A Light Criminal Calendar-The Judge's Charge—The Grand Juror's Present-ment—Another Call for a House of Re-

Before the Honorable Mr. Justice O'Connor The assizes opened on Monday, Octo-ber 4th, 1886

D. McDonald, clerk of assize.

Donald Guthrie, Q. C., Crown counsel. FIRST DAY.

Court opened at 1 o'clock, p. m. by proclamation. The following is a list of THE GRAND JURY :

Alexander Morton, foreman, John Bell, Wm. Biggins, J. M. Buchanan, Wm. Wm. Biggins, J. M. Buchanan, Wm. Baker, Wm. Bagshaw, Samuel Broadfoot, Wm. Bailie, Robert Coats, J. C. Laidlaw, Edward McPhai', John Cameron, Wm. Carnochan, Benj. Crawford, Robt, Douglas, L. Hardy, Johnston Noble, Thomas Lapsley, Michael Murdie, Arthur Tindall, George Taylor—sworn.

The crier having made the usual pro-clamation his lordship addressed the jury: He congratulated them upon the fact that the criminal calendar of the county was a light one, and consisted of but one case, a charge of rape. There were other cases which had been left over from previous courts, but he was not dealing with them as new cases before this court. He found that where the lands were well tilled, the crops bountiful, and people industrious and sober there was a consequent diminution of crime, as the people had neither time nor inclination to indulge in evil habits. The crime of tape was too well known to need any lengthy remarks from him. If upon the evidence it was found that the person charged should be placed upon his answer before the petit jury it was the duty of the grand jury to bring in a true bill. They had no right to try the case, but were merely called upon to say whether they believed the prisoner should be placed upon trial or not. He was sorry to observe that there were a couple of persons in jail charged with y. The jail was no place for and it was to be hoped that an early change to a more suitable abode awaited them. The necessary explanations on cases would be made to them by the crown counsel and the county attorney, and everything possible would be done to enable them to come to a just decision on the cases referred to them. On the conclusion of their labors in court, it would be their duty to visit the jail and make a report upon it; after which it would give him pleasure to discharge them and enable them to go back to their homes to resume the labors which they had relinquished when they

Perdue v. Clarke.—The matter complained of was contained in a letter published in the Clinton papers signed by the defendant, Robt. Clarke. It referred was a sister of defendant, and he insinuated that there were circumstances connected with the death of his sister that left grave suspicions of carelessness, or worse, on the part of her husband and Miss Perdue, the plaintiff in this suit. The jury held that the letter was not libellous under the circumstances, and brought in a verdict for the defend Garrow and Scott for pl'ff

Queen, beg leave to aubmit the following presentment:

They have visited the jeil and found it in a attifactory condition both as regards the deasification of the prisoners, and the order and obsessification of the prisoners, thereby reflecting credit upon the management. We found therein three insane persons, and we would recommend their removal as speedily be possible to some asylum, where they may receive better treatment. We also find therein two vagrants, that the poor, aged and infirm are from time to time confined therein for the want of suitable place. We think it a serious reflection upon the humanity of the community that people whose only offence is their poverty should be associated with the criminal class; and we would specially turge the county council to take the matter into consideration and provides a house of refuse at; the earliest possible moment. We congratulate your lordship upon the very light calendar which has been brought before you upon this, your first appearance in our county. All of which is respectfully submitted.
