

Malahide Circuit Notes

Sunday last, Go-to-Sunday School Day and Mother's Day, saw a somewhat increased attendance at both Sunday Schools and services.

The Official Board of the Circuit met last Friday afternoon in Luton church to transact the business of the fourth board meeting. There were 14 present. An important part of the business was connected with the finances of the Circuit, and three of the appointments had everything paid up and the fourth appointment was very close to it, and will straighten all funds up within a week. This means that our annual financial statement can be prepared at once, and it is hoped it may be ready for distribution not later than the first of June.

The general condition of the work fairly good and we will be able to go to District Meeting with a fairly good report of our year's work.

We are very grateful for the loyal spirit of co-operation everywhere and we look forward to a real year's work.

The Young People's League will hold their meeting during the current week on their regular night. The topic in hand is our Missionary program for 1924. Here again we hope to lay the foundations for progress along Missionary lines.

Next Sunday morning service will be held at Luton and evening at Copenhagen. Rev. E. A. Shaw will preach at Dunboynne at 1.30 p.m.; and Rev. Manning will be at Grovesend at the same hour.

Too Many Home Girls

One Reason Why so Many Women are Weak and Run-Down

The work of the woman in the home makes greater demands on her vitality than men realize, and there is always something more to do. No wonder women's backs ache, and their nerves are worn out. No wonder they get depressed and irritable, suffer from headaches and always feel out of sorts. But of course all women are not like that. What is the difference?

A woman with plenty of healthy red blood in her veins finds work in the home easy; her vitality is at par. This points the way to health in women who feel run down and depressed. Make new rich blood. You can do it with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills have the marvelous property of building up the blood and toning up the nerves. That is proved by the case of Mrs. H. Eppinger, Scott street, Vancouver, B.C., who says:—"Dr. Williams' Pink Pills brought back my health and strength and restored my nerves to normal condition after other medicines had failed. It was after the birth of my second child that I became so anemic and nervous that I thought I would lose my mind as well as my strength. I tried several medicines, but got no relief until I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. After using a few boxes of these I could see a change. I felt stronger; my appetite was better. I slept better, and my nerves were stronger. I continued the use of the pills for some time, and again found myself a well woman, and I can sincerely say that my health has since been the best. I can cheerfully recommend the pills to all weak, run down women."

You can get these pills from your druggist or by mail, at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

While Hare watched and thought the hours sped by. Holderness lounged about and Snap kept silent guard. The rustlers smoked pipe and moved about the day waned and the shadow of the cliff crept over the cabin. To Hare the time had been as a moment; he was amazed to find the sun had gone down behind Cocoonia. If August Naab had left the oasis at dawn he must now be near the divide, unless he had been delayed by a wind-storm at the strip of sand. Hare longed to see the roan charger come up over the crest; he longed to see a file of Navajos, plumes waving, dark mustangs gleaming red in the light, sweep down the stony ridge toward the cedars. "If they come," he whispered, "I'll kill Holderness and Snap and any man who tries to open that cabin door."

So he waited in tense watchfulness, his gaze alternating between the way line of the divide, and the camp glade. Out in the valley it was still daylight, but under the cliff twilight had fallen. All day Hare had strained his ears to hear the talk of the rustlers, and it now occurred to him that if he climbed down through the split in the cliff to the bench where Dave and George had always hidden to watch the spring he would be just above the camp. This descent involved risk, but since it would enable him to see the cabin door when darkness set in, he decided to venture. The moment was propitious, for the rustlers were bustling around, cooking dinner, unrolling blankets, and moving to and fro from spring and corral. Hare crawled back to the split. It was a narrow
