

In Lighter Vein

Bible and Horse-Docking.—Lady Edward Churchill, addressing a meeting at Willesden, said that she had been reading some essays by school children on docking horses' tails, and in one of them a child had written:—

It is wrong to dock horses' tails, for the Bible tells us that what God hath joined together let no man cut asunder.

What's the Use?—"Johnny, I don't believe you've studied your geography."

"No mum; I heard pa say the map of the world was changing every day an' I thought I'd wait a few years, till things got settled."—Brooklyn Life.

One Little Thing Out.—A man, who had bought one of John H. Twachtman's landscapes, wished his opinion on the hanging of the picture. Mr. Twachtman expressed his approval of the background, the height at which the canvas was hung, and the light. "Indeed," he said, "there is only one change to make." "What is that?" inquired his host solicitously. "Why," said the artist, "I should hang it the other side up. I always have."—Everybody's Magazine.

Asking a Favour.—"Can I believe my eyes!" exclaimed Mr. Timkins as he confronted the burglar. Mr. Timkins had been sent down in the middle of the night to investigate a strange noise, which proved to be the family silver in process of packing up.

The burglar reached for his gun, but Mr. Timkins grabbed the hand instead.

"Don't," he said, giving the hand a cordial shake, "you don't know how much I'm interested in you. Stay awhile. I want you to meet Mrs. Timkins."

"While you're calling a cop! Not on your life!" retorted the burglar.

"No," said Mr. Timkins. "I just want you to stay while I call my wife. She's heard you at work every night for twenty years, and this is the first chance she's ever had to see you."—New York Evening Post.

Torture.—"Camp Life for Jersey Convicts."—Headline.

"Doesn't this come under the head of cruel and unusual punishment?"—New York Sun.

We discovered in the Canadian Soo a more glaring example of the c. and u. The town band performs on the lawn in front of the jail.—Chicago Tribune.

Her Figure.

"HE fell in love with her figure." No wonder, for she was a peach.

He shook at the thought of proposing—

She seemed so far out of reach.

"He fell in love with her figure."

She was constantly in his thoughts. No wonder he loved her so madly—

Her figure was one and six naughts!
—Joe Cone, in Judge.

Its Deepest Meaning.—"What does auto suggestion mean?" asked Binks.

"That's when your wife begins to figure out how much you would save in car fare if you had your own machine," replied Jinks.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Cautious.—A negro woman Savannah was preparing to get married. For four weeks before the ceremony she saved her wages and immediately after the wedding she hunted up her mistress and asked her to take charge of the fund.

"I'll take it, of course," said the puzzled woman, "but, Mandy, won't you need money to spend on your honeymoon?"

"Miss May," said the bride, "does you think I'se goin' to trust myself wid a strange niggah an' all dat money on me?"—Jones' Magazine.
