

Gatlin 3 Day Liquor Treatment IS GUARANTEED.

No matter what your opinion or prejudice may be, the fact remains that the Gatlin 3 Day Drink Treatment does the work. It thoroughly eliminates every vestige of the stored up alcoholic poison from the system in just 3 days, and leaves the patient in the condition he was in before taking his first drink.

THE RESULT IS GUARANTEED AT THE END OF THREE DAYS OR NO CHARGE.

Instead of taking a four or five weeks' course of hypodermic injections, the worst cases are entirely restored to normal condition by the Gatlin Treatment in exactly 3 days. If, at the end of that time, the results are not entirely satisfactory to the patient, the Treatment will not cost a cent. This Guarantee of satisfaction is backed by a responsible concern with large capital.

The Gatlin Home Treatment is for those who cannot find it convenient to come to the Institute. Certified Nurse can be sent within a reasonable distance, without extra charge.

NORWICH, Nov. 14.
The question of woman suffrage was discussed at the annual Unionist Conference, opened here to-day, when Lord Robert Cecil tried to secure a pledge to extend the franchise to women. The matter was shelved by the adoption of an amendment making such charges dependent on the express sanction of the elector.

ate. A resolution was carried with three dissentists pledging the Union to a partial discontinuance of payment of members when the Unionists again came into power.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.
Secretary Bryan exchanged messages to-day with Mr. Quesada, Mexican charge d'affaires at Mexico City, about reported concessions, which members of Huerta's officials intimated he would make to the States. The efforts to recall John Lind from Vera Cruz to Mexico City to discuss the American memorandum demanding that the new Mexican Congress should not convene are taken here to indicate that a group surrounding Huerta would suggest a compromise arrangement whereby new Mexican concessions may be made and other measures be taken calculated to continue Huerta in power. The officials are silent about the inner negotiations, but were optimistic, that while the U. S. might refrain from making any suggestions of its own, it would endeavor to act as medium of communication through William Bayard Hale, General Carranza, and O'Shaughnessy, so that there might be an exchange of views upon various matters. There was a report to-day that Foreign Minister Mohna might be the man selected, though the views of the Constitutionalists as to Mohna's acceptability are not known.

Asking for it Niceley.

A well-known racehorse owner said to a veterinary surgeon:
"How is it you haven't called on me for your account?"
"Oh, said the vet, 'I never ask a gentleman for money.'
"Indeed! Then how'd you get on if he don't pay?"
"Why, after a certain time I conclude he's not a gentleman, and then I ask him."

CHRONIC BRONCHITIS

Cannot be cured with ordinary soothing syrups. The disease must be attacked at the root to eradicate the irritation of the lungs, heal the wounds and strengthen the respiratory organs. The composition of
of Tar and Cod Liver Oil and other Medicinal Extracts marks amongst all other remedies as the true specific for the diseases of the throat, the bronchial tubes and the lungs. Here are a few conclusive proofs:

Black & Mercantile Co., Ltd., Amherst, N.S.
Dear Sirs,—We have nothing but good to say of Mathieu's Syrup and can conscientiously describe it as the most popular and successful Cough Medicine we handle. Owing to the absence of any drug store in this vicinity there is a great variety of proprietary medicine sold in the course of the year, and Mathieu's Syrup pre-eminently leads in its own class. Yours sincerely,
D. MARTIN.

AGAINST HEADACHE there is no remedy so active as Mathieu's Nervine powders which contain no opium, morphine or choral. 25 cents per box of 18 powders.

Light for Bell Isle.

Shipping men sailing to and from Wabana complain of the lack of land marks and lights when entering the harbours there and the great danger to steamers and vessels in making a landing. Capt. Berggreen who has been sailing in the Wabana's ore trade for a number of years, has already made representations to the Newfoundland government and received a reply from the deputy minister of Marine thanking him for calling their attention to the matter. There should at least be a fog horn at Bell Isle for the guidance of ships. After passing Cape St. Francis there is no light, bell or signal of any kind to lead a ship into the harbour, and the steamers have to make their landing at their own risk. Indeed it is seldom that there is even a light on the pier to indicate the proximity of the land. In any European port there are several tug boats to meet a steamer to assist her in docking, but here there is rarely a light on the pier to indicate its position.—Sydney Record, Nov. 10.

Killed in Auto Accident.

Yarmouth, N.S., Nov. 8.—This community was horrified this morning by news of the death, by accident, of Earl Weddleton, machinist and chauffeur for the Eastern Motor Co. Early this morning some laborers on the way to their work, passing along Argyle Street, at Salem, found an overturned car, and upon righting it, found in the seat the lifeless body of the unfortunate young man. He was known to have been at the Yacht Club smoker at a late hour, and to have taken the caretaker of the Club to Arcadia, and it is supposed he was returning when the accident happened. The spot where the car was found is at the top of Clark's Hill, in front of the farm of George Little.

The ditches at this part of the road are deep, and there is a high bank in front of Mr. Little's house, and a row of spruce hedge surmounts the bank. The car must have been coming up when the accident happened.

Straight Talk for the Fishermen.

There are to-day in Newfoundland over 125 FAIRBANKS Morse engines, all of which were in constant use this past season. Every one of them gave perfect satisfaction and not even one cost their owners $1 for repairs since installation. They have been operated in all kinds of weather, and have proved our claims that they run as well with water pouring over them as other makes would under ideal conditions. Quite a few have been operated on a mixture of kerosene and gasoline, whilst a considerable number gave perfect satisfaction on pure kerosene. At the Battery, famous last year for buying engines of a certain kind, Fairbanks Morse gave perfect results this summer, and are regarded as "good engines."

We make no extravagant claims or make statements that the Fairbanks cannot substantiate, and when we say that Fairbanks Morse will be the popular engine even at Pouch Cove, we know we are stating facts. Don't take seriously "hot air" selling talk, or pay any attention to abuse, as this latter mode of selling, lately cultivated by some, is the finest compliment that can be paid our engine by competitors. The Fairbanks Morse "Make & Break" engine is the sturdiest, most reliable, most accessible and simplest engine for a fisherman, and as to its durability, it will be running when other engines, even the best of the dreadnought type, are in the scrap heap. If Fairbanks Morse engines are no good, how comes it that there are over 124,000 in successful use to-day? If it is obsolete how is it that nearly 10,000 were sold last year, more than the total output of one largely advertised engine?

If Fairbanks Morse engines are out of date, why are they being bought now for light-houses? You are doubtless thinking about buying an engine, so remember we ask you to buy without first inspecting an engine, so remember we don't accept dreadnoughts, and then come and look at the Fairbanks Morse running with water pouring over it. You will then realize which type is the fisherman's engine.—Nov 14, 1913.

New Title.

On Thursday the firm of Harvey & Co. became registered as a limited liability company, and will now be known as Harvey & Co., Ltd. The change in the title will not affect the general staff or directorate of the firm, and business will be conducted on the same lines as heretofore.

A Great Treat.

A great treat is in store for the George Street congregation to-morrow (Sunday) evening. Rev. Mr. Bartlett will deliver one of his very interesting discourses after which there will be a "Service of Songs," when Miss Story, in her usual fascinating manner, will render a solo. A large congregation is expected to be present on this occasion. The popular organist, Mr. Christian, will preside at the organ.—Com.

Ponderous Personages.

HOMER

By GEORGE FITCH.

Author of "At Good Old Sivas." Homer was a citizen of Greece who lived so long ago that some difficulty is found in celebrating the correct centenary of his birth. He was a blind man, and grew up without many advantages; also without a job.

Homer had a good voice, however, and he could sing the Grecian language with deftness and in a flowing, eloquent manner. Therefore he did not worry about work, but procuring a second hand harp and a pair of newly half-soled sandals he set out through Greece, singing songs of his own composition.

For many years Homer kept up this occupation. It was a healthy life, and he grew old untroubled with dyspepsia or liver complaint, but he endured many hardships. Time after time the police of Aegolis, Ionia and other flourishing communities yanked him up for begging on the streets without a license and gave him the alternative of getting out of town or going to the works. He was ragged and unkempt, his beard looked like a perambulating haystack and whenever he broke the E string of his faithful old harp he had to put up his sandals for security before he could buy a new one.

Homer kept on composing more poetry and putting it to music until he could sing seven or eight hours at one sitting on the same poem. Each year he drew large audiences, and some of the magazines were considering taking up his stuff, when he finally died of old age and inflammatory rheumatism, caused by sleeping on the rocky hillsides of Thrace in the late fall, with a too well ventilated mantle for a quilt.

After Homer died, the people missed him and they began to dig out copies of his poems which he sometimes sold for a night's lodging. The poems read so well that literary critics began to praise Homer, and within a few years he was the greatest poet of his times. His fame kept growing until Grecian towns were compelled by law to read his works at certain festivals, and Aegolis went to war with Ionia because the latter claimed him as an old home boy.

Homer wrote the Iliad and the Odyssey, both full of wonderful adventures, which were not probably entirely true. His trade is still followed by hundreds of blind men who sing on the streets, but who do not become as famous as Homer, for several reasons—one of which is the fact that they insist on singing their own songs, as he did.

To Save Salmon by the Million

Ottawa, Nov. 7.—Remedial works carried on jointly by the Dominion and Provincial Governments are obviating the threatened destruction of millions of sock-eyes salmon on the Fraser River, in British Columbia. The usual run was blocked by blasting, incidental to the Canadian Northern Railway construction, and promised to seriously affect the industry by preventing access to the spawning grounds.

During the summer new channels and runways have been constructed, and through these the sock-eyes pass up to the head waters of the Fraser. It is believed the situation will be saved.
