LOCAL NEWS

Thanksgiving services were held by several of the city churches yesterday. The Presbyterians had a union session at Calvary church and the service for the Baptist church was held in the evening at Waterloo street church under the auspices of the Baptist ministers' conference. All these services were well attended.

The little three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Chlp Hunter of East Florenceville was instantly killed on Saturday morning when she fell from the top of a load of potatoes, being driven by her father, and one wheel of the vehicle passed over her. The funeral was held on Sunday at the East Florenceville Methodist church.

Dr. McIntosh, who left Hartland a year ago to join the R. A. M. C. in England, returned home on Sunday. He has during his absence, seen service in Egypt and other parts of the eastern war zone. He was given a splendid reception at his home town on arrival. He will resume his practice in Hartland after a short rest.

It is reported from St. Andrews that the Booth Fisheries, Ltd., expects to catch 20,000 cases of sardines this season. Good catches of sardines are reported about the mouth of the Digby river and the Magaguadavic river. A new wooden weir has been placed in the Magaguadavic river as an experiment, and if it works well a metal weir of similar construction will be placed in its stead.

Sunday afternoon Detectives Briggs and acting Detective Armstrong were notified that the residence of H. G. Marr, 248 Germain street, had been broken into and many articles of wearing apparel, also $100 in cash, stolen. The wearing apparel was found in the grip of Della M. Scott, a former employee of the Marr family, she was taken to police headquarters.

Andrew Ingraham Robertson, who says he is a returned soldier, now faces several charges of theft. He was arrested last evening in a boarding house on Princess street, as a result of a complaint made by Mr. McIntyre, barber. He is charged with the theft of twenty-six shares in the Scotland Woolen Mills, the property of Alexander Ingraham, also with the theft of a safety razor.

W. T. Brokaw, the well known New York millionaire, has acquired about 160 acres of land at McDougall's Lake, near St. Andrews. C. G. Murdoch of St. John visited the property last week and made estimates on the new camp which this New Yorker intends to erect there. Mr. Brokaw intends to establish a hunting centre at McDougall's Lake for the benefit of big game hunters of the S. metropolis.

Yesterday at noon telephone communication with West St. John was re-established and subscribers on both sides of the harbor were heartily glad. The vast amount of work necessary to move the new exchange was carried out with great rapidity by the men of the N. B. Telephone Company and in fact the work was completed in less time than anticipated at the beginning of the operations. During the period of the inactivity of the West Side exchange the lines were set up and 440 lines connected. Three additional operators will be employed in the new exchange.

Reports have reached the city to the effect that Lieutenant Percy Sherman, member of the Royal Flying Corps, has brought down five machines in one day single-handed, while the British aviators on that front watched with wonderment and surprise his magnificent feat, and on several occasions he has been mentioned in despatches. He was a member of the staff of the Bank of Nova Scotia here, and when the call came for men of the 26th he signed on, but after his arrival in England was turned down as being medically unfit. He later, however, joined the 26th, and was wounded. On recovering he quitted and joined the Royal Flying Corps.

Although the weather was unfavorable over the holiday the young set in the city persisted in carrying out its plans in the line of amusements. The theatres throughout the city did capacity business at each and every performance while many pleasure seekers went out of town. Thanksgiving Day marked the "beginning of the end" of the summer "winter all along the shore" and these resorts will soon be deserted. The winter series game in the afternoon caused considerable interest but many of the fans preferred to remain indoors and use the telephone to discover who the winners were while a few of the more heroic souls remained before the bulletin board shrine until the last inning had been announced.

That Private John McIvor of the 14th Battalion had been admitted to Lee's Court Hospital, Faversham, England, on September 30, suffering from shrapnel wounds in one leg was the word received on Saturday by his father, John McIvor of this city.

Mrs. George Collins of 237 Brussels street received word yesterday to the effect that her brother, Private John N. McIvor had been killed in action. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. McIvor of Halifax. He was only eighteen years of age. He is survived by six sisters, all of whom, with the exception of Mrs. Collins, are residents of Halifax.

Charles Robinson, secretary of the Returned Soldiers' Aid Committee, received word yesterday to the effect that his nephew, Sergeant-Major Alexander Ingram, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ingram of Newcastle, N. B., had been killed in action. Sergeant Ingram was a printer by trade and shortly prior to enlistment was employed on one of the Montreal newspapers. He was nineteen years old and besides his parents is survived by one brother, Havlock, who is a member of the 65th Battery, Woodstock.

William J. Wood, of 209 Thorne avenue, has received a field card from the Canadian Field Ambulance, to the effect that he has been wounded and is being sent to the base. Prior to going overseas he was in the employ of the St. John street railway.

Three young officers of this city have all made the supreme sacrifice, Lieut. Ernest Havlock Welch, Lieut. Fred D. Policy and Lieut. S. K. L. Macdonald. Lieut. Welch was perhaps one of the most prominent and popular young men of this city prior to enlistment was a traveler in the employ of W. J. Wetmore. Besides his mother, Mrs. Annie P. Welch, he is survived by his wife, who is at present residing at Folkestone,

H. Mont. Jones'

The model Coats and Sets we are showing are happy combinations of smart styles and utility; where two furs are employed in one garment, the contrast is lovely and in perfect taste and prices are amazingly small even in face of prevailing war prices.

And you can apply attractiveness to the styles—the exclusiveness, the quality, the value, the price—and any other point in your own good judgment you wish to.

We invite a visit—for comparison, inspection and criticism—if you will.

prison life, are directed by an order issued by James M. Carter, state superintendent of prisons, no longer to extend to convicts sentenced to life, or long imprisonment, privileges which would carry them outside the prison walls.

It was explained at the prison department that the order had been prompted by the escape of two inmates from Sing Sing, the latest of several recent escapes, and that it was directed at Sing Sing prison, although its terms had been made general, and no exceptions would be permitted in any prison.

Soon after signing the order Mr. Carter received word that W. H. Coniller had escaped from Great Meadow prison, where he had served fourteen years of a seventeen-year term for murder. Mr. Carter's order reads:

While it is not the intention of the superintendent to interfere with the experiment which you are testing at your institution, in view of my recent order as regards escapes, I have decided that hereafter the privileges of convicts known as "lifers" and those having long terms to serve, must be confined inside of the walls of the institution, this order to take effect at once.

Mr. Carter has instructed his chief clerk to investigate recent escapes from Sing Sing and from the Matteawan Hospital for the Criminal Insane.

AN OLD FRIEND RETURNS
A. Turner B. Howard requests the Times to publish this announcement to all his friends:—
"I have returned to St. John to work this winter, and I am willing to resume my missionary work in aid of the Seamen's Mission and other works; so all of you who have magazines, books or papers, of good reading for soldiers and sailors, I want you to give them to me. Please send your address to the Lilliot Hotel, Germain street, and after this week I will attend to it. Any work that I can do in aid of the Belgian or Patriotic or Red Cross work I will do with double pleasure, for by that I will do my best.

Yours truly,

MARSHALL SAYS A G. O. P. VICTORY MEANS WAR
Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 9.—In a speech here Vice-President Marshall declared that a Republican victory this fall, likely meant war.

"There is no one who wants war save Roosevelt," said Mr. Marshall. "And if the Republicans are successful you will witness Roosevelt marching on Berlin by way of Mexico."

Mr. Marshall defended the Adamson eight-hour day law and the administration's stand on the tariff.
