SIDE LIGHTS ON OTTAWA AFFAIRS

Interesting Comment on Current Events by Our Special Correspondent

Ottawa, Dec. 12.—Trouble for the Minister of Labor. The Grand Trunk strike ended on July 31st last, the company agreeing to "put back as soon as possible the men, other than those who have been or may be found guilty of acts of violence or disorderly conduct."

Mr. Borden brought the matter up. He represented the hard case of the men, and asked if the government had taken steps to ascertain what men had been guilty of violence.

A long explanation by Mr. King revealed this situation. The Grand Trunk Railway company insists that it has fulfilled the terms of the agreement; that the 270 unskilled men were not; that the superintendent of the system have handed to Mr. Hays a list of men whom they say committed acts of violence.

Mr. King's Explanation. A long explanation by Mr. King revealed this situation. The Grand Trunk Railway company insists that it has fulfilled the terms of the agreement; that the 270 unskilled men were not; that the superintendent of the system have handed to Mr. Hays a list of men whom they say committed acts of violence.

In other words, Mr. Hays is seeking to make the men crawl back on their hands and knees. Have any of the men been reinstated since the opening of the season? Mr. Borden asked the question.

Very few, said Mr. King. Apparently they all wrote the letters required. Then each man received a letter in reply stating that according to the records of the company he had been guilty of violent conduct; and that he must go before the superintendent and prove his innocence.

Mr. Northrup's Point. Mr. Northrup made the neat point that the men are called on to go before the superintendent who found them guilty, and get them to admit that they were wrong.

Dr. Reid noted the fact that the agreement was understood to involve the reinstatement of the positions who had had quit; whereas those who had had reinstated had often been given less lucrative positions.

At the opening of the House we renewed the daily scrap over the scrapping of the Rainbow. Mr. Monk essaying to take another bite out of Mr. Brodeur over it. The facts as to this alleged "scrapping" of the Rainbow are these:

Rambler is Elderly. The Rainbow is a decidedly elderly cruiser, though she has attained to the twenty or twenty-five years which is the theoretical "life" of a warship.

Commander Roper's Break. Replying to further question by Col. Sam Hughes in regard to addresses delivered by the commander-in-chief of the naval staff on the naval question, Mr. Brodeur said he had not accepted the word "Faction" in the sense in which it was used by Commander Roper.

Conservation of Water Powers. F. D. Monk introduced a bill entitled "An action concerning water powers of Canada." The proposed measure, which emanates from his observation commission, has for its object the conservation of the water powers of the Dominion for the benefit of the general public and not a select few.

boats and destroyers, which are cramped uncomfortable vessels, need to have what are termed "mother ships," one fairly large and comfortable ship to every half dozen or so able bodied craft.

Held Not For Fighting. Thus the "Apollos" have been held, not for fighting, but for "subsidiary" purposes. Unofficial publications have described them as "effective" rather than "effective" list.

St. Peter's Reserve. George Bradbury, of Selkirk, Man., moved for a copy of all correspondence with Rev. John McDougall regarding St. Peter's Indian and their reserve and report of his investigations.

Minor Bills. H. H. Miller's bill regarding interest on mortgages was discussed in committee and amended. Major Sharpe's bill to amend the Companies Act was given a second reading and referred to the Banking and Commerce Committee.

Mr. Middlebroe was told that the government has decided not to grant a pension to the veterans of 1866 and 1870. The greater part of the afternoon and until late in the evening was spent in the discussion of the branch lines of the Intercolonial and the non-railway counties of the eastern section of Nova Scotia.

Hot Roast for Senate. Ottawa, Dec. 14.—The chief feature of today's short session in the Commons was a discussion in committee of F. D. Monk's bill providing for the control of co-operative credit societies.

Dr. Sprone was informed that there was no provision for government bank inspection. Mr. F. B. Carvell's bill to amend the Bank Act in the House today. The new provisions will come into effect on July 1 next, when the banks are operating will expire.

Locks Horns With Hon. Frank Oliver. Ottawa, Dec. 14.—Today's most interesting event occurred at the very beginning. Mr. Monk introduced his bill "Concerning the Water Powers of Canada."

Procedure of Bill. Here is the procedure which the bill proposes: 1. When, owing to application being made, the government decides to alienate a water power, it first must submit the subject to a certain commission, so as to ascertain the commission's views as to the value, the proper way to utilize it, etc.

When the government has decided to alienate a water power, it first must submit the subject to a certain commission, so as to ascertain the commission's views as to the value, the proper way to utilize it, etc.

It purports that no power can be secured except by way of lease for 50 years. When an application is made it will be referred to the conservation commission and the lease will be sold by auction.

Hon. Frank Oliver said there was legislation already in force dealing with waterpower. In 1908 regulations had been passed which conserved the public interest. The bill was given a first reading.

Next, should the territory in which a given company is allowed to work be limited? It should, said Mr. Oiler, who in addition desired to bar the societies out of cities.

Protest from Mr. Verville. The cities are exactly where the measure is needed. Already in Quebec he knew of several working men who had been enabled by societies of this sort to build their own houses.

The point was not decided when the hour of adjournment came. Mr. Melchior, extracted from the government the information that it has decided not to grant land scrip to satisfy the claims of those old timers in the North-West who entered the country between 1836 and 1870.
