

WOMANS' FULL HERITAGE

f the h the
pect.
ords:

practised by all people would work for unselfishness and bring about an ideal condition. I would remind you of what a recent writer says, as it voices so clearly my own views. He says:—

s are now
with deas

“The World's Greatest Need is Christ. He is the only panacea for the world's sickness, and christianity is needed, not for the individual only, but for nations as great moral organisms, which have failed to keep His law. Nations must get right with God, in order to find true prosperity and prevent war. Civil government must be Christian in order to secure internal and external peace. Human wisdom and human plans are insufficient. Economic, legislative and military arrangements all fall short. Treatises and alliances fail. Arbitration is not enough. Peace movements alone cannot bring peace. The world needs Christ. The only road to lasting peace is the highway of the principles of the Prince of Peace.’

one
sub-
n—
any
r be
it I
d a
of
gos-
ob-
ove
and ind

“But in the meantime,” she continued, “I again agree with the grand old English Statesman I have already alluded to, ‘That it is the duty of Governments to make it easy for the people to do right and difficult for them to do wrong.’

“I would therefore suggest that there are several ways the women can help along this line, and we must do our own thinking.”

“What would you suggest as an urgent subject for the women to take in hand?” I asked.

“I would elect those who would consider moral issues as important as mines and railways!

“There is one cause for which I first worked which