velist Gerky's Summing Up of the Ter ribly Bloody Day in St. Petersburg Or Sunday-Czar Sends Solid Array of roops, Who Fired to Kill, in Answer to Workmen's Attempt to Petition the Threne-New They Cry Aloud For Vengeance For the People Who Have

St. Petersburg, Jan. 23.—Yesterdey was a day of unspeakable horror in St. Petersburg. The strikers of Saturday goaded to desperation by a day of violence, fury and bloodshed, are in a state of open insurrection against the Government. A condition almost bordering on civil war exists in the terror stricken Russian capital. The city is undermartial law, with Prince Vasichiscoff as commander of over 50,000 of the Emperor's crack guards. Troops are bivoucking in the streets, and at various places on the Nevsky Prospect, the main thoroughfare of the city. On the Island of Vassili Ostrov and in the industrial sections infuriated men have thrown up barricades, which they are holding. The Dowager Empress has hastily sought safety at the Tsarskoe Selo, where Emperor Nicholas II. is living.

Met With Death Alone. Minister of the Interior Sviato-Minister of the Interior Sviatopolk-Mirsky presented to His Majesty Saturday night the invitation of the workmen to appear at the Winter Palace yesterday afternoon and receive their petition; but the Emperor's advisers already had taken a decision to show a firm and resolute front, and the Emperor's answer to front, and the Emperor's answer to 100,000 workmen trying to make their way to the palace square yesterday was a solid array of troops, who met them with rifle, bayonet and sabre. The priest Gopon, the leader and idol of the men, in his golden vestments, holding aloft the cross and marching at the head of thousands of workmen through the Narva gate, miraculously escaped a volley which laid low half a hundred persons. dred persons.

From 500 to 5,000 Dead.

The figures of the total number killed or wounded here, at the Moscow gate, at various bridges and islands, and at the Winter Palace vary. The best estimate is 500, although there are exaggerated figures placing the number as high as 5,000. Many years are exaggerated by their control was a sign as 5,000. med were accompanied by their wives and children, and in the confusion which left no time for discrimination, the latter shared the fate of the men. The troops, with the exception of a single regiment, which is reported to have thrown down its as reported to have thrown down its arms, remained loyal and obeyed orders. But the blood which crimsoned the snow has fired the brains and passions of the strikers and turned, women as well as men into wild beasts; and the cry of the infuriated populace is for vengeance. The sympathy of the middle classes is with Destiors Faith In Czar.

Desires Faith in Car.

If Father Gopon, the master mind of the movement, aimed at open revolution, he managed the affair like a genius to break the faith of the people in 'Little Father,' who they were convinced and whom Father Gopon had taught them to believe would right their wrongs and redress their grievances.

The military authorities had a firm grip on every artery in the city. At daybreak guards regiments, cavalry and infantry held every bridge across the frozen Neva, the network of canals which interlace the city, and the gate leading to and from the industrial section, while in the palace square, as the storm centre, were massed dragoon regiments, infantry and Cossacks of the Guards. Barred from the bridges and gates, men, women and children crossed the frozen river and canals on the ice by two sard threes, hurrying to the palace square, where they were sure the Emperor would be present and hear them. Pittsburg, Jan. 23.—The third annual report of the Carnegie Relief Fund, founded by Andrew Carnegie, who appropriated $4,000,000 to be held in trust for the alleviation of employes disabled by accident, or old age, and for the dependents of an employe killed in the discharge of his duty, was made public yesterday. The total number of beneficiaries in 1904 was $75. Of this number 230 were killed and 367 were injured, while 278 have reached the age of 60 years and were retired on pensions of $241,988.32, an increase of nearly $62,000 over 1903.

Retreat Cursing Soldiers.

But the street approaches were closed by volleys and Cossack charges, men and women, infuriated to frenzy by the loss of loved ones, cursed the soldiers while they recreated. Men harangued the crowds, telling them that the Emperor had foiled them and that the time had come to act. Men began to build barricades in the Nevsky Prospect and other points, using any material that came to hand, and even chopping down the telegraph poles. Fighting meantime continued at various places, soldiers volleying and charging the mob. The whole city was in a state of panic. Women were running through the streets seeking lost members of families. Several barricades were carried by the troops. Towards 8 o'clock in the evening the crowds, exhausted, began to disperse, leaving the military in possession. As they retreated up the Nevsky Prospect The workmen put out all the lights.

Little Chapel at the Narva Gate was wrecked. On the Kiminostov Island all the lights were extinguished. Every officer wearing the uniform of the Emperor who was trooded to speak in Father Gopon's name made a flercy speech. He appealed to Liberals to furnish arms. The meeting adopted a letter denouncing the officers and the regiments that fired on the workmen, and another letter extensions of the Emperor who was furnoted to speak in Father Gopon's name made a flercy speech. Mrs. Cox had been ailing for some time. She was in her 62nd year. She had been married forty-two years. Her maiden name was Margaret Hopkins, and she was born at Peterboro. She leaves to mourn her besides her husband, three sons and two daughters. Mrs. Cox was largely interested in church work, and her charities were many and unostentatious. Little Chapel Destroyed.

The little chapel at the Narva Gate was wrecked. On the Kiminostov Island all the lights were extinguished. Every officer wearing the uniform of the Emperor who was found alone was mobbed. A general was killed on the Nicholas bridge, and a dozen officers were seized, strippued of their epaulets, and deprived of their swords.

It was rumored last night that M Witte will be appointed dictator today, but the report is not confirmed. The authorities, while they seem to realize the magnitude of the crisis with which the dynasty and the authoracy are confronted with on account of yesterday's events, apparently are paralyzed for the moment. An official statement was promised at midnight, at which hour it was announced that it had been postponed till to-day. Intense indignation is bound to be aroused all over Russia. The workmen and revolutionists expect news from Moscow and other big centres, where the troops are not

Father Gepon's Letter to Czar. The following is the text of a letter addressed by Father Gopon to Emperor Nicholas:

Sovereign,-I fear your ministers have not told you the full truth about the situation. The whole people, trusting in you, have resolved to appear at the winter palace at 2 p. m. in order to inform you of their needs. If, vacillating, you do not appear before the people to-morrow, the moral bonds between you and the people who trust in you will disappear, because innocent blood will flow between you and the people. Appear to-morrow before your people Appear to-morrow before your people and receive our address of devotion in a courageous spirit. I, and the representatives of labor, and my brave workingmen and comrades, guarantee to you the inviolability of

There was a very dramatic scene at our position.

There was a very dramatic scene at the Narva Gate when Father Gopon in golden vestments and bearing aloft an ikon and flanked by two clergymen carrying religious banners approached at the head of a procession of 8,000 workmen.

Troops were drawn up across the entrance. Several times an officer called upon the procession to stop, but Father Gopon did not falter. Then an order was given to fire with blank cartridge. Two volleys rang out, but the line still did not waver. Then, with seeming reluctance, an officer gave the command to load with ball, and the next volley was followed by shrieks and cries of the wounded. As the Cossacks followed up the volley with a charge, the workmen fled before them, leaving about 100 dead or wounded. It was evident that the soldiers deliberately spared Father Gopon.

One of the clergymen by his side was wounded but he escaped untouched and hid behind a wall justil the

More Trouble Peared. By midnight the sound of firing and ceased, except on Vassili Ostrov

LOCAL OPTION

Rev. Mr. Brown, of Blenheim, addressed the temperance meeting in the I. O. O. F. auditorium yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Brown gave an address upon the working general lines, showing the working of the Local Option by-law in Blenheim. He had a paper signed by 34 of the leading merchants of the place, stating that the by-law had been at great advantage to the business interests of the town. The merchants are more prospercies than chants are more prosperous, the Christmas Trade was the best ever experienced; there are more young people attending church, Sunday school and public school, and these were better dressed. As to the town itself, he said that on Dec. 16 there was only $500 uncollected taxes, while in Dresden there was $8,000 uncollected taxes. In Dresden they have no Local Option by-law.

Mr. Brown went so far as to say that Chatham could have local option in one year's time. Mr. Brown will be in this vicinity for the next year seeing that the by-law is enforced in Camden, Thamesville and other places where Local Option by-laws carried.
