

"VICTORY" FLOUR -- THE HIGHEST GRADE MILLED

B.I.S. Visit To Grand Falls

Never in the history of football in Newfoundland has a team been accorded the reception that was given to the B. I. S. on their visit to Grand Falls.

Leaving here on Sunday evening by express they arrived at Grand Falls about eleven. At the station they were met by Mr. Goss of this city, who was sent with cabs to convey them to the Cabot Hotel. Mrs. Forsey, the proprietress of the place, and her able staff of assistants were most painstaking in their attention to us and left nothing to be desired.

On Monday evening we played our first game, and as you know, won by 5 to 0, the game itself was a fairly good one; the G. F. team, perhaps, deserving better luck. They were probably somewhat nervous, owing to their being for the first time up against a city team. In their line up were Messrs Fahy and McPherson, both well known to St. John's footballers. After the game we were given a dinner at Woods' Restaurant, Mr. L. R. Cooper, the secretary of the G. F. A. A., in the chair. The dinner, itself, was certainly a bang up affair. Mr. Wood, has, we think, been fortunate in having as manager of his restaurant, Mr. Hayward. He certainly is their right man in the right place, and his catering that night was as good as the best we have ever seen. Mr. Cooper proved a very able chairman and deserved all congratulations tendered him. Amongst those present at the dinner were Mr. Scott, manager of the company; Mr. Judge, asst. manager; and Mr. Phillips, the popular treasurer of the G. F. A. A. To Mr. Scott and Mr. Judge we were certainly indebted for much pleasure. Both these gentlemen had a very pressing engagement, particularly Mr. Scott, but they cancelled them to be with us.

The second game was played in somewhat bad weather, and as you know ended in a draw. The G. F. team certainly gave us our hands full and we were lucky to get away with a draw. The night we were given a ball at the City Theatre, Mr. Cooper again being the charge. Needless to say all the boys enjoyed themselves to the fullest, and were sorry when the enjoyable affair was brought to a close.

Wednesday we went, or at least, were taken through the mills by Messrs Allan and Sampson. Both these gentlemen were most painstaking in their explanations of the different phases in the manufacturing of the paper. We began at the arm, the logs come out and at the finish saw them in paper. To sum it up it was wonderful. Imagine reader what kind of a mill it is, when you begin to realize that the installation of the plant cost between 8 and 10 million dollars. At the inside of the exit door, as we finished, were the words written on large paper, "Welcome B.I.S."

During our stay we called on Mr. Judge in his office and had a very interesting conversation. That gentleman is an American and has been with the company since it opened up. He is very kindly, and I am sure at no small inconvenience, threw open his office to us to transact any and all our business through, and the boys are more than indebted to him.

The third game resulted in a repetition of the first 5 to 0. In connection with the G. F. team we may say they are good players individually but they lack combination, but with a little more attention to this and more dash when on goal they may be heard from with a different result. They are sports from the word go, took their defeat in a sportsmanlike way, and to Mr. Hay, their captain, and the other members of their team, we say "Better luck the next time boys."

After the game we returned to our hotel, where a smoker was held. The most prominent amongst them friend Red McVane, his song "What Will we do 100 Years From Now" bringing down the house.

After getting through our program we had to hustle for train. Cabs were at our disposal, with cheers for G. Falls, Cabot Hotel, and accompanied by over 100 residents of the place, headed by Red McVane singing "I wish they would shift Old Ireland over here," we made our way to the station. Our referee for the series was Mr. Ogilvie. He proved himself to be a master of the game, was cool and collected, and his de-

Remember the Orphans

Though we believe it be altogether unnecessary to remind our generous fellow Catholic citizens that tomorrow the annual collection for the orphans of St. Michael's and Belvidere will be taken up, still, a reference to it will we deem, help on the worthy cause. The good Sisters of Mercy, who look after the 120 little ones domiciled in the institution, leave nothing undone for them, and their healthy, happy and cleanly appearance makes this most apparent. But to be responsible for the maintenance and upkeep of such a large number of children must be indeed a great care on the devoted ladies of the Orphanage, especially in this period of stress and economic disturbance. These little ones, bereft of homes and parents, possess a happy hope, and the places of loved fathers and mothers are lovingly filled by the good nuns.

Much is required to continue the well-being of these children, but there is no doubt that the generosity of a kindly and generous people will supply all that is necessary, and we, therefore, believe that to-morrow's collection will be in excess of other years.

Trooper O'Keefe's Interesting Letter

Mr. Peter Maher of the Sub-Station, yesterday had a very interesting letter from Trooper Andrew O'Keefe, 4th Troop, "A" Squadron, Six Canadian Mounted Regiment, No. 6304, C.E.F. He writes under date August 12th from Shorncliffe, England, where he is in hospital suffering from a broken leg from which he is slowly recovering.

Trooper O'Keefe says that this place is only four hours journey from the trenches. He observes that McGill Medical Corps left there four weeks before he wrote, and that there are only fourteen living out of a total of 350 men, the others all being killed shortly after going into action. Lots of disabled Canadian soldiers are at present at Shorncliffe, and what is left of the brave "Princess" "Pats" only a few of whom are fit for the resumption of active service.

O'Keefe was speaking to one other Newfoundland who had just come from the trenches severely wounded and who is in the same hospital as he is. His body is covered with shrapnel and bayonet wounds and he says although the poor fellow believes and hopes he will go back on the firing line again the physicians think his fighting days are over, though they hope to pull him through.

O'Keefe could not remember his name but says he is a Kelligrews man and will send Mr. Maher his name later. He was at the Battle of Mons and also at Hill 60, the fiercest engagement of the war. He says that his regiment is expecting to leave soon for either Egypt or France and O'Keefe, like the rest, is anxious to have a chance at the Huns. He says it is believed over there that the war will be over earlier than many imagine.

Trooper O'Keefe is an ex-member of the C.C.C. St. Patrick's Hall Coy., this city, received his first military training from Mr. Maher when an officer in the corps and says his knowledge of the drill, &c., gained in the Cadets has stood him in good stead since enlisting. He wishes to be remembered to any chums of his left in St. John's.

Decisions were not questioned (nor did not need to be) questioned. During our last game one of our players, R. Jackman met with a slight accident. Dr. Chamberlain was on the job and soon had the accident fixed. Our man continued and on his reappearance received quite an ovation.

In conclusion we again wish to thank the G.F.A.A. for their great reception; Mr. Cooper and Mr. Phillips in particular being most painstaking in their efforts to make our visit most enjoyable and it certainly was. We left on Wednesday night about 11.30, having had the biggest time and reception ever given a visiting team. The club rooms were at the B.I.S. team's disposal during their stay and Mr. Hayward photographed them.

To Erect Smelting Plant

Mr. W. A. McKay has applied to the Civic Commission for the rental of a piece of land at the rear of the public wharf near Job's Bridge to erect a small smelter for the purpose of demonstrating its ability. He does not, he says, require the use of the water front and only requires the place for the winter. He would install the machinery later and it will arrive here about the 17th inst. The matter will be considered when further information is available.

St. John's Boy Wounded and Gassed

Mr. Thomas Walsh, of Balsam St. yesterday had a letter from his son, Michael, who since shortly after the outbreak of the war, has been at the front in Flanders, serving with the R.A.M.C.

Mike writes from hospital, and says that the Germans time and again have shown not the slightest hesitation in shooting at members of the Red Cross and lately have gone so far as to turn their villainous gas on them. No less than eleven of his comrades one of them a dear pal, have been killed by the Huns, and Mike himself has been severely wounded and "gassed" by the Germans. His sight is affected as the result, but will not be permanently impaired. He is now in hospital, but will come out in time. He was greatly relieved on hearing that his father, who was hurt last spring by a horse, is getting better, and was delighted to get letters from his brother, George, now with "the boys" in Egypt.

He tells harrowing stories of the damage done to many flourishing towns and villages, by the Huns, and the cruelty perpetrated on the unfortunate people. Some of his chums, who have been badly "gassed," will lose their sight and others cannot recover from its deadly effects.

The fall fishery promises to be one of the worst on record, the catch for August being practically a failure.

Squid continues very scarce and it is the opinion of some that the noise and disturbance of the water made by motor engines have a great deal to do with the jiggling of squid, consequently a movement is on foot to consider the establishment of regulations for the preservation of this most valuable bait fish.

A picnic and dance was held in St. Joseph's Hall on August 18th and a very enjoyable time was spent by all who attended.

Some Awful Examples

One man thought he was getting a great bargain in gasoline—but when his engine refused to work, and he had to row ten miles to his home, in the teeth of a gale, he realized that low prices do not always represent bargains.

Another man bought a rifle for a couple of dollars less than the cost of a good one—but when it exploded, and tore off most of his fingers, he recognized that a cheap article is sometimes a dear investment.

Then there was the man who bought Cheap Rubbers, and laughed at his neighbour, who paid a higher price. The wet weather came—the man with the cheap rubbers spent the next three months in bed, with pneumonia—whilst his friend walked through all the slush with dry feet.

The friend wore BEAR BRAND. Moral: If you want to be truly economical, buy Bear Brand Rubbers—the most durable rubbers made. First in style, first in fit, first in wearing qualities—BEAR BRAND. CLEVELAND TRADING CO. aug30,21w,tf
