SCENTIFIC AMERICAN

If June 1 and a state of the design of the design of the state of the state

About one-third of the life of man is spent in sleep. About one-third of the life of man is spent in sleep. About one-third of the life of man is spent in sleep. He who lives to reach the age of three-score years and ten, will have spent more than twenty-three years much they are needed upon the farm. There may farme in the elder States that want from the hundred dollars this month expended at to dig and cart muck, and the money so led with ordinary good judgment in the mannet, would be certain to pay ten per cent until the was refunded. "To the muck mines," should watch word on every worn out farm this month watch word on every worn out farm this month that is not the mannet, and the mannet, and the mannet, and the individuals who are not decidedly sick, is owing to a want of sufficient and quiet sleep. To precure this should be the study of every one. It is to be feared that the great praise of early rising has had this bad effect—to make some believe that sleep was of but little consequence.

We have herefore stated that, in our opinion, the most frequent and immédiate cause of insahity, and
