The Terrible Tempered Mr. Bang

MUCH DRINKING WHEN CHISHOLM MET HIS DEATH

Coroner Postponed Inquest
After Hearing Evidence of Two St. John Men.

St. John, N. S., Oct. 24.—A verdict in the case of George Chisholm, lumber owner of Oxford, who was found dead in a deserted automobile in the main street of Londonderry yesterday, is being withheld pending an investigation by Coroner T. R. Johnson of Great Village, and his jury, of a story told them by Robert and William Williamson, giving their address as 238 Brunswick street, St. John, N. B., and detained in the jail here as material witnesses.

The Williamsons say that they arrived in Oxford from St. John on last Monday evening, that on Thursday they left for Londonderry by way of Pugwash and Victoria, that soon after starting on this trip they picked up Mr. Chisholm. They say they had whiskey and six or eight bottles of Jamaica ginger, and were all apparently drinking quite heavily. The Williamsons say they were in the front seat with Robert driving the car. Somewhere along the road, the location of which neither of the Williamsons could tell, they say they had a blow out after dark and that while fixing it two men came along whom Chisholm recognized and a fight followed in which the Williamsons say Chisholm was beaten up.

They say they separated the stranger from Chisholm and the former went away. They do not know why they were and do not know which way they went. After fixing the blow out they say they proceeded to the vicinity of the Dutton bridge, near Londonderry, when Chisholm, who was in rather bad state, desired to be taken back home. They say they turned the car around and started for home, and a little after that stopped the car and got out, when Chisholm fell over the bank of the road about five feet. The Williamsons say they got him back into the car and started on the road, and at one place they had a narrow escape from upsetting the car over the bank. The tracks of the car uphold this part of their story.

Soon after that they say they got off the road and ran into a log and could not get the car started, and all three went to sleep in the car, the Williamsons men in the front seat and WEDDINGS.

Mason-Young.

On October 20, 1920, at noon, the home of Mr. and Mrs. James McNamee, of Young's Cove, Queens Co., was the scene of a very pretty wedding when their daughter, Olive Louise Young, was united in holy matrimony to George Bliss Mason of Lower Juncos. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. H. Gillies, Rector of Cambridge. The bride, who was unattended, was given in marriage by her father and wore a navy blue travelling suit with hat to match and white fur. The bride received many beautiful presents, including a considerable amount of money. The happy couple will spend their honeymoon at various Nova Scotia points and on their return will reside at Young's Cove for the winter. The best wishes of their hosts of friends go with them.

FUNERALS.

Central Cambridge, Oct. 24.—The funeral of the late Robert A. Gibson, of the Lower Cambridge Baptist Church on Sunday, Oct. 17, at 10 a. m.

A large and representative gathering filled the church to its capacity, paid the last tribute of respect to one of the most highly esteemed citizens of Queens. The services, which were most impressive, were conducted by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Wadsworth, speaking from the words, "Whosoever liveth and believeth in Me shall never die. Believest thou this?" Appropriate music was rendered by the choir. As the remains were being borne down the church aisle the organist played very effectively the chords of "Safe in the Arms of Jesus."

The funeral cortege then proceeded to the cemetery at the lakeside where interment was made.

OBITUARY.

Gerald D. Gibbons

Gerald D. Gibbons, 194 Metcalfe street, died last evening from a lingering illness resulting from complications developing after an attack of scarlet fever, with which he was stricken last spring. He was in his sixteenth year. Besides his parents, he is survived by three brothers, Joseph E. Bernard R. and Edmund, and one sister, Mary.

The time of funeral will be announced later.

Sarah Fleming

The death of Sarah Fleming, aged seventy years, occurred Sunday noon at the home of J. H. Murphy, 49 Garden street. The deceased was a native of Belfast, Ireland, and has been a resident of this city for the past twenty-five years. She had been ill about two weeks, following a paralytic shock.

Funeral Tuesday afternoon from the residence of Mr. Murphy at 2:30 o'clock.

Mrs. H. Gordon

Special to The Standard
Moncton, N. B., Oct. 24.—Mrs. Gordon, widow of the late Henry B. Gordon, a former well known C. N. R. conductor, died at her home here this afternoon after a brief illness. Mrs. Gordon and her daughter, Trislie, spent the last three weeks visiting Mrs. Gordon's son at Saskatoon. While there Mrs. Gordon was taken ill and she and her daughter started for home. They reached here Saturday afternoon, and Mrs. Gordon, who was in a very weak condition, passed away this afternoon. She was fifty-eight years of age, and is survived by two sons, Stanley, of Saskatoon; Sgt. Major Spurgeon Gordon, St. John, N. B.; and two daughters, Mrs. John Anderson, Moncton, and Miss Trislie at home.

Chisholm in the back seat. Robert Williamson says he awakened later, struck a match and looked at his watch, and it was four o'clock and still dark. He awakened his brother William and called to Chisholm in the rear seat and asked him if he was warm. Receiving no answer, he says he turned around and shook him, and discovered that he was dead. He was down on his knees on the floor of the car with his head and arms on the cushion.

Begin Recount of City Ballots Today

Question of "Who Pays the Bills" Expected to be Settled and Work Started.

Preliminary moves were made before Judge Armstrong Saturday morning in connection with the application of George A. Blair, asking for a recount of ballots cast in the city during the provincial election. Roy A. Davidson and Dr. J. B. M. Baxter appeared for the applicant; Daniel Mullin, K.C., represented J. Roy Campbell, one of the defeated candidates. William M. Ryan, J. M. Truesdale and E. Milton Smith were present to look after the interests of the Government candidates, who have been declared elected.

No Objection Raised

After a few formalities of opening court, and Judge Armstrong had announced the purpose for which they had gathered, Mr. Ryan read that his clients did not wish to place any obstacle in the way of a speedy count of the ballots, and would not raise any technical objections. He would not admit the sufficiency in law of Mr. Blair's application for a recount, but was evidently not in a position to place any legal objection to proceedings.

Questions Sincerity

Dr. Baxter, in answer to Mr. Ryan, said that a man has his legal rights which he may invoke. He is entitled to this and should not be subject to criticism. He said his learned friend had thrown out the suggestion there was something difficult in the affidavit. If it were so, then, in his opinion, the petitioner had no legal right to go on. Every man, said Mr. Baxter, had a right to ask for a recount; the law says a certain person can ask for a recount and if learned friends have any objection, he said, they should put it forward and have it considered. Mr. Blair stands on his legal rights, he asserted, and if he has not the legal right, that puts an end to it. Time should not be spent for the only reason that it would be nice to have a recount. He said he was doubtful of his learned friend's sincerity. If Mr. Blair has not the legal right, the recount should not go on; if he has the legal right, he is under no indebtedness and he does not want the proceedings to go on.

Who Pays the Bills?

Mr. Ryan failed to lodge any legal objection and the court proceeded to get down to the business in hand. Judge Armstrong thought it would be near impossible for him to check, count and tally the ballots himself, and suggested he be given assistance in the work. Should he be obliged to do it alone, the proceedings would drag out to an indefinite period of time. Even his capable assistants, he was of the opinion, would be required to do the work thoroughly. This led to the question of expense of assistants. He said the Act made no provision for payment and it was essential to know who was to pay the bills.

Dr. Baxter was of the opinion that as the law provides for a recount, but does not provide for expenses incidental thereto, the Provincial Government, which operates the Election Act, should take care of the expense of such a recount. Mr. Ryan, representing the Government, was not prepared to assume this responsibility until he had consulted his clients, and asked for a postponement. Judge Armstrong thereupon ordered a postponement until this morning at 11 o'clock.

C. G. I. T. Groups Attend Service

Large Attendance at Mass
Meeting Held in Queen
Square Church.

"We would be strong for life is all before us. Nothing can daunt us guided by His hand; Eager to serve, we seek to follow Jesus. Giving our best for God and for our land."

These words from the C. G. I. T. hymn voluting the ideals of that organization were sung at yesterday afternoon's mass meeting. C. G. I. T. groups held at Queen Square Methodist church, and attended by a very large congregation.

Miss Roberts Smith, president of the Girls' Cabinet, was chairman and in order of worship included Sentences Prayers offered by several girls. Miss Bessie Tynes sang "One Sweetly Solomn Thought" as a solo. Members of the Girls' Cabinet were in the choir and Mrs. J. C. Rayworth presided at the organ. The closing prayer was offered by Rev. Neil McLaughlin.

An address was given by Miss Mary Allison, Y. W. C. A. Girls' Work secretary, who spoke on "The Place of Worship, private worship, family worship and the various moods in which people go to church." Her talk was interesting and full of helpful ideas. Rev. Frank J. Millican spoke on the C. S. E. T. and C. G. I. T. four-fold programme in an inspiring way.

PREACHED AT LITTLE RIVER.

The Rev. Mr. Dawson of the Exmouth street church, conducted services at Little River yesterday in the absence of the Rev. Mr. Howard, who is relieving at the Sussex Methodist church.

acted as waitresses Mrs. J. D. Hunter, president of the co-operative presided.

After supper an interesting address was listened to delivered by Rev. Frank J. Millican who told of the responsibilities of leadership. A discussion of practical problems followed in which many of the leaders present joined.

WAS JOHN CUMMINGS JUSTIFIED IN LEAVING HIS WIFE?

She was a good woman. She was kind to her children. And she was a perfect housekeeper. Even had hand-stitched hems on all her curtains. Kept her home spotless and span. And yet John went. Why? Why did he go away with that other woman? Just what made him desert his wife? John said she was such a good housekeeper she didn't know how to make a home. That he wanted companionship, but had to go out to get it. Now before you get mad with John read what Montague Perry says about him. Mrs. Perry has been keeping tabs on her neighbors in her own town, and she isn't quite sure that John wasn't half-way right. There's an awful lot for a lot of "good" wives in her article in "Victorial Review" for November, entitled "When is a Wife Not a Wife?"
