TWO ST. JOHN MEN.
In today's list from Ottawa appear the names of W. M. Burden, Fredericton, N. B., and J. T. Saunders, St. Mary's, Miramichi, N. B. Both are reported and wounded.

HAD DRIVE.
The boy scouts of the Coburg Street Church of Christ were given a sleigh drive last evening, under the direction of their scout master, William Dunlop. After the drive they were treated to a supper. More than forty boys and their parents invited guests were present and the evening was pleasantly spent. At the close the boys gave three hearty cheers and a "tiger" for their scout master.

BREAD WRAPPING.
Telegraphic advice states that the ban has now been lifted on the use of waxed bread wrappers, and the same is now permissible by any baker. As this method is regarded as absolutely in the interests of health, as a sanitary method, and also by far the most economical method of wrapping bread, it is to be hoped that it will be brought into more general use.

SPOKE AT THE MOVIES.
R. W. Wigmore, M. P., F. A. Dykeman, Rev. I. W. Williamson, S. C. Matthews, Serg. Pudely and Lieut. C. S. Tippet spoke at the movies last evening for the Salvation Army drive and got a fine hearing. Among Monday night's speakers were R. E. Armstrong and W. C. Cross, instead of Messrs. Wigmore and Dykeman. Capt. A. J. Macaluly made the arrangements for the west side house and accompanies each speaker.

THEIR BROTHER DEAD.
Miss Margaret and Miss Beattie Driscoll of the staff of the Marr Millinery Co., Ltd., received a telegram last night advising them of the death of their brother, Edward, in the Manitoba Military Hospital, Winnipeg, on Jan. 16. The Misses Driscoll had just returned from Moncton, where they had gone to meet their brother, who passed through on his way home after overseas service on Jan. 11. No particulars as to the cause of their brother's death have been received so far.

FROM DRIVER J. L. BOND.
Mrs. John Scott of City Post Office has received a letter from Driver Joseph L. Bond of the 26th Battalion. His friends will be pleased to know that he reached Germany and is in the best of health. Driver Bond enlisted in 1914 and was with his battalion to the last of the fighting. He writes of the sad part of the war when he thinks of the boys now so many of them in soldiers' graves. He thanks Mrs. Scott for a box of good things which he received just at supper time. Some of the boys enjoyed some of the fruitcake and all send their best wishes. He asks to be remembered to all friends and hopes to be back with them all soon.

CHRISTMAS DINNER OF THE 26TH BATTALION ENTERTAINED AT THE MANOR HOUSE

Turkey Dinner for Staff of Marr Millinery Co., Ltd.

At the Manor House last evening the Marr Millinery Co., Ltd., entertained their staff to a turkey dinner. Covers were laid for thirty and an enjoyable evening was spent. J. H. Marr was unable to be present on account of illness and H. G. Scott presided. The only toast was to The King, which was responded to by the singing of the national anthem.

In a short speech, Mr. Marr said: "The business of which I have the honor of being president was founded in Moncton in 1880, nearly sixty years ago, and today, as you know, we have the largest retail millinery business in the maritime provinces, and in all these years the success of the business has been, in a great degree, due to the co-operation of our staff. I think I am speaking truly when I say that the relations have always been most pleasant and I hope each may be the case in the years to come. I wish at this time to thank you especially for the way in which you have helped to keep the business up to its usual high standing during the last sixteen months of my illness. I, Mr. Marr, regrets exceedingly being unable to be present and asked me to convey to you his best wishes, and may I speak for him the same hearty support you have given in the past?"

A vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Marr.

POLICE COURT

Boyd Tells of Beating—Detective Reports Being Asked For Money in Street

Albert McAuliffe was before the police magistrate this morning charged with doing grievous bodily harm to James Boyd in an alley off Brussels street Sunday morning. The hearing took the form of a preliminary. Boyd said he met McAuliffe in Brussels street on Saturday night and that McAuliffe invited him into his house. The witness said that after he had been in the house a short time McAuliffe started in to beat him. He said that the accused knocked him down and then kicked him in the face, smashing his false teeth and cutting his lip. He said that his condition was such that he was removed to the military hospital, where he has been under treatment since this morning. McAuliffe was remanded.

Leonard Kingston was charged with begging. Detective Biddiscombe said that he was standing on the corner of Union and Charlotte streets last evening when the accused came up to him and asked him for five cents. Biddiscombe said that he told him that he had better get home. He said the accused then went across the street and accosted a soldier. Biddiscombe said that he then went over to him and in company with another policeman placed him under arrest. An empty urine extract bottle was found in his pocket. The prisoner was remanded.

George Stevens was charged with beating his two children and also his wife. Mrs. Stevens said that he had struck her two years and a half old child for looking at him at the table, and when she interfered he struck her. He was remanded to jail until he could get two sureties that he would keep the peace.

SOME MATTERS RELATIVE TO THE ASSESSMENT

Questions Which Are Pouring In to City Hall and Statement in Answer

Since the assessment forms which all citizens are required, under the new act, to fill in and return to the chairman of the board of assessors have been sent out, the office has been deluged with questions regarding the information which should be furnished. Most of the questions could be answered by a perusal of the sections of the act which are printed here, but many citizens wish to be on the safe side and secure their explanations by personal interview or telephone conversation.

One of the questions asked most frequently is whether the statement of income should include the value of real estate. Such income is not to be included. Real estate taxes are collected on the value of the property, not on its income, and this value is fixed by the assessors.

In the statement of personal property, it is not necessary to include the value of either personal effects, such as clothing and other articles of personal use, or household effects, including furniture, etc. It is not necessary to include income paying personal property in the personal property statement, as this is covered by the statement of income from such property in the income statement. It will be remembered that, under the new act, taxes are collected not on the full value of such property, but merely on the income from it. For instance, a security valued at $100,000, yielding a return of six per cent, formerly was supposed to be assessed on its full value, which would have taken at a rate of 22 1/2 cents the amount of $22,500. Under the new law the tax on the income would amount to only twelve cents.

Among those stocks which must be shown in the statement but on which no taxes will be collected, are the stocks of local concerns. As the local corporation pays taxes to the city directly, it has been decided that it would not be fair to collect taxes on its profits again when they reach the shareholders.

Some complaints have been received from citizens who have not received from the assessors forms to be filled in. Those who have been overlooked and who wish to secure the statements may get them at the assessors' office in city hall. In order to save a great many citizens the trouble of filling out the statements and also to simplify the work of the office, which has been greatly increased under the new act, statements will be sent only to those who were assessed previously on incomes of $1,000 or more. This does not relieve any one whose income is greater than that of responsibility, however. Any person whose income is greater than $1,000, who has not received a form from the city, should go there and secure one. The fact that the assessors appear to have overlooked them does not mean that they will escape paying full taxation, as the assessors must collect the full amount any time within the next two years when it comes to their notice.
