The season of dances is for the present over, and the season of athletic sports has set in, with promises of football next month.

The Wanderers' annual sports have never had so small a number of spectators as on Saturday last. Why, it would be impossible to say. The sports themselves were very good, rather above the average, but whether they were elsewhere or staying at home to rest after the fatigues of the past week, they certainly did not show up to any extent at the Wanderers' grounds.

This week the King's Liverpool regiment holds its sports at the grounds of the Crescents, on Jubilee Road. The attendance will doubtless be far larger than at the Wanderers' sports, since it is a matter of invitation, and all society has received cards. In years gone by regimental sports were often held in the barracks square at Wellington Barracks, but I believe the hard, stony ground was unavailing for a good many accidents, so that now some grounds are always engaged for the annual show of the regiment stationed here.

The sports of the R. A. and R. E. come next on the list, and with October we are to begin the football season. The men of the Liverpool regiment play football very well, I hear, but go in more for Association than for Rugby.

The summer visitor is beginning to leave for winter quarters, so unusually chilly is the season here. Mr. and Mrs. Carroll, of Baltimore, who have been so well known socially during their stay here, leave next week for their home. The Misses Donnell have already left. The Misses Nicholson, of St. John, do not leave for some time.

The Masonic body is certainly not an idle one, or a slumbering one at present. Instead of resting after the success of their mammoth bazaar, they are taking an interest in one which is taking place, this week, at Windsor.

Socially also, they are not dull, judging from the very pleasant "at home" which took place at the Masonic Hall, on Tuesday evening, at which there were about a hundred and fifty people present.

Entertainments, theatrical and musical are crowding on us at present. The Waltham concert which takes place on Friday, of this week, opening the ball. Mr. Carl Waltham has secured the assistance of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Waltham, Mrs. Kennedy Campbell, Mrs. Nugent, Mrs. Hox and Captain Fleet of H. M. S. "Tartar."

Mr. Carl Waltham goes back soon to England, but Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Waltham will remain in this country and take pupils, both being very capable teachers. They intend, I believe, to settle in Windsor.

Next on the list comes Arthur Rehan with his company of players, at the Academy of Music, where they will produce plays refreshingly new to Halifax; and after them, the Grand Opera Company, appear in comic opera for three weeks. No one, at this rate, can complain of not being well catered for in the way of amusement. The only thing to be marvelled at is, where a good many people who attend night after night, get the money to do so.

The Orpheus club has gone through its business meeting and will commence practicing on Monday, the first of October. The new blood in this organization should mean something if report speaks truly, and the first concert will be awaited with interest. Only four concerts are to take place this season, the subscription of which is to be closed on Monday. Dr. Slater has retired from the presidency of the club, and his place will be taken by Mr. G. Ross.

Owing to an overcast of mind on the train arrangements, my notes of last week's gaiety were very scanty. One thing which struck me about the various dances was the number of very good dresses worn at them, not as has been too often the case in former years, by the summer visitors and the belles of military and naval circles, but by the Halifax ladies themselves.

Not only were the gowns well made, but they were in most cases rich and beautiful material, and the improvement since last summer in that way most marked.

Millinery show days have been the chief frivolity of the week, and some of the hats bought by the leaders of society have been wonderful indeed, and the chief topic of conversation at tea just now were men are not abundant are winter garments which really seem needed already.

H. M. S. Blake went into the dry dock on Monday last, where she will be painted and made smart for the winter. People walk up to see her, and in the dearth of afternoon amusement, a really wonderful sight she presents.

Wednesday was the last night club day for the season, most probably, the Yonta and the W. having already been laid up for the winter. There was a very good entertainment, consisting of the Yalkyrie, Irene, Eugene, Elfrida, Daphne, Mentor and Media.

By the way, Lord Dunraven, the owner of the R. A. and R. E. boats' name sake, that Valkyrie of international interest, was at one time a very well known in Nova Scotia, where he went in for moose hunting very thoroughly, and not, in report, speaks truly, with the greatest respect for the game law. I hear he is likely to visit this province if all goes well with his yacht in his career with the Yonta.

Captain and Mrs. Fleet are among late arrivals, the latter being among the guests at the Clare Mont.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Roberts have gone to England on a short trip.

Mr. Joseph Kenny son of T. E. Kenny, M. P., goes shortly to Harvard university, where he will go through a post graduate course in the law school.

Mr. William Conard arrived from England last week and was for a few days the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Francis, at Enniscorthy. Mr. Conard and Mr. Francis are going to the Chicago exhibition on Monday. Among others on the list of departures this week for the Fair are: Mr. Michael Dwyer, Mrs. C. J. P. Clarkson, and Mrs. J. W. Allison, Miss Prescott and the Misses Allison.

Major Hodgson, R. A., left last week for Boston to meet Mrs. Hodgson and Mrs. Drayson, who are coming from England via New York.

Mrs. and Miss Courtney have changed their plans for this winter, which they will spend in the Southern States and not in England.

The bishop on their departure will take up his abode at Hillside hall, Bishopsthorpe having been left to Major and Mrs. Hodgson.

There is some talk of going on with the entertainments proposed and abandoned last spring, which was to have been for the benefit of the Sailor's Home. Various ladies are taking an interest in getting it up, but it does not seem an idea likely to work well here as it is not particularly interesting in any way. The Masque of Months is I believe the name of the proposed entertainment, and has been most successful in other parts of Canada, and which oddly enough does not mean success in Halifax. Time will tell, however, and a very energetic body of ladies have the affair in hand.

MORRIS GRANVILLE.

TRURO, N. S.

[Progress is for sale in Truro at G. O. Fulton's, and at D. H. Smith & Co.]

Sep. 27.—Mrs. W. E. Campbell gave a very charming tea one day last week. Mrs. Campbell's viands were varied and most appetizing.

IF YOU EXPECT TO GET SOMETHING FOR NOTHING

You will probably purchase a piano at the lowest price offered, without due regard for what you are to receive. If, however, you are a careful buyer, and want to get good value for your money, you will carefully investigate the quality of the Nordheimer Piano before you decide. A complete assortment of these perfect instruments can be seen at Petersen's piano rooms, 68 King street, who is also the agent for the famous Steinway and Chickering pianos. Mr. Petersen gives special attention to the tuning and repairing of pianos, and any orders left with him will be promptly attended to and satisfaction guaranteed.

NEW GLASGOW.

[Progress is for sale in New Glasgow by A. O. Pritchard and H. H. Henderson.]

Sep. 27.—Mrs. Henry Townsend, "Brookside" was "at home" on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. She looked particularly well, wearing an elaborate reception gown of heliotrope cashmere and silk velvet, Empire style. Mrs. Townsend is one of the few who can at once make guests feel quite at home, and not as if she were merely conventionally pleased to see them.

Mrs. Len Archibald, of Antigonish, was the guest of Mrs. Harry Strong, during the early part of the week.

Miss Sedgewick of Tatamagouche, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. P. A. McCreger.

Mr. F. Moor, who has spent the last two months in town, returned to his home in Kingston, Ont., some days ago.

Mr. Allan Butler, of Halifax, favoured his many friends with a visit on Friday last.

Mr. Bylen, of Amherst is visiting his son, Mr. Herb Byden.

Mr. George Fraser, left on the 26th, for Boston, on a well earned holiday.

On Friday afternoon of last week, Mrs. P. A. McCreger, entertained about fifty lady friends, with five o'clock tea. Her parlor was tastefully decorated with palms and beautiful flowers. Flashing mirrors reflected over and over again pretty faces and pretty gowns, the glow and color of which made the scene a charming one. Mrs. McCreger was assisted in entertaining by her niece, the Misses McColl, and Miss Rose Butler.

Mr. C. J. Conrad, of Halifax, is registered at the Norfolk. He is now, winter partner in the firm of McGregor & Co., and I believe has come to remain permanently. He will be a welcome addition to New Glasgow society.

Mrs. C. R. Underwood and W. J. Bailey leave today for Philadelphia, to resume their studies in medicine at Pennsylvania university.

Mr. A. A. Pickett spent Sunday in Halifax.

Mrs. Day, of Parrishboro, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Day, returned home this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. James Keith, Stellarton, moved in to town yesterday. They will occupy a handsome residence on High street, which has just been finished for them. Before leaving Stellarton they were severely surprised by a fire which broke out in the water jar and tray. They will be greatly missed there, both Mr. and Mrs. Keith.

Miss Lydia Gordon leaves to-day for Hartford, Conn. to spend the winter.

Mr. Alf. Fraser is home from Goldenville. He and his wife expect to winter in New Glasgow.

Quite a pretty wedding took place on Wednesday of last week, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan, West Side, the daughter Annie being married to Mr. Fred J. Armstrong, of St. John. The bride, attired in a lovely costume of grey and heliotrope looked charming. She was attended by her cousin Miss Ella Sullivan, who wore a dainty dress of cream cloth. Mr. J. E. Fraser ably assisted the groom. The gifts of the bride were beautiful, and too numerous to particularize.

The R. C. church was also the scene of a like interesting event, yesterday afternoon. Rev. John Gibson officiating in the holy bonds, Mr. Philip Dunn of Trenton, and Miss Martin of this town. The bride was a handsome travelling costume of blue cloth.

The citizens' band have issued 150 invitations for a promenade concert to take place on Monday evening next in the old Masonic hall. The affair promises to be a brilliant success.

The Christian Endeavor society in connection with new St. Andrew's church, will entertain their friends this evening with music and refreshments.

Miss Chipman returned to her home in Boston on Friday.

Mrs. James Gates arrived this week from a long visit to friends in the U. S.

Miss Purdy entertained her friends most pleasantly on Thursday. The afternoon was devoted to tennis and the evening to dancing at her pretty home on Laurence street.

Mr. and Mrs. Purdy have but recently located in their present convenient cottage which affords ample space for entertaining and the delightful dance given was pronounced perfect on every point. Miss Purdy displayed a great amount of practical judgment and good common sense in giving the invitations to her informal dance which preceded the full evening festivity and without doubt some of our other young hostesses will readily perceive the advisability of doing likewise since her dance proved to be a charming success without the all prevailing exceedingly low courage. Her guests were the Messrs. Main, Miss Crowe and Miss Nelson Truro; Miss Lowerston, Miss Maud Tickle, Miss Lillie, Miss Chipman, Miss Moore, Miss Cutler, Miss Munro, Miss Moore, and Miss Handford, Messrs. Douglas, Black, Harding, Munro, Main, Vernon, Robt. Lockwood, Dunlop, Hildes, McLeod, Dr. McQueen and Dr. Hall.

Iowenhead, of Montreal, were joined in holy bonds of matrimony. The bride was attired in a travelling costume of grey, velvet trimmings, hat to match, and was unattended. After breakfast the couple left by noon train for Halifax.

KENTVILLE.

Sep. 26.—On Wednesday morning, Sept. 13th, a very pretty wedding took place at the church in Upper Canada, which was filled with eager spectators long before the hour. The principals were Dr. A. J. McKenna of Kentville, son of Mr. Joseph L. McKenna of Kingston, and Miss Emma Dora Ellis, niece of the late Mr. Watson W. Ellis, of Sheffield Mills.

The bride wore a handsome white cashmere dress, trimmed with white satin ribbon and lace, and carried a bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaids were Miss Emma Fizzle of Taverne, and Miss Flora Kinnison of Sheffield Mills. The former wore a green cashmere, trimmed with ribbon of the same trimmings and cream lace; the latter wearing pink shade, and white lace. All carried beautiful bouquets of roses. The groom was attired in a suit of black and white. Mr. W. H. McKenna and Messrs. F. H. Eaton, W. F. Shaffer and R. O. Harris acted as ushers.

Immediately after the ceremony Dr. and Mrs. McKenna drove to Kentville and after lunch at their new home, they were joined by the bride and bridesmaids for a pair took the Flying Bluebonnet for St. John.
