LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL

To the Trustees,
The Rockefeller Foundation,
New York.

Gentlemen:

In transmitting the accompanying volume, Industry and Humanity, which marks the completion of my study of the problem of Industrial Relations under the auspices of The Rockefeller Foundation, may I point out therein I have sought to give expression to the Foundation's purpose as set forth in communications received ^{with the gift to me} ~~at the time of my~~ appointment, and in ~~published~~ statements published at the time the study was commenced.

In the terms of the resolution of the Executive Committee of the Foundation, I was appointed "to make a comprehensive study of the problem of industrial relations". The purpose of the study was ^{set forth} ~~detailed~~ in a communication in which I was invited to "enlist under the auspices of the Rockefeller Foundation in the investigation of the great problem of industrial relations, with a special view to the discovery of some organization or union, or, at any rate, of some mutual relationship of Capital and Labor
