

forms, chiefly on phases of the Canadian war effort, radio scripts, radio recordings of speeches by Canadian personalities and information about prisoners of war. Preliminary consideration has also been given to the question of the re-education of prisoners of war now detained in Canada, and a good deal of information has been brought together on studies being made in other countries. Special attention has been given to the provision of information about Canada to the people of France.

4. To meet the various requests that have come forward, it was found necessary, several months ago, to set up a small, informal, inter-departmental committee to co-ordinate the work done by the various departments concerned. This committee is composed of representatives of the Department of External Affairs, the Wartime Information Board, and the three Service Departments, with an officer of the Department of External Affairs acting as Chairman on behalf of his own department and Wartime Information Board.

5. It was felt that these activities should be brought to the attention of the War Committee of the Cabinet, with the object of enlisting approval for the continuance of this work. It is asked that approval be given to the establishment of the inter-departmental committee mentioned above, to provide for the planning and co-ordination of efforts of the various departments related to propaganda to enemy and enemy-occupied countries, including prisoners of war in Canada. The Committee would be most effective if formally constituted, and it is suggested that the name "Psychological Warfare Committee" be adopted.

Minutes and Documents of the Cabinet War Committee,
Volume XIV, September - December 1943,
(R.G. 2, 7c, Volume 14)