OLD FORT GARRY.

Spo: in Canada-With Some Pleasant

The lecture given recently by Rev. Dr. Bryce, of Winnipeg, on 'Pictur-esque Fort Garry,' in the chemicas uilding of the university, under the uspices of the Royal Society, was interesting to those of us who had lately visited the historic spot. No mention, can be made with reference to the old fort but sorrow and regret ome up at the thought of the fact that it is almost annihilated. The residents feel that it was a species of vandalism on their part to be so talk of the Wodern City.

On the one remaining gateway we found names inscribed of people from almost every land in Christendom. It certainly would have been the Mec-ca of this great Northwest land. The stereoptican views illustrative of the lecture gave us some of the strong faces of those who had much to do with the making of the Canadian West, men who, out of the chaos and evolution of events attended upon the settlement of a new country by their wise counsels and intelligent manipulation of affairs brought peace and her handmaiden prosperity, such as Sir Donald Smith, Hon. A. G. Archibald, Sir John Shultz, Hon. A. Morris, and Hon. J. Norquay, who for 17 years was First Minister of his native province. The beautiful and costly monument erected to his memory in the Anglican cemetery of vas was a group of pioneer clergymen. Archbishop Machray (Angl.), Archbishop Tache (R.C.), Rev. Dr. Black (Presby.). Some of us would

Many of us pronounced Lord Dufferin to be visionary and optimistic when on the occasion of his banquet at Winnipeg he talked so positi ely of the capabilities and limitless pos-Western land sibilities whose illimitable dimensions confront the arithmetic of the surveyors and the verification of the explorer." The population in 1870, 200, is now nearly 50,000. This great commercial centre feels the throbbing pulsations of life and activity from plain and prairie. Twenty-five years ago the wheat production was 20,000 bushels; this year 80,000,000. are told that our Dominion is third in the world in its output of gold. It is hard to compute wealth of a germinal value. It has been stated that if all the land now fit for cultivation were growing wheat there would be enough produced to feed the world's millions for one year were there any possibility of its distribution. Winnipeg is a beautiful city, with its magnificent wide streets, paved though not with gold, but something far better-asphalt, granolithic, side walks, electric lights, fine trolley mystem, an imposing City Hall, with a costly and artistic monument erected in front to the memory of those who fell in the rebellion of 1885. Colleges, Deaf and Dumb Asylum, hospitals, parks, and large departmental stores. Two very important factors which have aided in the development and prosperity of this city are its religious and educational institutions. The numerous denominations, even some of the foreigners have their splendid churches.

As we were being driven around the city, we were impressed by the Public school buildings. I think nearly a score we noticed, looking like small colleges, with grounds to head. the extent of 27 acres. Here we see Mongolian, Hebrew, Doukhobors, Molohames, Galician, Swede, Norwegian, Icelander, French, Spanish, Armenian, Italian, Pole, Saxon, Celt, Norman, Dane, and others. I never heard the word cosmopolitan so often Growth, advancement, development and progress seem to be stamped everywhere, A torpid liver, or anything else of a pessimistic tendency, is s. ecdily dissipated by the exhilarating and energizing ozone of the prairie preezes. And it is scarcely laybreak there yet. Does the history of any land furnish us with a precedent on the same lines? We cross the Red River, and find the old Town of St. Boniface. In walking up to the front of the cathedral, we notice, a little to the left, a pretty shaft of brown granite, about five feet in height, and on it, in golden colored letters, the name 'Riel.' Nearby is a wooden enclosure, in which I find on a slab, cred to the memory of four infants of Ambrose Lepine, Riel's adjutantgeneral of his provisional Govern-ment, 1869-70." Riel was educated in the college at St. Boniface. His father was called the "Miller of the Seine. A paper called The New Nation was Riel's organ. Some copies are still extant, and in the possession of the Provincial Library of Manitoba. This mission was established in 1818. The former cathedral, in which Bishop Provencher ministered, was burned. The original one had two towers. I was frequently asked while in the West if the control of the read Whittier's poem called "The Bells of St. Boniface." I ventured to remark that I had read his poem called "The Red River Voyageur," in which he refers to the hardships of the rower and hunter:

The voyageur smiles as an listens To the sound that grows apace; Well he knows the vesper ringing Of the bells of St. Boniface.

The bells of the Roman Mission, That calls from their turrets twain; To the boatman on the river. To the hunter on the plain

We are indebted for the following extract to Rev. Wm. MacBeth's "Making of the Canadian West." Some years ago Sir John Shultz, then Lieutenant-Governor of Manito-ba, reminded the authorities of the cathedral of the birthday of the poet, and asked that the bells be rung in honor of the day. This being done, the Hon. J. W. Taylor, the United States Consul at Winnipeg, wrote informing Whittier of the fact. The aged poet, on recovering from an illthe time, wrote to Archbishop Tache at St. Boniface, acknowledging the thoughtful courtesy of the act, and in his letter the following sentences of great heauty occur: "I have reached an age when literary success and manifestations of popular favor have ceased to satisfy one upon whom the solemnity of life's sunset is resting; but such a delicate and beautiful tribute has moved me. I shall never forget it. I shall hear the bells of St. Boniface sounding across the continent, and awakening a feeling of gratitude for they generous act. -Jennie Barltrop, in Toronto Mail.
