1. The London Quarterly Review (Conservative).

2. The Edinburgh Review (Whig).

3. The North Britist Review (Free Charch).

4. The Westmander Review (Liberal).

5. Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine (Tory).

Those Reprints have been in successful operation in this country for teenby year's, and their circulation is constantly cathe increase, netwithstanding the competition they encounter from American periodicals of a similar class, and from the numerous Eclectics and Magazines made up of selections from foreign periodicals. This fact shows clearly the high estimation in which they are held by the intelligent reading public, and affords a guarantee that they are established on a firm basis, and will be continued without interruption.

Although these works are distinguished by the political shades above indicated, yet but a small partice without interruption.
