THE EAST HAMILTON CANDI-DATE.

If "work well begun is half done," the Liberals of East Hamilton have excellent reason to be content with the action of their nominating convention. It was made so plain at the first meeting on Friday evening that Dr. Herbert S. Griffin was the first choice of the party that it would have been a great disappointment, indeed, if he had been unable to comply with the wish of his friends ghhors to make him their te. The adjourned meeting ast night was large and enthusiastic. The name of Dr. Griffin was received with applause, and when he appeared upon the platform and an-nounced his acceptance of the nomination, he could not doubt that the nen who cheered him would work hard to secure his election on May 29th. Dr. Griffin is a man of fine e and good education, successful in his profession and respected by his fellow citizens. He declared his faith in the Ross Government and and promised a clean, gentlemanly contest, so far as his example and dvice could make it so.

Even before the formal nomination of the Conservative candidates, there has been a disposition on that side to ridicule the Liberals and to represent them as entering upon a hope-less battle. Our friends cannot be deceived by that sort of tactics. The Liberals of Hamilton have had very to complain of with regard to their fortune in Ontario politics. Out of the thirty-live years that Con-In Dominion polities, the adyears to the Liberals fourteen This sums come to $6,040,000, every dollar record does not go to prove that Hamilton is overwhelmingly or unatterably Conservative.

In every election something de-

But the main question is whether the Government appealing to the people has $107,000,000 in Canada. so behaved as to deserve a renewal of confidence, or whether a change would be advantageous in the general

They do not believe, and they do not credit intelligent Conservatives with believing any of the fierce election accusations against the truthfulness, integrity, patriotism and purity of Premier Ross and his colleagues in the Government. They are thankful that the business of Ontario has been managed on business principles by business men, who have carefully husbanded the public resources, collecting such them as could be fairly demanded, while at the same time encouraging such development as add to the general while furnishing profitable employ-ment to the working population. The Opposition has found little to criticize, because the Government has done things right and has done them at the right time. Hamilton has nothing to gain from a change of Govcouple of Opposition members to represent her in the Legislature during the last four years.

leader like Hon. G. W. Ross appealing to them on the record of his adminforth their best efforts from now until election day, with fair ground for hope that their work will be crowned with success. The cause and the candidate are all right, but to make victory sure every Liberal elector should feel his own responsibil sty and act as if the result depended

Speaking in North Toronto the other night, Mr. G. F. Marter, for mer leader of the Opposition in the Ontario Legislature, his conviction, on the strength of a legislative experience extending over sixteen years, that it was not good policy to send men to the local House from Toronto to wage a constant and factious opposition upon the Government in power. Afremarking that there was little or nothing upon which the two parties could really be divided, he in how Toronto could expect to get favors from the Administrait? He instanced the case of Ot tawa, which was receiving $460,000 per year from the Dominion Govnt for the purpose only of these men constantly held up to the public as highwaymen, common thieves and robbers."

These remarks are applicable to Hamilton in a degree. This city has been pretty well used by the Ontarlo Government, which deserves some better return than unquali-fied abuse and factious opposition. Occasionally Hamilton has an axe to grind, and in such circumstances it is no detriment to have a friend at court. At all times, Hamilton has as much interest as any othe part of the Province in good gov ernment—better government than she could expect to get from a man like Mr. Whitney, whose political stock in trade appears to consist of slander and calumny,

A NEW NATIONAL POLICY. It is not often that the Canadiar people enjoy the spectacle of the public men of the country, representing all shades of opinion, agreeing entirely upon any question, and the same subject being discussed with unanimity by journals of every class, as has been evidenced during the past few weeks in the agitation upon the subject of Canadian investments in United States securities Public men in both Dominion and Provincial politics have vied with each other, in interviews published and upon public platforms, in advising the investment of Canadian funds in home companies, and declaring that the fruits of the present undeniably prosperous era should be engaged in building up the industries and enter-prises of the Dominion. Events, of Ottawa, recently contained a strikdians to place their insurance with home companies, so that the preof the thirty-live years that Con-federation has lasted, Hamilton has been represented in the Ontario Leg-book recently issued by the Departpears, and by Conservatives for four years, and by Conservatives for four years. The Canadian Casualty Company is born of the present prosperity of the country a prosperity which the continued development of the Dominion ought to maintain, and that its shares are eing so widely accepted and its future so assured will be a source of congratulation to all Canadians. And although the Opposition on several occasions since that time introduced crude resolutions intended as votes of want of confidence on the franchise question, they have steadily made fight against the broadening of the suffrage. The young man owes his voting privilege to the Liberals, and we do not think he will be easily hoodwinked.

Bad weather has no terrors for the East Hamilton Liberals. That meeting was a rouser.

The Liberals have set out to work. They have the votes and they are determined to poll them.

The Mail and Empire assumes that ecause Mr. Whitney was courte-usly received at Chatham he is ously received at going to win the Kents. We do not think Mr. Whitney thinks so.

Those anxious looking men you meet in the street are Grits. The Tory may be known by his cock-of-the-walk strut.—Spectator. The wise man said something about pride going before a fall.

Last week Mr. Colquhoun rejoiced n the certainty that he had staunch friends, who would stick to him through thick and thin. Will they be to the fore at the Tory convention to-night?

Organization is all very well, but it is individual work that counts. Let each man in the Liberal ranks feel that he has a personal duty to perform in securing the redemption of East Hamilton.

We are not prepared to make pre water not prepared to make pro-tictions in these days of surprising hanges. We have seen the spots necked off the free trade leopard and even the cooling free trader of the hamilton Times become a "freer rade" vampire.—Ottawa Citizen. Half a loaf better than no bread, as it were.

Pay no heed to the bluffing and boasting of the Tory organs. Work, and continue to work until every Lib eral vote is polled on May 29, and the disgrace of having East Hamilton represented by an opponent of good government and progress will be wiped out.

Mr. Whitney and his friends say they are going to make a great effort to secure a pure election. We hope they will succeed. If the William Smiths and the Chamberlains and that like are kept away by their executions. We have the surface of the secure and the control of the secure and the chamberlains and that like are kept away by their executions. and that ilk are kept away by their bosses there will be some grounds to hope for a fair election.

Mr. Pirie's Shaksperian quotation about the "lean and hungry Cass--lus" rather caught the boys last night. The Dundas man's speech was good one, though it was cut off amidships by the arrival of the can-A foolish Tory organ says the Lib-didate in the hall. Hamilton audibe invited.

vented it from making such a stateand which his organs repeat as if it were the ultimate of statesmanhold and hold enough to be honest, mained at home and helped to work by remarking that it is "nothing multiplied by two."

There were by the last printed annual report 1,191 retail liquor dealers in Maine, a prohibition State, fifteen wholesale dealers, two rectifiers, five breweries, two hundred and sixty retail dealers and twenty-nine wholesale dealers in malt liquor. Who do the drinking? Have we not been

It's a pretty shaky affair.—Kingston Whig. But it is an evidence that the organs feel, keeply, the handkan of gans feel keenly the handicap of barrenness of their field.

The Spectator does not see the Government's development schemes succeeding. It is annoyed because there is a big inrush o people to the Sault, where Mr Clergue looks forward to seeing great city in the near future. The Spec's, comment on the inflow of settlers is: "Clergue is importing hundreds of men from Europe to pull down Canadians' wages at the Britain is a pretty good customer of the Canadian farmer. Her importa-tions of wheat and flour in the last two years were as follows:

Wheat £2,206,878 £2,216,048 Wheat and flour 570,680 $28,611
The only reason that these figures are not doubled is that we had not the wheat to sell. Wait till our Northwest has a few years more of growth under Liberal government.

Now that an election is on in Ontario we are surprised to learn from the Tory organs of that Province that the Hom G. W. Ross is a bold, bad man and the Ontario Government a mest of corruption. Down here by the sea we all, irrespective of party lines, have the idea that Ontario has been the best governed province in the Dominion. Certainly its legislation has been copied by every other province in the Dominion.—St. John Telegraph.

That is the idea that prevails up

That is the idea that prevails up ere too, and that's why the Tory organs are in a state of mind.

Mr. Whitney could not keep his followers together toward the end of last session. Four of them deserted him and refused to be driven in opportunity sition to the Ross Government's policy of development of the country's resources. Messrs. Martin, Allen, Car-negle and Fox would not go out with their leader on the division on the granting of aid to the short lines of railway into New Ontario. Mr. Whitney does not make this defection a matter of platform talk.

The Mail and Empire reports Mr. Whitney as saying that he has "positive knowledge that in return for the favors shown the corpora-tions in respect to the scrap-iron matter, the Government had re-ceived heavy contributions to the campaign fund." Evil associations are destroying his candor. had had the slightest grounds for suspicion of such a thing the Province would ere this have ringing with it. That sort of thing
