New York, June 28.—The market reflects considerable irregularity, although there is a fairly firm under-tone. The whole list has acted fairly well, with some buying in the standard shares, but there have been no important demonstrations on either bull or bear side. The Harriman shares have been the feature. With a continuation of the sharp movement in Reading the market reacted some. The market reflected some readjustment of stocks traded in here by Europe.

An Explanation. Mrs. Ellen Callaghan, of 20 Pipe Line road, states that the fire which occurred at her house recently, was not due to a young lady setting fire to her "rat" with a match. Mrs. Callaghan states that she was not at home at the time the fire broke out, and that she has no young lady living with her. She thinks the blaze must have been caused by lightning. The damage, she says, was not to the walls and clothes, but to a mirror, a bureau and the contents of the bureau drawers. TODAY A SCORCHER 86.5 IN THE SHADE

But It Is Not as Warm as ou Monday of Last Week.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the thermometer at the local observatory registered 86.5 degrees, and with the exception of last Monday, when mercury climbed to 88.5, today is the warmest of the season.

The thermometers down town in the glare of the sun, and hemmed in by the pavements and buildings, registered considerably higher, and at 2 o'clock a thermometer on Richmond street near Dundas, showed 94.5.

All morning long there was not a zephyr, and people who were compelled to be out of doors felt the heat most oppressive.

Good Old Ice Cream.

The ice cream parlors did a record breaking business, and in some of them it was impossible to get a seat without waiting. People viewed the iceman with envy as he rolled along in a wagon piled high with ice, but, contrary to expectations, he seemed to feel the heat as much as anyone, and repeatedly mopped his forehead. The physicians say that such weather is hard on many of their patients. Both hospitals at the present time are

At the local observatory, however, it is stated that a fast falling barometer ndicates coming storm and at least a temporary change to cooler weather.

RAILWAY BOARD WILL NOT MIX IN MATTERS

City and London Street Railway Must Settle Their Differences, Says Solicitor. The north end extension is not settled finally, but will again come before the city council, and that body will have to decide on the merits of the case, not the railway board. Ald. Ferguson had a consultation with the city solicitor on the matter, and he advised him against going to He pointed out that the question of mileage was already settled, and the board would have little or nothing to say on that feature of the case.

He further pointed out that the city had the right to say what sreets should be traversed, not the board, and consequently there was nothing to Got Together.

Mr.Meredith thought they should get together again and try and come to some arrangement. If a deadlock resulted there were two courses open. The council could either ask the board of railway commissioners to decide on the deadlock, of they could wait until the census of 1911 and then demand "Mr. Meredith advised us against going to the railway board," said Ald. Ferguson. "The question of mileage is already settled, and by the agreement we must get a mile of track for every 2,000 population. As for the merits of the extension in the north end, we have the right to say what streets must be traversed, and only in a case of a deadlock should be appeal
