

60.

decided to return to their former home the Circle enabled them to do so by paying the cartage and freight on their furniture. Some of the minor Circles have held sewing meetings, when a quantity of garments has been made and quilts patched for the needy,

At Christmas, baskets of provisions with toys and books for the children, were distributed. Clothing and provisions have been supplied to poor families in their hour of need, and in numberless other ways has the helping hand been extended "In His Name," to those less fortunate.

One of the most encouraging phases of our work is our summer outing-home at New Orchard Beach, Port Stanley, where for $1.50 a week, members of the association may enjoy the lake breezes, and a rest and change of scene during the heated term. This has been an inestimable boon to many who have returned from a sojourn at "Summerholm," not only recuperated in health, but cheered and encouraged by its sympathetic home-life to take up their burdens with hopefulness and courage.

This year we were enabled to free "Summerholm" from its debt of $100, to have it painted, a pump put in, and some other needed improvements added. A concert held in May, in which some of London's best local talent took part, contributed towards the repainting of "Summerholm," the proceeds of which were greatly augmented by the contributions of generous well-wishers. We hope soon