ARRIVALS OF NEW FALL GOODS

Case after case of new fall goods pouring in upon us. We are making larger preparations than ever for the fall trade. Larger stocks, better stocks and better values.

LADIES' NEW FALL HATS—Latest New York styles just arrived this week; new colors, new styles, new shapes. Some of the most prominent are the Lady Roberts, Pretoria, Kitchner, Buller, Lady Smith, Cape May, Aberdeen, Elrito, Champion, Tally Ho, Chester, Falcon, Lawn, Dakota, Boulevard, Mento Park, &c.

New Fall Dress Goods

The predominating feature of this Dress Goods stock is the vastness of the assortment. There is not a taste that cannot be suited, because the variety embraces every stylish weave and every fashionable coloring. Our Mr. Harris is having great success in his stylish perfect fitting Suits and Jackets. Orders are coming in freely. From the pleasing remarks we hear daily, the ladies of town and vicinity seem to appreciate being able to get a Jacket made to FIT them. Now is a good time to get your suit made before the rush a little later on.

VIENNA.

On September 1st a very enjoyable time was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chivers celebrating the 25th anniversary of their wedding day. Over 150 guests were present. The tables looked beautiful as they were decorated with lovely bouquets. Mr. and Mrs. Chivers received many handsome and valuable presents. We wish them many more years of married life.

Miss Cora Cockran, of Mount Elgin, is visiting friends in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Benner attended the funeral of his son at Corinth on Saturday. He leaves a wife and two children, besides his father, who lives at Vienna, and one brother, Alonzo. Much sympathy is felt for the bereaved family.

Mr. George Coope, of Mount Elgin, was in town on Sunday.

Miss Cora Wisson, of Saginaw, Mich., is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Fred Ramsay.

Mrs. George Nickerson, of St. Thomas, was in town on Sunday.

School opened on Tuesday.

They Speak For Themselves.

Picton, Feb. 17.—This is to certify that I have used Polson's Nerviline for rheumatism, and have found it a valuable remedy for all internal pain, and would greatly advise it to the public.—N. T. KINGSLEY, Leeds Co., Jan. 9.—We are not in the habit of puffing patent medicines, but we cannot withhold our testimony as to the great value of Nerviline as a remedy for pain. We have pleasure in recommending it as a never-failing remedy.—REV. H. J. ALLEN, BENJ. DILTON, and many others. Sold by J. E. Richards.

Letter From South Africa.

Springs, July 22, 1900.
DEAR SISTER,—Had a downpour of letters yesterday. Received four from you. Of course they were a little older than they usually are but that did not make them any the less welcome, you may be sure. I had not received any while in the hospital as they were sent on to the regiment. As you will see I have changed my place of abode again and must say this is by far the nicest part of the country I have yet seen. This part of the Transvaal is known as the Rand. Gold and coal mines are to be seen which ever way you look.

We are garrisoning the place and have our headquarters in the old theatre. It is far ahead of the tents. Last night I had my first experience as patrol in the Vaal—was warned for the railroad patrol and was to start at 8.30 p.m. In company with two more of the boys and a sergeant I started. The patrol was twelve miles, six each way. You will laugh when I tell you how it is traversed. We get on to a hand-car managed by two natives. Now these cars are not managed as those at home, but are simply shoved along by the natives who run along behind. When they get it going at good speed they spring on the car to recover their breath. As soon as they get their wind they are off and begin running again and so they keep it up the entire trip. I enjoyed the trip immensely. We were back and in bed shortly after twelve and spent about two hours there reporting and buying eatables at the store. You can form a slight idea of the speed at which a pair of natives can shove a car with four men on it. The only unpleasant part was a rather obnoxious smell. The poor natives sweat considerably.

That was quite an idea of the Aylmer people in having a Paardeberg on 24th. It would draw the patriotic crowd to that patriotic town. Was it very war-like in your idea? You asked me if I received the EXPRESS regularly; well, no, I cannot say that I do. I have seen one since we left Bloemfontein on the general advance, that would be about April 1st. They must go astary; I am sorry, too.

You say young D—asked if I knew Beecher, of London, well, I guess I do. He is on the hospital staff of our regiment, and a fine fellow, will speak to him just now. They were very kind to us in the hospital, and we were well nursed by the sisters.

Now I will have to close for this time. With love to all, I remain Your loving brother,
HIRAM BURGAR.

Proof Positive.

Proof positive is arrived at in various ways. One method is pleasantly described by a foreign correspondent of The Argonaut. Not far from the harbor of Naples we sighted a rocky islet apparently about two miles offshore. An elderly man approached me on deck and said politely: "Do you know whether this is Mount Vesuvius or not?" I replied with equal politeness, "I don't know what it is, but I do know that it is not Vesuvius." "But," said he with an air of triumph, "if you don't know what it is, how do you know that it isn't Vesuvius?" "Because," I replied, pinning him with my glittering eye, "because Vesuvius is inland and this is outland; because this rock is three miles round and Vesuvius is about 30 miles round; because this is an island and Vesuvius is not, and because Vesuvius is a volcano and this is not." The elderly man sniffed and withdrew.

A Warning.

A few weeks ago a young lad presented himself at the shop of a local butcher and when the burly proprietor appeared gave a small order. "You don't buy so much meat now as you used to," remarked the butcher. "No," responded the lad, "and it's because father has become a vegetarian." "Well, my lad," came the grave rector, "you give your dad warning from me that, as a rule, vegetarians come to a violent end. Take a bullock—'e's a vegetarian. 'Wot's the result? 'Why, 'e's cut off sudden in 'is very prime."—London Standard.

Many Kinds of Figs.

Those who are so particular as to the size and color of the figs they eat may be interested to learn that in California alone there are some 72 varieties grown of all shapes and sizes and of all the colors of the rainbow, and California is not by any means the fig center of the world Tailors' Cutting School.

Chicago, Sept. 1, 1900
Messrs. Yonell & Wrong,
Aylmer, Ont., Canada.

GENTLEMEN,—You will be pleased to learn that your cutter, Mr. Wm. Boettinger, who has been attending our school about a week now, is making rapid progress and gives promise of high proficiency in the art of cutting ladies' garments. We feel sure that when he graduates there will be nothing in the line of ladies' tailor-made costumes which Mr. Boettinger will not be able to execute to the credit of your house as well as to ours.

Faithfully yours,
CHAS. J. STONE CO.
