Don't Neglect YOUR EYESIGHT

If you are suffering from eye-strain or headache, have your eyes immediately examined.

Our service consists of fitting glasses to tired, strained or weak eyes.

We do not fit glasses to eyes that are in need of medical attention.

But information and advice are cheerfully given.

D. BOYANER
TWO STORES:
38 Dock Street, 111 Charlotte Street.

THE BEST QUALITY AT A REASONABLE PRICE

Watches For Teachers

The school teacher cuts down her efficiency unless she has an accurate watch. She can't depend on the clock.

The Bracelet Watch is always where she can see it. She doesn't lay it on the desk and take a chance of forgetting it.

If she buys it at Sharpe's, selects from the latest styles, at the price she wants to pay, with positive assurance of getting a durable, accurate time-piece.

Mrs. Brown, wife of Dr. Norman Brown of the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal, is the guest of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Charles Heales, Rockland Road.

A visitor to the city yesterday was Charles Armstrong of Chelmsford, Mass., who was here on his way to Sussex, his former home. Mr. Armstrong is extensively engaged at Chelmsford, near Lowell, in the manufacture of temperate drinks, mineral water, etc., and is prospering.

Frank Royce of the staff of the Bank of Nova Scotia, Chatham, N. B., is visiting his mother, Mrs. A. Royce, Elliot Road.

Mrs. Alex Scott of Lancaster Heights left last evening for Woodstock to visit friends.

Miss Ollie and Miss Blanche Livingston of North End have gone to Boston to visit friends.

Rev. D. A. Patton, parish priest in Lochaber, N. S., is visiting his uncle, Hon. R. J. Ritchie. Father Patton is a brother to Dr. Harry Patton, who was a practicing dentist in St. John some few years ago and who at present is in St. Stephen.

SERIOUS WARNING TO GERMANY IN COURSE TAKEN BY ROUMANIA

Dr. Naumann Calls it Judgment of Defeat, Tells Germans They Must Prepare Anew

London, Sept. 20.—Friedrich Naumann, author of "Central Europe," who wrote recently an article on the weakening of German popular opinion about the war, published another interesting article in a recent issue of his weekly paper, Die Hufe, and it is reproduced in part in The Times. The article is entitled "The Second Beginning," and makes a candid statement concerning the entrance of Rumania into the war.

Dr. Naumann begins by saying that Germany is now brought face to face with what she expected at the beginning of the war—"the real great danger." He proceeds: "Sacrifices are growing and the number of dead and wounded is becoming great. The war has reached every family, and the grave seriousness of the whole situation is hemming us about on all sides. This is the moment at which our moral forces must be aroused a second time, and this time with all emphasis."

Dr. Naumann then develops his argument about the intervention of Rumania, saying: "After two years of vacillation, the Rumanian Government has subscribed to the opinion that the Central European cause is lost and that a division of Austria-Hungarian territories can now begin. It is only upon this assumption that the Rumanian invasion of"

Germany is now brought face to face with what she expected at the beginning of the war—"the real great danger." He proceeds: "Sacrifices are growing and the number of dead and wounded is becoming great. The war has reached every family, and the grave seriousness of the whole situation is hemming us about on all sides. This is the moment at which our moral forces must be aroused a second time, and this time with all emphasis."

Dr. Naumann then develops his argument about the intervention of Rumania, saying: "After two years of vacillation, the Rumanian Government has subscribed to the opinion that the Central European cause is lost and that a division of Austria-Hungarian territories can now begin. It is only upon this assumption that the Rumanian invasion of"

Germany is now brought face to face with what she expected at the beginning of the war—"the real great danger." He proceeds: "Sacrifices are growing and the number of dead and wounded is becoming great. The war has reached every family, and the grave seriousness of the whole situation is hemming us about on all sides. This is the moment at which our moral forces must be aroused a second time, and this time with all emphasis."

Dr. Naumann then develops his argument about the intervention of Rumania, saying: "After two years of vacillation, the Rumanian Government has subscribed to the opinion that the Central European cause is lost and that a division of Austria-Hungarian territories can now begin. It is only upon this assumption that the Rumanian invasion of"

Germany is now brought face to face with what she expected at the beginning of the war—"the real great danger." He proceeds: "Sacrifices are growing and the number of dead and wounded is becoming great. The war has reached every family, and the grave seriousness of the whole situation is hemming us about on all sides. This is the moment at which our moral forces must be aroused a second time, and this time with all emphasis."

Dr. Naumann then develops his argument about the intervention of Rumania, saying: "After two years of vacillation, the Rumanian Government has subscribed to the opinion that the Central European cause is lost and that a division of Austria-Hungarian territories can now begin. It is only upon this assumption that the Rumanian invasion of"

Germany is now brought face to face with what she expected at the beginning of the war—"the real great danger." He proceeds: "Sacrifices are growing and the number of dead and wounded is becoming great. The war has reached every family, and the grave seriousness of the whole situation is hemming us about on all sides. This is the moment at which our moral forces must be aroused a second time, and this time with all emphasis."

Dr. Naumann then develops his argument about the intervention of Rumania, saying: "After two years of vacillation, the Rumanian Government has subscribed to the opinion that the Central European cause is lost and that a division of Austria-Hungarian territories can now begin. It is only upon this assumption that the Rumanian invasion of"

Germany is now brought face to face with what she expected at the beginning of the war—"the real great danger." He proceeds: "Sacrifices are growing and the number of dead and wounded is becoming great. The war has reached every family, and the grave seriousness of the whole situation is hemming us about on all sides. This is the moment at which our moral forces must be aroused a second time, and this time with all emphasis."

Dr. Naumann then develops his argument about the intervention of Rumania, saying: "After two years of vacillation, the Rumanian Government has subscribed to the opinion that the Central European cause is lost and that a division of Austria-Hungarian territories can now begin. It is only upon this assumption that the Rumanian invasion of"

Germany is now brought face to face with what she expected at the beginning of the war—"the real great danger." He proceeds: "Sacrifices are growing and the number of dead and wounded is becoming great. The war has reached every family, and the grave seriousness of the whole situation is hemming us about on all sides. This is the moment at which our moral forces must be aroused a second time, and this time with all emphasis."

Dr. Naumann then develops his argument about the intervention of Rumania, saying: "After two years of vacillation, the Rumanian Government has subscribed to the opinion that the Central European cause is lost and that a division of Austria-Hungarian territories can now begin. It is only upon this assumption that the Rumanian invasion of"

Germany is now brought face to face with what she expected at the beginning of the war—"the real great danger." He proceeds: "Sacrifices are growing and the number of dead and wounded is becoming great. The war has reached every family, and the grave seriousness of the whole situation is hemming us about on all sides. This is the moment at which our moral forces must be aroused a second time, and this time with all emphasis."

Dr. Naumann then develops his argument about the intervention of Rumania, saying: "After two years of vacillation, the Rumanian Government has subscribed to the opinion that the Central European cause is lost and that a division of Austria-Hungarian territories can now begin. It is only upon this assumption that the Rumanian invasion of"

Germany is now brought face to face with what she expected at the beginning of the war—"the real great danger." He proceeds: "Sacrifices are growing and the number of dead and wounded is becoming great. The war has reached every family, and the grave seriousness of the whole situation is hemming us about on all sides. This is the moment at which our moral forces must be aroused a second time, and this time with all emphasis."

Dr. Naumann then develops his argument about the intervention of Rumania, saying: "After two years of vacillation, the Rumanian Government has subscribed to the opinion that the Central European cause is lost and that a division of Austria-Hungarian territories can now begin. It is only upon this assumption that the Rumanian invasion of"

Germany is now brought face to face with what she expected at the beginning of the war—"the real great danger." He proceeds: "Sacrifices are growing and the number of dead and wounded is becoming great. The war has reached every family, and the grave seriousness of the whole situation is hemming us about on all sides. This is the moment at which our moral forces must be aroused a second time, and this time with all emphasis."

Dr. Naumann then develops his argument about the intervention of Rumania, saying: "After two years of vacillation, the Rumanian Government has subscribed to the opinion that the Central European cause is lost and that a division of Austria-Hungarian territories can now begin. It is only upon this assumption that the Rumanian invasion of"

Germany is now brought face to face with what she expected at the beginning of the war—"the real great danger." He proceeds: "Sacrifices are growing and the number of dead and wounded is becoming great. The war has reached every family, and the grave seriousness of the whole situation is hemming us about on all sides. This is the moment at which our moral forces must be aroused a second time, and this time with all emphasis."

Dr. Naumann then develops his argument about the intervention of Rumania, saying: "After two years of vacillation, the Rumanian Government has subscribed to the opinion that the Central European cause is lost and that a division of Austria-Hungarian territories can now begin. It is only upon this assumption that the Rumanian invasion of"

Germany is now brought face to face with what she expected at the beginning of the war—"the real great danger." He proceeds: "Sacrifices are growing and the number of dead and wounded is becoming great. The war has reached every family, and the grave seriousness of the whole situation is hemming us about on all sides. This is the moment at which our moral forces must be aroused a second time, and this time with all emphasis."

Dr. Naumann then develops his argument about the intervention of Rumania, saying: "After two years of vacillation, the Rumanian Government has subscribed to the opinion that the Central European cause is lost and that a division of Austria-Hungarian territories can now begin. It is only upon this assumption that the Rumanian invasion of"

Germany is now brought face to face with what she expected at the beginning of the war—"the real great danger." He proceeds: "Sacrifices are growing and the number of dead and wounded is becoming great. The war has reached every family, and the grave seriousness of the whole situation is hemming us about on all sides. This is the moment at which our moral forces must be aroused a second time, and this time with all emphasis."

Dr. Naumann then develops his argument about the intervention of Rumania, saying: "After two years of vacillation, the Rumanian Government has subscribed to the opinion that the Central European cause is lost and that a division of Austria-Hungarian territories can now begin. It is only upon this assumption that the Rumanian invasion of"

Germany is now brought face to face with what she expected at the beginning of the war—"the real great danger." He proceeds: "Sacrifices are growing and the number of dead and wounded is becoming great. The war has reached every family, and the grave seriousness of the whole situation is hemming us about on all sides. This is the moment at which our moral forces must be aroused a second time, and this time with all emphasis."

Dr. Naumann then develops his argument about the intervention of Rumania, saying: "After two years of vacillation, the Rumanian Government has subscribed to the opinion that the Central European cause is lost and that a division of Austria-Hungarian territories can now begin. It is only upon this assumption that the Rumanian invasion of"

Germany is now brought face to face with what she expected at the beginning of the war—"the real great danger." He proceeds: "Sacrifices are growing and the number of dead and wounded is becoming great. The war has reached every family, and the grave seriousness of the whole situation is hemming us about on all sides. This is the moment at which our moral forces must be aroused a second time, and this time with all emphasis."

Dr. Naumann then develops his argument about the intervention of Rumania, saying: "After two years of vacillation, the Rumanian Government has subscribed to the opinion that the Central European cause is lost and that a division of Austria-Hungarian territories can now begin. It is only upon this assumption that the Rumanian invasion of"

Germany is now brought face to face with what she expected at the beginning of the war—"the real great danger." He proceeds: "Sacrifices are growing and the number of dead and wounded is becoming great. The war has reached every family, and the grave seriousness of the whole situation is hemming us about on all sides. This is the moment at which our moral forces must be aroused a second time, and this time with all emphasis."

Dr. Naumann then develops his argument about the intervention of Rumania, saying: "After two years of vacillation, the Rumanian Government has subscribed to the opinion that the Central European cause is lost and that a division of Austria-Hungarian territories can now begin. It is only upon this assumption that the Rumanian invasion of"

Germany is now brought face to face with what she expected at the beginning of the war—"the real great danger." He proceeds: "Sacrifices are growing and the number of dead and wounded is becoming great. The war has reached every family, and the grave seriousness of the whole situation is hemming us about on all sides. This is the moment at which our moral forces must be aroused a second time, and this time with all emphasis."

Dr. Naumann then develops his argument about the intervention of Rumania, saying: "After two years of vacillation, the Rumanian Government has subscribed to the opinion that the Central European cause is lost and that a division of Austria-Hungarian territories can now begin. It is only upon this assumption that the Rumanian invasion of"

Germany is now brought face to face with what she expected at the beginning of the war—"the real great danger." He proceeds: "Sacrifices are growing and the number of dead and wounded is becoming great. The war has reached every family, and the grave seriousness of the whole situation is hemming us about on all sides. This is the moment at which our moral forces must be aroused a second time, and this time with all emphasis."

Dr. Naumann then develops his argument about the intervention of Rumania, saying: "After two years of vacillation, the Rumanian Government has subscribed to the opinion that the Central European cause is lost and that a division of Austria-Hungarian territories can now begin. It is only upon this assumption that the Rumanian invasion of"