It is singular that the less a preacher does for his money, this warm weather, the more he is thought of. In all parts of the country are heard appeals to the clergymen to abbreviate their sermons.

Voters' Lists will prove valuable to voters' Lists will prove valuable to business men hereafter. The law now requires the post office address of every elector to be given on the Voters' List, as well as to have the letter J opposite the name of every one qualified to act as a juryman

A bachelor on 10th line, Brooke, still holds all his wool since 1872. That year he refused 5_{π} cents per pound for it. He has it stored upstairs in hislogihouse. He keeps 40 to 60 head, and this season sheared 36, the poorest fleece weighing 6_{2} pounds. He hangs on for a better price and says the wool is as good to him as the neav. as the money.

The report of the Commissioner of Fisheries for 1878 has just been issued, and, as usual, it is full of interesting matter. The value of the produce of the insheries last year was $13,215,000, as compared with $12,030,000 in 1877. The magnetic in the ord, mach compared with $12,030,000 in 1877. The increase is principally in the cod, mack-erel, salmon and lobster fisheries. The value of the fish exported last year was $11,75,000, the United States markets absorbing about one half of the total ex-ports. The imports of fish during the same period were valued at $2,151,000. Nearly all of these imports were from the United States.
