

M'Donald is Now Major "Foghorn"

Canadian Who Enlisted as Private at 53 Wins Stars

Voice is Like Sea Siren—One of the Big Human Personalities of War Turns up in London

London, Oct. 12.—Correspondence of Associated Press.—"Foghorn" McDonald admits he's a "Scotch as oatmeal" but what he doesn't admit is that he is beyond doubt the best known man in the wonderful big army Canada has sent over to fight for the mother country. Gen. Sir Sam Hughes, Canadian minister of militia and defense, is not jealous of "Foghorn's" distinction. The rawest rookie in the rear ranks of the Dominion forces proclaims it on the lighting line and looks up to this world wandering scion of the clan McDonald as a shining example of what a lowly "buck" can do in trying times like these.

For "Foghorn" came over as a private himself just two short years ago. Some of his home folk told him he was a "damned old fool" to enlist at 53, but "Foghorn" had been a miner all his days. He had hit the western trail from sun-baked Batopilus in the wilds of Mexico to the snow-shrouded valleys of the Yukon, and he knew what perseverance and pluck and courage and sacrifice could do.

He knew he would "make the grade" and so did a great crowd of his friends who gathered a day or so ago to "see" that new third stripe and crown on the tuff of his khaki army jacket. He was back from the front to receive this latest promotion, and he was toasted as a major on His Majesty's forces.

"Foghorn" was born Neil Roderick McDonald, but there are comparatively few who know him by that distinguished name. It's just plain "Foghorn" nowadays from one end of the trench to the other, and one earful of that low rumbling, window shattering, rock shivering voice explodes all possible doubt as to the derivation of the nickname.

There are plenty of Germans who know "Foghorn," too. In the days of the deadlock, when trenches crept closer and closer together, he was one of those who burrowed beneath the earth and set off great mines under the enemy. He had not been a mining engineer in vain. Often his voice would be booming across "No Man's Land" hurling picturesque invectives at the Germans.

Not to know "Foghorn" McDonald is to miss one of his human personalities

WAS TROUBLED WITH SHORTNESS OF BREATH

When the heart becomes affected, there ensues a feeling of a choking sensation, a shortness of breath, palpitation, throbbing, irregular beating, smothering sensation, dizziness, and a weak, sinking, all-gone feeling of oppression and anxiety.

The nerves become unstrung, you dread to be alone, have a horror of society, start at the least noise and are generally fatigued.

On the first sign of the heart becoming weakened, or the nerves unstrung, Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills should be taken. They are just what you require at this time. They regulate and stimulate the heart, and strengthen and restore the whole nerve system.

Mrs. C. M. Cormier, Bartouche, N. B., writes: "Since two years ago I was troubled with a shortness of breath, and sometimes I could hardly breathe. I went to see several doctors, and they said it was from my heart and nerves, but they did not seem to do me any good. One day I got one of your B. B. B. Almanacs and read of a case similar to mine.

"I bought a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and after taking it I noticed such a change that I kept on taking them until I had used four more boxes when I was cured."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c a box, three boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

RECENT WEDDINGS

Lewis-Grant.
A quiet home wedding was solemnized in the presence of immediate friends last evening at 8 o'clock, at the home of Mr. W. J. Barker, 326 Union street, when Avard Warren Lewis was united in marriage to Miss Myrtle Annie Grant, the Rev. D. J. MacPherson officiating. The bride was becomingly attired in white and was unattended. After the ceremony a dainty luncheon was served. Mr. Lewis is an employee of the Maritime Art Glass Works. They will reside at 313 Winter street.

Albert J. Chapman.
Dorchester, N. B., Nov. 16.—Albert J. Chapman, a prominent citizen and barrister of this town, died here at his home at 3 o'clock this morning. Stricken with paralysis seventeen months ago, he died more than a year later with great fortitude. He was the third son of the late William K. and Elizabeth Chapman and is survived by three sisters: Mrs. McQueen, wife of the late Sheriff McQueen of this town, and the Misses Margaret and Etta Chapman, also one nephew, William A. McQueen. Two brothers, Clarence and Arthur, died at an early age. Mrs. Chapman was born in 1838. He was educated at Dorchester, Mount Allison and the Boston Law School, taking B. Sc. in 1879, B. A. in 1880 and L. B. with honors at Boston in 1882. He had studied law in the office of the late Hon. H. R. Emmerson and had been since 1900. In politics he was a Liberal and he was a member of the Church of England. A gentleman of the old school, he was of a retiring disposition but was very highly esteemed by a large body of friends.

of this war. It is not difficult to realize what a tower of strength he is to the soldiers at the front.

"He is the sort of officer whose men would follow him to the gates of hell," declared Major "Eddie" Holland, a longtime friend and a "V.C." of the South African war.

"And speaking of hell," he added, "there may or may not be something in the fact that Foghorn belongs to the 'Black Devils'."

That is the name the Germans have given the Eighth Battalion, Canadian Infantry, and the battalion has adopted as its insignia a small black imp dancing in glee. They were delighted with the appellation and are living up to it according to all reports from the Somme.

It has been said of Foghorn that "he's not afraid of any man—and very few women." His home is in the great Annapolis valley. He has lived much in the United States and almost every province in Canada can claim him as her own. His heart is as big as the world in which he has lived, and he has a way of calling a superior officer "Bill" or "Jim" or "George" and referring to a corporal as a "brother officer" that is quite baffling to the Englishman's idea of discipline. Some one spoke to "Fog" about it.

"Well, sir," he explained, "it's a man's war, by God, sir, and I respect every mother's son who's out there doing his bit. I was a full-fledged 'buck' myself once, and I know what they have to go through."

"Foghorn" has been serving for some time as transport officer of the "Black Devils" and has been riding about the front lines on what he describes himself as "a mighty fine horse." Where he got the horse he will not tell you. "It wouldn't be passed by the censor," he says.

A good transport officer tries to keep his losses a minimum and to make the deficiencies good as quickly as he can. He had his men in the front line. Devils trained to the minute in that respect.

"One night," he said, "we were taking some loads of ammunition away up the front. It was blacker than the ace of spades and if you struck a match you'd get your eyes shot out. But in the midst of all this blackness and the shelling we were getting I heard one of my men say to his partner: 'Keep your eye out for a good horse, Bill; this ought to be a good night to get one.'"

"Foghorn" served for a time as an officer in the United States army—the third Volunteer Cavalry of the Spanish war.

"I think the officer commanding our regiment had fifteen or twenty million dollars," said "Foghorn," "I had $1.80 myself."

A day or two ago a staff colonel fresh from Canada, walked into the Savoy Club.

"Hello, Foghorn," he called out; "I heard you a couple of blocks down the street and came in to see you. Do you remember me?"

"Remember you?" repeated "Fog," "why, bless your brass-hatted old soul, I'd know your hide in a tan yard."

"A brass hat" is the army name for all staff officers, and it comes, of course, from the abundance of gold braid they wear on their caps.

Some one asked how things were going at the front.

"Going?" said "Fog," "why the boys are getting so gray out there one of our battalions came parading up to the front line trenches the other day with a brass band and playing for all it was worth. They were right where you could get killed any minute, too, and even my old boss thought they were crazy."

"Guess I'll be getting back to the front soon myself," he concluded with a sigh; "this quiet life of London is getting on my nerves."

Mrs. Elizabeth A. Swanton.

Many will learn with regret of the death of Mrs. Elizabeth A. Swanton, widow of Young Swanton, which occurred yesterday afternoon at her late residence, 248 Waterloo street, in the 70th year of her age. Mrs. Swanton was formerly Miss Elizabeth Gregg, and was born at Long Reach, but has lived practically her entire life in the city and was well known in St. John. The family will have the sympathy of many friends in their loss. Mrs. Swanton is survived by five sons, Young, Samuel, William, George and Charles, and two daughters, Mrs. Robert Myles and Mrs. George E. Lobb, all of this city. Two brothers, William Gregg, of Westfield, and Edward Harkins, of Grand Bay, also survive. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, from her late residence.

Mrs. Freda Nixon.

The death of Mrs. Freda Nixon, wife of John Nixon, occurred yesterday at the residence of her father, A. C. Nixon, 90 Murray street. She is survived by her husband, parents, five sisters and one brother. The sisters are—Mrs. Warren Brown, Mrs. Herbert Robinson, Misses Ruby, Edna and Elsie, at home. The funeral will be held Friday afternoon.

Miss Emma Murray Rankine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Rankine, of Germain street, became the bride of Reginald Henry Nixon, of Westfield, at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Rev. F. S. Dowling officiating. They left for New York and upon their return will reside in Germain street.

BOSTON AUTHORITIES GET AFTER DOCTORS FOR DRUG LAW VIOLATION

One Arrest Made in Raid—It is Said That as Many as 160 to 175 Prescriptions at $2 Each Have Been Given in a Day by One Man

Boston, Nov. 16.—Dist. Attorney Pelletier has presented to the grand jury evidence against physicians alleged to have been prescribing and dispensing narcotic drugs in violation of the law.

After he heard Asst. Dist. Atty. Webster's report of the midnight raid made by the police, acting under the direction of the district attorney, at 148 Massachusetts avenue, that Dr. Elliott D. Robbins was found in charge of the sale of opium, he decided to put the case immediately before the grand jury.

Capt. Good, Sergt. Kneeland and Campbell and special officer Flaherty testified to what they saw at the raid. A book, purporting to contain the names and addresses of drug victims receiving treatment, was produced by the police, having been found at the offices.

Most of the twenty-five persons, many of whom were unfortunate victims of the drug habit, who were found at the offices and are known to frequent them, according to the data in the books, will be spared the humiliation and disgrace of publicity by a disclosure of their names, because Dist. Attorney Pelletier and Asst. Dist. Atty. Webster feel they can secure convictions without the aid of those persons, and that more harm than good would result to them if they were forced to appear in court.

Evidence was obtained that prescriptions to the number of 160 to 175 a day have been given to victims by one doctor, at $2 each.

One drug user is willing to aid the authorities in wiping out the drug evil in the city, and he has told the authorities all he knows about the drug traffic by physicians.

So anxious is the district attorney to eliminate the drug traffic from the city that he asks persons having any knowledge of druggists or doctors dealing in drugs illegally, to write to him anonymously, if they do not wish to affix their signatures, though he is not inclined to encourage that kind of correspondence. Under the circumstances peculiar to the narcotic drug traffic he feels justified in calling thus for anonymous letters.

He will act cautiously and protect any doctor or druggist legitimately handling drugs, and will have every complaint fully investigated, to satisfy himself that no mistake will be made if an indictment is sought.

Doctors Are Making Victims.
It has come to the attention of the district attorney that doctors of a certain type are actually making drug victims so that they may enrich themselves. Against such physicians he will wage a merciless campaign.

There are hundreds of drug victims in this city, many of them young girls. Asst. Dist. Atty. Webster, who is on the special commission to investigate the narcotic drug traffic, declares that the number of narcotic drug users are not criminally, though many criminals are drug users.

TO KEEP CHICAGO "LID" DOWN

Mayor Thompson Declines to 'Grant Special Permits for New Year's Eve'

Chicago, Nov. 16.—For the first time in many years Chicago is to have a quiet New Year's Eve, and this primarily because it falls on a Sunday. Mayor Thompson announces that the Sunday closing ordinance will be strictly enforced. Consequently, there is much gloom in the big hotels and restaurants. The city's chief executive indicated that it would be useless for hotel and restaurant men to appeal to him to be permitted to operate their places to the sale of liquor. The turning back of clocks or other subterfuges will not be permitted. The mayor said he believed it would be a good thing if the people would go to church on that day instead of celebrating in the manner which heretofore has been the custom.

"I am not responsible for the law," he said, "and I don't see what choice the mayor has in the matter. I think it is a good thing if we have one sane New Year's eve."

MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRES

A direct trans-Pacific wireless service from the United States to Japan was opened yesterday by the Marconi System with a peace message from President Wilson to the emperor.

Suffering ill-health and brooding over the Deon tragedy enacted near her home on Monday, Mrs. Adelaide, wife of Merrick L. Wilber, jumped into a mill pond near her home at Dudley, Mass., and drowned herself.

Hope has been abandoned for the safety of Kenneth Curtis, a seventeen-year-old Waterville, Me., boy, who was lost in the wilderness last Friday. It is feared that he has perished.

The Aroostook Pulp Company has been induced to locate a mill at Van Buren for the manufacture of sulphate wood of saw mills, at an immediate investment of $500,000.

Foodstuffs have advanced in England since the outbreak of the war, says the board of trade, 78 per cent. Measures will be taken to prevent the use of sugar as a luxury. Shipbuilding is to be fostered.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

It soothes the inflamed membranes and makes richer blood to repair the affected tissues—to help prevent tonsillitis or laryngitis. SCOTT'S is worth insisting upon.

CURED HIS RUPTURE

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation, if you write to me, Eugene M. Pullen, Carpenter, 540 C. Marcellus Avenue, Manassas (N. J.) Better cut out this notice and show it to any other who is ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.

—a clear brain and bright eye.

Keep the system clean with Eno's

Anyone who tries this pleasant tasting, home-made, cough syrup, will quickly understand why it is used in more homes in the United States and Canada than any other cough remedy. The way it takes hold of an obstinate cough, bringing immediate relief, will make you regret that you never tried it before. It is a truly dependable remedy that should be kept handy in every home, to use at the first sign of a cough during the most annoying day time.

Any druggist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth). Put this into a 16-oz. bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. The total cost is about 54 cents and you have 16 ounces of the most effective remedy you ever used.

The quick, lasting relief you get from this excellent cough syrup will really surprise you. It promptly loosens and disintegrates the membranes that line the throat and air passages, stops the annoying throat irritation, loosens the phlegm, and soon your cough stops entirely. Splendid relief for bronchitis, croup, whooping cough and influenza.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract, combined with gum arabic and is famous the world over for its healing effect on the membranes.

To avoid disappointment ask for 2½ ounces of Pinex with full directions and do not accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.
