Nine From St. John Law School Get Degrees Tomorrow

FIRST YEAR AS ALLIED WITH U. N. B.

One Young Lady is in List of Those to Receive B. C. L.

SUCCESSFUL YEAR

Several Innovations Making for Improvement Under New Regime.

Another year has rolled around for the local Law School, marking the closing of the first year of the school in this city has been under the jurisdiction of the University of New Brunswick. More than thirty years ago St. John had a law school, identified with King's College at Windsor, N. S., where the graduates took their degrees each spring.

King's College became affiliated with Dalhousie at Halifax last year. Last summer several meetings were held by the members of the local faculty and faculty representatives of the U. N. B., with the result that the provincial institution decided to take hold of the law school in this city, and its name was changed to the U. N. B. Law School.

The first step in improvement which the U. N. B. authorities took was the appointment of a full-time professor in law in the person of Judge H. O. McInerney. Judge McInerney has taken a keen interest in his work and has ever been ready to assist the students in every way possible.

Other marked improvements were also realized. An outstanding one was the appointment of a permanent examining board, which supervised all the examinations written at the school this term and also acted as a final source of appeal in cases where a student might have fallen by the wayside on the "plough" route. The board also arranged dates for examinations and attended to other details. Much more progress was noticeable at the school this year, and difficulties, which are bound to arise, were more readily adjusted. Altogether a marked improvement has been registered all the way around with the local school, and the personal contact was absent. However, the local faculty here always had the welfare of the boys at heart and during the years that it was known as King's College Law School it turned out graduates who have reached high places in the legal profession not only in New Brunswick but in various other parts of the Dominion.

One outstanding source of strength which the local school possesses, the graduates say, is in the services of Dr. J. Roy Campbell, K. C., registrar of the school and a member of the permanent examining board. Dr. Campbell has ever been a friend of the students and is held in high regard by them all.

A marked interest was taken in the student body this year also by the local U. N. B. Club, composed of local graduates of the University of New Brunswick. The club gave the students a complimentary dinner during the year in a big University of New Brunswick at home, which proved one of the social events of the day and which it is planned now to make an annual affair.

There were almost thirty students to start the scholastic year this term. A survey of their names and their records shows that they represent various parts of the province.

One Lady Graduate.

There were eleven in this year's graduating class, but two will not finish until next year, as they have yet to put the finishing touches on one or two subjects. This leaves nine students to take the degree of B. C. L. at Fredericton. The graduating class this year has the honor and distinction of having among its graduates a member of the fairer sex. This makes the third lady to graduate from the local school since its beginning.

Among the students themselves there has been a year of much activity. Debates were regularly held during the term; mock trials were also in order, and some of the professors worked in interesting and timely papers on their respective subjects during the term. The Students' Society had their annual dinner at the opening of the school this year instead of at the close as previously. This brought the students together early in the term and proved to be a happy change.

The Lecturers.

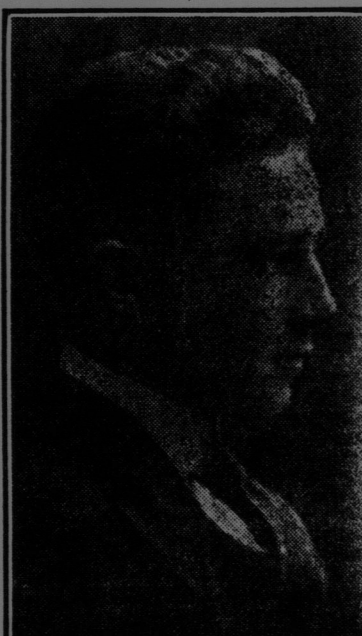

A list of the lecturers during the term just closed is as follows: Judge J. R. Armstrong, A. N. Carter, Hon. J. B. M. Baxter, K. C., M. P.; J. H. F. Teed, M. G. Teed, K. C.; Judge H. O. McInerney, K. C.; C. F. Inches, K. C.; E. C. Weyman, Dr. J. Roy Campbell, K. C.; Fred R. Taylor, K. C.; Daniel Mullin, K. C.; Judge Geo. A. Henderson and Dr. W. B. Wallace, K. C.

There will be forty-six graduates to receive various degrees at the U. N. B. on Thursday. Among this number will be the nine graduates from the local school who will receive the degree of B. C. L. (bachelor civil law). A short sketch of the law graduates follows:—

DECIDE TO RESTORE OLD COURT HOUSE

County Council Puts Work Into Hands of Garnet Wilson.

WIGMORE WARDEN

City Member is Chosen to Succeed Commissioner John Thornton.

The Municipal Council yesterday decided to restore the old court house as it stood before the fire, with the addition of a heating plant, and Garnet W. Wilson was chosen as the architect to take charge of the work. The buildings and finance committee were given power to proceed with the work as soon as the necessary plans and specifications were prepared.

Councillor Rupert W. Wigmore, who was yesterday chosen warden of the Municipal Council to succeed Warden Thornton.

Councillor R. W. Wigmore was elected as warden to succeed ex-Warden John Thornton.

The council approved of the plans of the Parish of Lancaster for permanent paving and sidewalks involving an expenditure of about $150,000 and agreed to the appropriation of the road from the bridge to Manchester's corner, the estimated cost of which was $60,000, until February of 1925.

A report from E. F. Powers on the damage done by the property of the Misses Travers, Sydney street, by the blasting operations carried on back of the old court house, in which he placed the damage at $1,200 was read and a bill presented from the Misses Travers for this amount plus $800 for loss of revenue. It was decided to offer the Misses Travers the sum of $750 in full settlement of their claim.

The council ordered a plebiscite on June 9, 1924 on the matter of the creation of a water and sewerage district at East St. John.

The meeting was called to order by John Thornton and after the reading by the secretary of the returns of the recent civic election he delivered his valedictory address to the council. He expressed his respect for the council and its operation which had been given him in the two years and four months in which he had occupied the office of warden and declared his intention of the same courteous treatment.

Wigmore Chosen Warden.

The election of a warden was then proceeded with and Councillor R. W. Wigmore was the unanimous choice of the council for the office. In taking the chair the new warden thanked the council for their confidence and assured them he would give of his best in carrying on the duties of the office.

Afternoon Session.

The Council was called to order by John Thornton and after the reading of the returns of the election held in April in the city of St. John he expressed his appreciation of the honor which the Council had done in electing him warden in 1922 and re-electing him in January, 1924, and bespoke for his successor in office the same co-operation which had been given to him.

He then called for the election of a new warden and Councillor Wigmore was nominated by Councillor O'Brien. The nomination was seconded by Councillor Daisell and made unanimous. Councillor Wigmore then took the chair and in a few words thanked the Council for the honor and declared his intention of carrying out the duties of the office to the best of his ability.

Finance Committee Reports.

The first business taken up was the report of the finance committee, which recommended that the sum of $5,000 be tendered H. C. Mott in full settlement of his claim against the commissioners of the General Hospital; that the sum of $280 for legal expenses incurred by H. G. S. Adams, stipendiary magistrate for Simonds, be paid; that the sum of $75 be paid to J. A. Grant & Co. for a report on the condition of the walls of the old court house; that the warden report on the application of Frank A. Bowes, turnkey, for an increase of his salary.

CURIOUS GIRL GRABS AT PISTOL AND DIES

"Looks Like Bobbed-Hair Bandit's! Let Me See," Request.

New York, May 14.—Four young persons who had gathered in Thomas Marino's barber shop at 29 Hanson Place, Brooklyn, were setting out for an evening's pleasure when one, Vincent Marino, who works for his father, said: "Wait a minute; I've got my father's gun in my pocket."

Marino took the pistol out and was about to put it in a drawer when Mary Stable, 18 years old, exclaimed: "Oh! that looks just like the bobbed-haired bandit's gun, let me see it!"

Marino held out the automatic. The safety catch was off. The girl reached for it too suddenly. As her fingers closed around the grip the pistol went off. The bullet entered her breast and she fell.

Dominick Gallo and Marino ran out for help, while Almas Elfin, also 18 years old, knelt over her friend.

Captain James J. Fitzpatrick and Detective Greco, of the Bergen street Police Station, who were at the Atlantic avenue station of the Long Island Railroad, nearby, heard the shot. As they ran into the barber shop Miss Stable seemed to be dying.

"Are you going to die, do you think?" asked Greco, as he bent close to her.

"Yes; I'm dying," the girl answered. "Who shot you?"

Who the girl whispered the story. She had just reached the point where she had stretched out her hand and seized the weapon, and an ambulance surgeon had just joined the group, when she died.

Marino, Gallo and Miss Elfin all gave the same account of what had happened. No one else had seen the mishap.

MILLIONAIRES IN NEW YORK BATTLE

Morgans and Astors Clash Over Erection of a Business Building.

New York, May 14.—(United News)—The Astors, social lions of New York, and the Morgans, princes of world finance, have clashed over the question as to whether the locality around J. P. Morgan's home and library should be "cheapened."

The Astors appear to have won, but the Morgans are still in the fight. Neither a Morgan nor an Astor appeared in person before the city's board of estimate, which furnished the battleground, but each family was represented by a heavy battery of counsel.

J. P. Morgan's home, together with his great library, occupies the east side of the block between 96th and 97th streets, and when the trustees of the estate of the late William Waldorf Astor sought to have the restrictions on business in the adjoining block removed, Morgan's lawyers entered vigorous protest.

If the ban were lifted, the Astor lawyers said, the Astor property in the next block would leap in value from $2,500,000 to $8,000,000. The Astors want to erect a big business building, it developed, right across from the residential house of Morgan.

Finally the board of estimate voted to allow erection of business buildings in the affected area by a vote of 9 to 8. Then somebody insisted that the vote would have to be unanimous to legalize the change, and now the question has been referred to the corporation counsel for decision.

FIND INSULIN IN CITRUS FRUITS

Texan Scientists Claim to Have Discovered It in Several Varieties.

Dallas, Texas, May 14.—(United Press)—Insulin, prepared from citrus fruits, has been evolved at the laboratories of Baylor College of Medicine here.

The insulin-like substance was extracted by the local physicians from oranges, grape fruit and lemons.

"It was not confined to any particular part of the fruit; we extracted the substance from the pulp, rind and juice alike," the physicians reported.

ISAAC ERB DEAD. Well Known Photographer Passes Away After a Brief Illness.

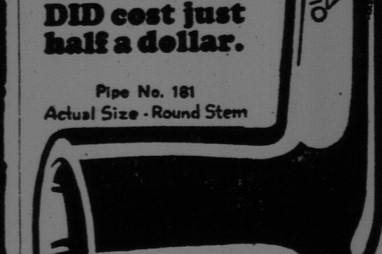

Death last evening removed one of the oldest and best known of the photographers of St. John when Isaac Erb passed away in the St. John Infirmary after an illness of only five days, during which he underwent a major operation. Mr. Erb was 77 years of age and had spent practically his whole life in the photography business.

He was a native of Kars, Kings County, and removed with his family to St. Stephen. Shortly before the great fire which destroyed St. John in 1877, Mr. Erb came to St. John and established a photographic studio in Charlotte street, and amongst his earliest work here was the taking of pictures of the big fire as it swept through the city. Mr. Erb took a keen interest in all the events which happened in the city and most of them were recorded by his camera. He occupied the same premises in Charlotte street for the last fifty years.

Mrs. Erb passed away about three years ago. Mr. Erb was a prominent member of the Knights of Pythias and was also a trustee of Central Baptist church. His fine Christian character and outstanding work gained for him a large circle of friends, who will learn of his death with regret.

He is survived by one son, John H. Erb; one daughter, Mrs. H. F. Albright, both of this city; two sisters, Mrs. William McKinnon, of Fredericton, and Mrs. Joshua Shaw, of Wickham, Kings county; and one brother, Wellington Erb, of this city.

The funeral will be held on Thursday at 2:30 o'clock from the residence of his son, John H. Erb, 210 King street east, to the Central Baptist church. Interment will be in Cedar Hill cemetery.
