Indigestion or Dyspepsia

Always become Chronic in Time?

The blood becomes bad and finally weak, pale and diseased. Medicines that HELP dyspepsia only give temporary relief, and do not cure the root of the trouble, which, like all chronic ailments depend upon the state of the blood.

Cure Your Indigestion by Enriching the Blood.

The only Natural Blood-maker is CAPSULOIDS. They contain the Natural Iron extracted from Fresh Bullock's Blood.

Take ONE or even TWO with each meal three times daily, if you are very bad, and stick to them till the rich, red blood which they make has made your stomach strong and well.

Dr. Campbell's Red Blood Capsuloids

Are sold only in boxes at 50c per box. 6 boxes for $2.50, by all leading druggists, or sent on receipt of price from The Canadian Branch Office.

GLENN BEEL.

TUESDAY, APR. 11.—One of the pleasing events in life which helps to mould and build beautiful Christian character, occurred in Glen Buell church, in connection with the Epworth League on Sunday evening.

GLENN BEEL, Apr. 9th '99.

To our esteemed friend and fellow-worker, Mr. Robert Lewis.

It is with deep feelings of regret that we, your fellow citizens and co-workers in the vineyard of Christ, learn of your intended departure from this opportunity pass without expressing to you through this medium our gratitude and thankfulness for your untiring energy and zeal in our behalf since coming among us.

When we think of your separation from us we are forced to say in the words of the poet, "I wish to part when friends are dear," but we find a soothing and healing balm in the fact that our loss will be another's gain.

The Hon. Peter White of Pembroke has been selected by the Conservatives to contest Brockville riding. A grand rally of his supporters was held in Brockville on Tuesday evening, a special train conveying voters from this section. The meeting was addressed by Hon. G. E. Foster, M. P., Mr. McInerney, M. P., and the candidate.

At Smith's Falls, where, according to a local paper, the women are never permitted to partake of the joys of handling their lord and master's money, a teacher said to her class: "If your father gave your mother $7 to-day and $8 to-morrow, what would she have?" And the small boy replied: "She would have a fit."

On Wednesday last social life in Athens was enlivened by the occurrence of two weddings, at both of which the officiating clergyman was Rev. J. J. Cameron, M. A., pastor of St. Paul's Presbyterian church. At 9 a.m. at the home of Mr. John Cars, Wellington street, the marriage took place of their adopted daughter, Miss Mamie McLean of Chicago, and Mr. Walter Patterson of Ansonville.

At 11 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Jane Slack, Elgin street, her adopted daughter, Miss Maggie Barr of London, England, and Mr. Delbert McClary of Lansdowne were united in marriage.

At the conclusion of this ceremony which was witnessed by about a score of guests, including the happy couple first married, a wedding breakfast was tastily served, after which the newly-wedded pair started for Brockville, attended by the best wishes of their many friends in Athens. They returned to Athens on Friday evening and were tendered a reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cars.

A narrow escape. A Charleston correspondent says: On Sunday last Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Johnston and family had a narrow escape from being drowned in Fall Bay. They were driving along when suddenly the horse broke through and plunging ahead went down till only their heads were visible, dragging the cutter with them. The water being deep Mrs. Johnston was unable to get from the cutter with her infant child in her arms. With great presence of mind she tossed the child out on the ice as the only means of saving his life. She then jumped herself, the other two children were managed by some means to loosen the horses from the cutter, which suddenly water-plunged breaking the ice where the children were. Quick as a flash Mrs. Johnston seized the babe and rode a moment too soon. The other horse rolled out and both got good footing. One of the horses was badly cut and the whole family nearly prostrated with cold and exhaustion.

The Psalm of Marriage.

Tell us not in idle jangle, marriage is an idle dream; for the girl is dead that's single, and things are not what they seem. Life is real; life is earnest; single blessedness a fib. "Man that is true to a man returner," has been spoken of the rib. Not enjoyment and not sorrow is our destined end or life; but to act that each to-morrow may find us nearer marriage day.

While "Peg-Leg" Brown, who has been sentenced to be hanged at the gallows for the killing of Policeman Torhey, was being brought to that city, he concocted a plan to escape, but it was frustrated. He went to sleep on a seat in a car, with two officers sitting in front of him. Towards midnight he slipped off the seat, and while they were in this condition, Brown managed to break the cuffs which held both hands. He then tied them together with a string, so that the officers would be unable to find out his escape.

Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Railway, has just completed arrangements for the issuance of a map guide which shows in a very clear and concise way the route of the road and also the various avenues by which a canoe or row boat may be made over the Rideau chain of lakes. The map was drawn by Mr. Fred French, and after being reviewed by the railway and the unequalled fishing and boating advantages of the vicinity.

Mr. J. C. Phillips has sold his steamer yacht, "Idle White" to Harry and Collins Mullen took the job of moving the boat from the boat house at Charleston Lake to the B. & W. station, Athens, and on Thursday last successfully accomplished the feat. They placed two long runners, used in moving buildings, under the boat and hitching two teams on, made a start for Athens, a distance of five miles, they made the distance in a couple of hours and delivered the boat at the station without a scratch. The yacht will be shipped on a flat car per B. & W. and C. P. R. in a few days.

Mr. Jas. A. Johnston of Watertown, N. Y., spent Sunday in Athens, a guest of Mr. and Mrs. B. Lovrin. Mr. Johnston is a cousin of Mrs. Lovrin and a son of the late Charles Johnston of Morristown, N. Y. He was born on the John Ketchum homestead, Addison, where his father lived for some time. It is twenty-seven years since he was in Athens and notes with pleasure the substantial progress made in the size of the village in that time. He is here in the interest of a large stoneware manufacturing concern, and is travelling along the frontier route of Central Ontario looking over the ground with an idea of opening up a branch of their establishment in Kingston.

At the Dominion chess tournament held at Montreal last, Mr. U. J. Flach, late of Athens, now standing on the Sydneyham high school, finished third. The winning score was 24 games, and when the score stood at 23 Mr. Flach was a tie with the winner of the championship.

Miss Schofield will hold her millinery opening, in connection with the store of Mrs. J. J. Cameron, on April 12th and following days. The large stock includes the very latest fashions in hats and bonnets and a full range of Paris novelties in millinery requisites. The ladies are invited to inspect the display.

S. Y. Bullis has had a gang of seven men at work during the past few weeks fitting up the house on the shore of Charleston lake, formerly owned by Geo. Stevens into a summer cottage for himself and family. The blacksmith shop was converted into a stable and boat house. When completed this cottage will be one of the best residences at the lake.

At a meeting of the Napanee town council recently, a by-law was passed that any person or persons shall not ride a bicycle at greater speed than six miles per hour, and that riding on sidewalks or pavements is strictly prohibited. Any person or persons riding a bicycle shall carry a headlight, and all riders shall provide themselves with a bell. Any person violating the by-law will be liable to a fine not to exceed $5 and costs. The action leads The Express to remark "Pretty soon a by-law will be introduced to compel bicyclists to walk through town."

Dr. C. M. B. Cornell, and Lewis King are making extensive alterations to their summer cottages at Charleston Lake this spring, and Joseph Thompson will soon thoroughly renovate the cottage he purchased from James Ross. Everything points to a lively time at Charleston this coming season.

On the afternoon of Wednesday last over a score of Athabian ladies assembled at the home of Mrs. G. A. McClary, Church street, and spent the afternoon and evening very enjoyably. Photographer Falkner secured an excellent group picture of the ladies, which will no doubt be highly prized by all present.

Joseph W. Kerr, Wilton St., got his hand badly cut while attending a drag sawing machine, one day last week. He was moving a block near the saw when the lever dropped, allowing the saw to fall, catching his hand, and cutting the back of his fingers very severely. Fortunately, the injury was confined to the flesh, and no serious damage was done to the hand, excepting that it will prevent Mr. Kerr from working for some time.

When Dr. Duff was laboring in India he declared that the people were not to be taught in a woman, and that to attempt to educate women in India was as hopeless as to attempt to scale a wall seven hundred feet high. To-day the condition of Hindoo women is vastly improved.

The Recorder says: Mr. E. A. Geiger, of the B. & W. Railway, has just completed arrangements for the issuance of a map guide which shows in a very clear and concise way the route of the road and also the various avenues by which a canoe or row boat may be made over the Rideau chain of lakes. The map was drawn by Mr. Fred French, and after being reviewed by the railway and the unequalled fishing and boating advantages of the vicinity.

Mr. J. C. Phillips has sold his steamer yacht, "Idle White" to Harry and Collins Mullen took the job of moving the boat from the boat house at Charleston Lake to the B. & W. station, Athens, and on Thursday last successfully accomplished the feat.

Several were absent during the examinations, thus obtaining less marks.

A serious explosion of acetylene gas took place in W. H. Nixon's hotel, Avonmore, on Friday night last. The carbide chamber of his acetylene machine had not been properly closed and a leakage of gas took place. When Mr. Nixon discovered this he rushed to extinguish the light but before he could do so the escaping gas reached the flame and a terrific explosion followed.

Mr. Nixon was terribly burned about his hands and face, his wife injured and a painter slightly injured. The building was also damaged, nine windows being blown out and a door smashed to pieces.

"Women demand the rustling skirts," said the manager of a big silk house. "For over six years the silk skirts have been the fad, and it will continue. The ladyfolds love the gentle chirp of its wings, the cricket is charmed with its own song, and if you rob a woman of her musical skirt she will not be happy. We have learned that the noise is what they want. The more the skirts rustle the better. We have been experimenting now for some time to find a silk that will squeak like a sexton's shoes, for the higher the position in society the more pronounced should be the 'sash'."

An Iroquois Eloquent.

News: A rather romantic eloquent took place from one of Iroquois' churches not many Sundays ago. A young man was reading from the Bible to divine service, complained of not being well, and hurried from her fond parent's side to the church door.

Here she was met by brave Romeo who had just returned from his journey, she two drove off together on life's journey, via the gravel road to Mountain Station, where they were, quietly married.

Her Death.

A Kansas girl, with four married sisters, received a proposal of marriage recently, and asked a week to think it over. She went to see all her married sisters. One did not object, but the other two drove off together on life's journey, via the gravel road to Mountain Station, where they were, quietly married.

Col. Hamilton's Death.

Geneva, N.Y., Apr. 3.—The funeral of the late Lieutenant Colonel John M. Hamilton, of the 9th regular cavalry, who was killed while leading his regiment up San Juan hill, July 1, last, was held from the state armory here yesterday afternoon.

The service was attended by about 2,500 people. The entire service was held in the armory, owing to the inclement weather. Flags floated at half mast from the public buildings. The remains were escorted from the undertaking rooms to the armory by the G. A. R. and the 34th Separate company and bugle corps. The casket was draped with Stars and Stripes and borne on the shoulders of the bearers, sergeants of the 34th Separate company. The honorary bearers were former officers of the same company.

Lieutenant Colonel Hamilton was born in Canada, but moved to Geneva when a young boy. He had seen service in the civil war, on the western plains against the Indians and in the late war with Spain.
