Nixon and the historic Watergate scandal, the University of New Brunswick Student Union has wantonly promulgated its own cover-up. But instead of involving plumbers, the UNB variation involved painters.

Done with the full knowledge of the Student Union Executive and Council, this particular operation probably cost the students hundreds if not thousands of

be hidden in various ways.

The current Student Union has operated in cooperation with the University adminfrustration in a move that was clearly taken to hide certain things not only from students but Conjuring up images of President from the general public as well.

These actions, which are not uncommon at UNB, aside from keeping all kinds of information under wraps, also caused discomfort to students and staff. In addition, there is every indication that such operations will be conducted in the future, "when needed."

In almost unrelated news, a member of the current Executive, after attempting to deny dollars. These expenses will no doubt that such a cover up was taking, finally admitted that the operation was indeed being carried out. This same Executive member also had troubles tying his shoes at this year's Media Bowl.

It's 6:30 in the morning as I wait in line for my plane at the local airport. After having passed in my shocking expose on the coverups in the Student Union I head off on my new assignment. At great personal sacrifice to myself I volunteered to cover the new democracy arising in Hungary. Luckily I managed to get the expense money beforehand.

It was Marks sir. It had to do with his storey on the coverup in the Student Coverup! They painted the walls.

Well sir, in Marks mind it was a coverup, the walls you know.
