

SIDELIGHTS ON THE STAGE AND SCREEN

THE BRANT One of the strongest all-star casts ever assembled in the production of one motion picture is that to be seen in support of Sessue Hayakawa, at the Brant theatre the first of this week in the gripping drama of Mexican border life, "The Jaguar's Claws." Tom Moore, Tom Forman, Fritz Brunette, Marjorie Daw and Mabel Van Buren appear in support of the noted Japanese actor, who in the role of El Jaguar, Mexican outlaw and bandit, achieves probably the greatest triumph of his brilliant screen career, portraying with historic genius a character such as typified by the notorious Pancho Villa, Francis G. Bushman and Beverly Bayne co-star once more in the 8th episode of the Metro Mystery serial, "The Great Secret." The two Rosarys appear in a sensational acrobatic number, offering a high class trapeze performance of unique and original ability, while Marie Evans and her Banjo Boys have a clever musical and singing offering which is a sure favorite with all.

THE GRAND "The Rosary" was the attraction at the Grand Opera House last evening, the Roma Reade Company giving a splendid presentation of that old but ever-popular favorite, the play telling one of the sweetest stories ever told, a powerful and stirring drama of real life, with an appeal to all and many a tug at the heart strings. In the dual roles of the twin sisters, Alice and Vera, Miss Reade discharged probably the most exacting characterizations in which she has been seen in this city, and carrying the two parts throughout with unusual success and her usual histrionic ability. Another notable success was scored by Mr. Edward Keene in his portrayal of the role of Father Brian Kelly, while the other parts in the production were excellently handled by the various performers. Mr. Fred G. Brown, an old Brantford boy, and a new member of the company, was introduced to the audience during the evening, favoring them with two of his latest patriotic song compositions, "The Rosary" will be repeated to-night and to-morrow, while for the week-end an elaborate production of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" will be staged.

KOLB IN DUTCH It was during rehearsal for the big suffragette demonstration, held in the production of "A Peck O' Pickles," starring Kolb and Dill, that William Kolb made a dumb speech. Dill had been asked to give his ideas on the subject, but Mrs. Max, better known as Josephine Clark, who is an ardent suffragette, was standing near him and he quietly turned the job over to his partner. Kolb then gave in part a speech he had heard given by a German one night in New York. "Ladies and gentlemen, My wife, she just got through telling you that you all should ought to be for woman suffrage. You should be. In fact we all are for that thing. I now am going to open a campaign to

When You Market Consider Your Less Fortunate Neighbor.

"Every citizen who uses more in his household than his house-hold actually needs is increasing the cost of living for those less fortunate, and he is hindering the prosecution of the war." Sir Thomas White, Minister of Finance. THE well-to-do woman who sits at her phone and orders provisions lavishly, regardless of price, is abusing the power of money as a bully abuses brute strength! No longer can we help ourselves as we see fit from an unlimited food supply—we are either limiting our buying to our own real needs or "hogging" someone else's share. Extravagant buying by those who can afford it, with waste in some kitchens, and excess at some tables, will inevitably bring still greater hardships to those who cannot afford the prices, and hunger to those who must live on less. Buy for your household as carefully and economically as your husband buys for his factory, store or office. Study food values as well as prices—make it a point to know just what you are getting—eliminate waste—and you'll find that you can feed your family well on far less than you spend now. Invest the saving in Canadian War Savings Certificates and you will be doubling your service to the nation. War Savings Certificates are issued in denominations of $25, $50 and $100, to be repaid in three years at full face value. They cost $21.50, $43 and $86 respectively, at all Money Order Post Offices and Banks, thus yielding over 5% interest.

Little Trojans' Debut With Phillis 1-0 Win For Alexander Philadelphia, July 17.—Wonderful fielding, especially by Bancroft, featured the game in which Philadelphia defeated Cincinnati yesterday 1 to 0. Alexander and Regan had a twirling duel, which was finished in the remarkably fast time of one hour and ten minutes. The lone tally was scored in the seventh inning. Whitted then led off with a double and took third when Roush muffed Cravath's fly. Regan threw Stock out and Whitted was caught at the plate when Paskert hit to McKechnie. Luderus' single scored Cravath. Johnny Evers made his debut with the Phillies and was presented with a big floral horseshoe. The score: Philadelphia . . . 00000000—0 6 1 Philadelphia . . . 00010101—1 5 6 Regan and Wingo; Alexander and Killifer. R. H. E. BAKER AIDED CLEVELAND Errors Helped In Yankees' Defeat; Bagby's String Broken Cleveland, July 16.—Cleveland was lucky enough to-day to have Baker's two errors produce three runs, enough to defeat New York, which had scored one by hitting and one on O'Neill's error. New York out-batted Cleveland, but throws by Roth and Graney cut off runs. Bagby had not been scored upon in 38 innings prior to to-day. Score:— N. York 0 0 0 2 0 0 0 0—2 9 2 Cleveland 0 0 0 0 1 2 0 0 x—3 7 1 Shawkey and Nunamaker; Bagby and O'Neill. At Chicago—Chicago-Washington, rain. At Detroit—Detroit-Philadelphia, rain.

RED SOX DROP INTO SECOND Beaten By St. Louis Yesterday, Davenport Giving Only Two Hits St. Louis, July 16.—Davenport held Boston to two hits to-day and St. Louis shut out the world's champions 2 to 0. Davenport did not give a hit until the sixth, when Hooper doubled. He was the only visitor to reach second and was left there when General St. Louis fanned the third out. St. Louis got a run in the fourth when Pratt tripled and scored on a single by Jackson. In the sixth Slater singled and second and went to third when Barry failed to cover the base for Thomas' perfect throw. He scored on Severoli's single. Score:— St. Louis 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—2 2 2 Boston 0 0 0 1 0 1 1 0 x—2 5 0 Foster, Jones and Thomas; Davenport and Severoli.

BISONS WON FROM REBELS Nip and Tuck Game Taken By Buffalo From The Richmond Team Buffalo, July 16.—Buffalo and the Richmond Rebels indulged in a battling contest this afternoon, the Bisons finally winning 9 to 8 after each club had alternated in taking the lead. Enright could not stand the strain, and was relieved by Donahue, who fared well until the eighth, when the Herd bunched hits and went to the front, where they stuck. Score:— Buffalo 2 0 2 1 0 0 0 4 x—9 11 4 Rich'd . . . 3 0 0 1 3 0 0 0 1—8 9 3 Jaynes and Onslow; Enright, Donahue and Reynolds.

THE KID HAS GONE TO THE COLORS. The following poem has been sent to a resident of this city by a friend in Chicago, who considered it especially appropriate at the present time, typifying, as it does, the spirit of the United States in the present war, as well as in the Civil War when "Granddad" was changed by the "Flag to a man." THE KID HAS GONE TO THE COLORS. The Kid has gone to the colors And we don't know what to say; The Kid we have loved and cuddled Stepped out for the flag to-day. We thought him a child, a baby, With never a care at all. But his country called him man-size And the Kid has heard the call. He paused to watch the recruiting Where, fired by the fife and drum, He bowed his head to "Old Glory," And thought that it whispered: "Come." The Kid, not being a slacker, Stood forth with patriot joy To add his name to the roster And God, we're proud of the boy. The Kid has gone to the colors; It seems but a little while Since he drilled a schoolboy army In a truly martial style. But now he's a man, a soldier, And we lend him the Hetsing ear, For his heart is a heart all loyal, Unscourged by the curse of fear. His dad, when he told him, shuddered, His mother—God bless her!—cried: Yet, blest with a mother-nature She wept with a mother-pride. But he whose old shoulders straightened Was Granddad—for memory ran To years when he, too, a youngster, Was changed by the Flag to a man. —William Herchell.

MEN URGENTLY NEEDED National Savings Also Essential To Victory "It is imperative and urgent that officers and men be sent to keep Canada's Corps up to its full strength." Such is the message which General Sir Arthur Currie has sent to Sir Robert Borden, Canada's military obligation is clear. Its financial duty is not less apparent. The National Service Board is appealing for the exercise of economy by every man and woman in the Dominion. Such economy is essential if the country is to bear its monetary burden. It is spending nearly $2,000,000 a day. The savings of the nation are needed to maintain the war record of the Dominion. Millions are still being spent in luxuries. Other millions are being squandered. Sixty million dollars are lost through failure to avoid waste. Every dollar has a definite war value. Every dollar is needed if the Canadian Corps is to be properly maintained. Sixty million dollars, invested in War Saving Certificates and help the man at the front. C1-4.

THE MA By Fra Late Superintendent of the Crim New Scotland

(From Saturday's Daily.) A streak of flame split the darkness and a bullet smashed against the wall. Jimmie's pistol was levelled, and almost in the same instant his shot answered. There was a groan, immediately stifled, and then a short laugh. "Bullseye—five," said Ling, in the monotonous chant of the ranges. "That's one I owe to you, Master Hallett. You've smashed my wrist. Good shooting in this tricky light." The place was filled with a vague vision of crawling forms, all of those who were not too far under the influence of the drug being anxious to get out of the way of bullets. Jimmie's muzzle was full on the dark figure of Ling. "Drop your gun—drop it, I say," he ordered peremptorily. Ling laughed again. "All right, sonny, I know when I've got enough. Don't I tell you you've smashed my wrist. I'm not worth a cent at left handed shooting. Say, your friend Menzies seems to have got his medicine."

The chief inspector had collapsed at the first shot, and though Jimmie was too wary to take his eyes off the master crook, he had an impression of his great bulk lying motionless at the other side of the room. "Stand up," commanded Jimmie. "Put your hands up. My God, Ling, I'm only looking for a good excuse to plug you." He remembered Peggy and all she had suffered at this man's hands and his blood boiled. "Tut, tut! Let not your angry passions arise"—Ling might have been remonstrating with a petulant child, but he stood up nevertheless. "I told you I'd got a bullet in my wrist, didn't I? How can I put my hands up? I'll put one up, if that'll suit you. You're a smart boy, Hallett, but if you'd been alone I could have handled you."

"Shut up," said Jimmie. "I want to think." It was a position not without its difficulties. There would have been a dozen solutions of the problem had Menzies not been laid out. That had been a piece of most execrable luck which had made all the difference. So long as he held his back to the door and his weapon on Ling Jimmie was in command. To remain like that was, however, impossible. Something had to be done, but what it was hard to decide. For all that he knew the place might be teeming with friends of Ling, only waiting for that steady muzzle to waiver before rushing him. At the best he was confident that five out of every six of those present were crooks and blackguards, who would stick at little if it came to the point. Ling crystallized his dilemma with a sneer. "Say, bo, you've got hold of a tiger's tail, haven't you? Don't know whether to keep hold or let go. You take my advice and run home to your mummy."

Jimmy never answered. His lips were firm pressed and his dogged chin resolute. Even if he had been able to rush Ling out at the point of the revolver until he found a police officer, he could not leave Menzies. Moreover, he had an idea that in any case Ling would not calmly submit to such a program. He lowered the
