Woodstock Times: Woodstock has an electric railway at last. The first car of the Woodstock, Thames Valley and Ingersoll Electric Railway left the temporary eastern terminus of the line at the junction of Vansittart avenue with Dundas street, at 10:30 Thursday morning, to make the initial trip over the finished part of the track from Woodstock to Beachville. The work on the railway has been rapid, and the construction and equipment of it thoroughly practical and solid.

FLAG FLOATED OVER CHURCH

New Peature Introduced in Peterboro on Election Day.

Peterboro, Nov. 9 .- On Sunday evening at St. John's, Rev. J. C. Davidson referred to Wednesday as a national day for performing a national duty. He urged men on that day to rise out of the atmosphere of partyism into that of patriotism, feeling that they had to obey a national call. It was impossible for any man's vote to be "lost," to use a popular expression, if he gave that vote as an act of duty to his country, representing his mature judgment on the issues presented to him. In that spirit let every man act. The church had no interest whatever in the triumph of any political party, but the church had a direct interest in the spirit and way in which men conducted themselves as citizens and voters. Accordingly, the Union Jack was raised on St. John's Church at 9 a.m. on Wednesday, and lowered at

The Daring Schemes of a Fair Italian Prisoner.

Rome, Nov. 9 .- A case of audacious swindling, carried out successfully un-der such extraordinary circumstances as can be attributable only to hypnotic suggestion, is reported from Sassari, in Sardinia.

The heroine of this story, the truth of which is vouched for by the police authorities, is a young and handsome school mistress. Although imprisoned for fraud,, she found her incarceration no obstacle to the accomplishment of other daring operations, making use of her very jailers as tools and accom-

By declaring with the greatest solemnity and appearance of truth that she was a countess unjustly persecuted, and that she was gifted with supernatural powers, which enabled her to fabulously enrich those who had deserved her gratitude, the crafty young woman so completely hypnotized four jailers that they became her emissarles and instruments in a daring operation, by means of which a Naples firm was swindled out of nearly £100. Some suspicion having been aroused, however, the firm sent a representative to Sassari to inquire into the mat-ter, but no sooner had the luckless "commercial" landed at Sassari than e was pounced upon by a dangerous anarchist, on the information of an anonymous letter writ-ten by the self-styled countess.

After three days passed "in durance vile," the representative of the Naples firm protested so energetically that a thorough investigation was made, and the young man was liberated.

The four jailers are now themselves inmates of the prison, and the strangest part of it all is that they are still firmly convinced of the seeress' pow-

RUFFIANISM IN TORONTO

A Citizen Sandbagged and Robbed on Beverley Street.

Toronto, Nov. 9 .- A daring piece of villainy took place on Beverley street, just below the corner of Cecil street, on Tuesday evening, about a quarter after 8 o'clock, and as a result Mr. W Sidney Ronald, an accountant at the Canada Cycle and Motor Company, is lying at the residence of Mr. Harry Sherris, 201 Beverley street, in a semiconscious condition.

At the time mentioned Mr. Ronald, who lives at 142 Robert street, was coming down Beverley street, intend-ing to make a call at Mr. Sherris'. As he approached the house he noticed the figure of a man dodge in the small gateway leading to the entrance. He followed in when he reached the place, and was immediately confronted by the man and ordered to "shell out." As Mr. Ronald did not seem so disposed, he was, without more ado, clutched by the throat, and a weapon, evidently a sandbag, descended on his head, knocking him senseless.

It could not have been many minutes afterwards when Mr. Sherris' young son went casually to the front door, and noticed the figure lying prostrate on the grass with his head near the foot of the steps. He ran down the steps and found Mr. Ronald groaning, with his gloves pulled off, his open, and pockets turned inside out, his watch hanging out on the ground, and a quantity of small change scat-tered about. The sound of retreating could be had of the man, as he had evidently turned the corner of Cecil street.

Mr. Ronald was carried into the house and Dr. Clouse called. Fortunately the dull instrument had failed to inflict more than a very severe bruise, and render him unconscious, and after some time he became so far himself to intimate that a valuable solitaire diamond ring had been pulled from his finger and had disappeared with the scoundrel. Every indication shows that the daring footpad must have been disturbed and frightened off. Rheumatism in all its forms is promptly and permanently cured by

THE TURF.

AT NEW YORK. New York, Nov. 8 .- Mitchell, the jockey, held the center of the stage at the Aqueduct race track today. He scored five wins out of five mounts, and his followers reaped a rich reward. He had the mount on Prince Richard, favorite in the first race, and, getting off in front, made all the running, and won easily from Uncle He duplicated the feat with Roe Hampton in the second. He was at 5 to 1, and again made every post a winning one. Brandy Smash, the hot favorite, ran second to the last furlong pole, but Orienta beat him for the place. Mitchell did not have a mount in the third race, which Hesper, the favorite, won easily from Dorando, thanks largely to all the best of a bad start. He won the last three, how-ever, with McMeekin, Helen O'C. and Kirkwood. Imp was a starter and a 1 to 2 favorite in the fourth race, at 11/2 miles, but McMeekin beat her handily at the end, after running neck and neck with her for the entire dis-Compensation, the only other starter, was beaten off. The starts in the last two races were so bad that half the field in both never had a chance when the flag fell. Mitchell was off well with Helen O'C. in the fifth, and led all the way, but in the last he was far back at the first turn. but gradually threaded his way to the front, and at the end won eleverly by two lengths from Ceylon, the favorite. The track was good.
