You owe it to your own best judgment to try Psychine (pronounced Si-keen). We'll gladly buy a 50-cent bottle from your druggist and give it to you free to try.

You know the "know-it-alls." Suspectives of everybody and everything. They promised well at one time in their career, then they seemed to come to a full stop.

Just because of that unhappy distrust, that suspicion that won for them the same attitude in return, that made every one distrust and dislike them. Now you're not a "know-it-all." Only about one per cent. of the people are.

We feel sure that you have an open receptive mind—one that is anxious to learn more, to advance.

And to you we say that you owe it to your own best judgment to try Psychine.

Every now and then we come to a certain epoch in medicine when we think advance or improvement impossible.

Then some one comes along and the whole school of medicine is overturned, new and apparently indisputable theories, all good, all progressive.

In the progress of medicine we sometimes discover new values in old things.

One of these is in the efficacy of certain herbs to cure disease.

And the reason they cure is that they increase and strengthen the white corpuscles of the blood—the Phagocytes—the scavengers of the body, devouring every germ of disease that gains entrance to the body.

A third of a century ago, Psychine was compounded of certain herbs.

Since that time it has cured hundreds of thousands.

And all because it contained those herbs that science now knows build up and strengthen the white corpuscles of the blood—the Phagocytes.

If you have any of these ailments don't be a "know-it-all," it won't pay you.

Learn something at our expense, fill out the Coupon and mail to us.

Now, we don't ask you to take our word for the tremendously beneficial effect of Psychine. Fill out the coupon below, mail it to us and we'll give you a 50-cent bottle of Psychine from your druggist at an order (for which we pay him the regular retail price) for a 50-cent bottle of Psychine to be given you free of cost.

warning from a dozen throats as the loaded cars approached. Passengers made no attempt to get out, as in deed they could not, owing to the speed maintained. A shower of stones greeted belt line car 655, and a lot of people must have been struck or cut with flying glass, as practically every window was broken. The same proceeding was continued at this corner until a dozen cars had their windows broken.

About twenty Church street cars were stalled between Richmond and Shuter at 11 o'clock by the blocking of the switch at Richmond, and the windows of every one were demolished before a policeman bore in sight.

Two Women Injured.

Early in the disturbance two women were struck by the cars. They were riding down Yonge street, and were carried from the car at Queen street to a taxicab and driven away. One of them was bleeding from a wound on the head.

At the corner of Richmond and York a switch was disabled by the mob, thus blocking a couple of dozen Yonge street cars which the employees were trying to get to the back by a circuitous route. All the windows were broken.

A woman was struck by a policeman's baton while the crowd of spectators was being rushed down Yonge from the corner of Queen. At this stage the window of the New York Clothing Company's store on Yonge street was wrecked by the jam.

A young man was struck by an officer when the Knox Company's window was broken. He was taken to St. Michael's Hospital, bleeding freely. Another youth was struck on the head in front of the Williams Restaurant, above Queen, and laid out. He was carried into the restaurant and soon revived. He gave the name of George J. McCartney, 91 McCaul street.

During a lull in the demonstration a policeman charged a crowd along Queen street west for half a block. He had just turned to walk back when he was hit on the side of the head with a brick. The officer was stunned, and as he reeled and was about to fall he was caught by several bystanders. A murmur of disapproval rose from dozens of people who witnessed the assault.

Among the most seriously injured are: Constable Rainey, neck cut; Constable H. Holmes, head cut; Conductor George Hatcher, jawbone fractured; Allan Love, 8 Barr street, head bruised; David Stevenson, 163 Niagara street, head cut; James Atkinson, 116 Wellesley street; Charles Mathers, 33 Davenport road, eye and left ear cut; William Copeland, 508 Markham street, nose broken and lips cut. Among those arrested are: Stanley Leonard, 113 Bolton street; Archibald Bowden, 113 Bolton street; Charles Mitchell, 588 Church street; Samuel Prince, 80 Dundas avenue; George Jones, 23 years, 36 Beverley street; Horace Fisher, 42 Oak street.

SIMPLE SERVICES AT MRS. EDDY'S FUNERAL

Leader of Christian Scientists Buried in Mount Auburn Cemetery.

[Associated Press.] Boston, Dec. 8.—After services attended by a large number of members of her household, officials of the Christian Science Church, and Publishing Society, and her personal students residing in Greater Boston, the body of Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy was placed today in the receiving vault at Mount Auburn Cemetery. The funeral services at the Chestnut Hill home at 11 o'clock, were simple, and were conducted with quiet dignity. There were about 120 persons present. Long before the time for the service to begin the holders of cards of admission began to arrive. At 11 o'clock all were in the residence ready for the first words from Judge Clifford P. Smith, first reader of the mother church, who conducted the services. A great hall divided in the rear parlor, in the bay window, was the casket of massive bronze containing the body of Mrs. Eddy. Upon the casket which was draped with white, her grandchildren, and her adopted son, having seen the well-known face yesterday afternoon, placed a bunch of pink roses from the members of the household. This was the only floral offering to be seen.

Funeral Service. Judge Smith began the services by the reading of a lesson—sermon composed of selections from the Bible and correlative passages from "Science and Health, With Key to the Scriptures."

The scriptural selections included verses from Psalms xlii, beginning: "He that dwells in the secret place of the most high shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty."

Other selections were: John, xlii, 34, 35, and John, xlii, 15 to 21.

Passages from "Science and Health" were followed by silent prayer, and the repetition of the Lord's prayer by all present.

Dead Leader's Poem. The poem by Mrs. Eddy, "Mother's Evening Prayer," was then read by Mrs. Carol Hoyt Powers, second reader of the mother church.

This concluded the services, and the casket was then carried out of the door to the hearse, and the journey to Mount Auburn Cemetery was begun.

There was no service at the receiving vault other than the reading of the Twenty-third Psalm by Judge Smith, and the last verse in Jude: "To the only wise God our Saviour, be glory and majesty, dominion and power, both now and ever," given as a benediction.

The casket was then taken within by the pallbearers, the vault was sealed, and there a guard will be maintained until the time chosen for the final resting place of the body. The management of the cemetery closed the gates before the arrival of the casket, and excluded from the grounds all who were not of the funeral party.

spect at the factory, where any alterations can be made instead of having the changes effected on the field. The county engineer was instructed to investigate the request of Mr. Root, a painter who took the contract for Byron bridge, and found himself many hundred dollars out of pocket.

A report will be made at the January session.

The special committee on the renewal of the fire insurance on the county properties made their report, which was adopted. An inventory of the different county buildings and their contents had been made and having been submitted to the committee, they were of the opinion that the insurance covering the risks of the county, according to the schedules, did not adequately protect the property. A new schedule was drawn up, with the assistance of the engineer, increasing the insurance from $54,000 to $66,000.

The new schedule was adopted by the committee and endorsed by the council, places the risk on the court house and contents at $12,000, $4,200 on the jail and contents, and $5,000 on the county building; $3,000 was the amount placed on the contents of the county buildings, while $50,000 was placed on the House of Refuge and contents, live stock, etc.; $800 was placed on the residence of the night watchman of the jail.

Among other things discussed was a circular sent out by Mr. J. J. Kelso, of Toronto, the superintendent of the Neglected and Dependent Children of Ontario. In the circular Mr. Kelso asks the opinion of the societies as to the advisability of a law prohibiting children under sixteen years of age from attending moving picture shows, owing to the fact that many of the pictures are obscene in appearance and immoral in their tendencies. It was the unanimous opinion of the Norfolk society that many of the pictures shown are not only beautiful to behold but educative and uplifting in character, and that strenuous efforts should be made to stop the manufacture and sale of all others.

Members of Lambton Body Transacted a Great Deal of Business.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Sarnia, Dec. 8.—The Lambton County Council met at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, and with but a short interval for lunch, kept steadily at work until 5:30 p.m., when they adjourned until Friday morning to attend the Guelph Fat Stock Show as a body. A great deal of work was finished.

Charles McLean, reeve of Forest, reported Theford bridge completed for traffic, but not in a record with the contract and recommended that the balance due the contractor be retained until the work is up to specification. Carried.

John McCallum, reeve of Alvinston, reported that the recovering of Alvinston bridge was satisfactory, and recommended payment of balance due contractor. Carried.

Neil McGugan, reeve of Sombra, brought up an important matter when he asked the council to sustain its appropriation of $10,000 towards the construction of a bridge over the north branch of the Sydenham River at Beecher, towards which the Provincial Government has made a grant of $5,000. The bridge is to cost $20,000, and an appeal through Mr. Fardece to the Dominion Government for $5,000 having been refused, Sombra Township has laid a question before Judge Maclellan whether Kent County shall be liable for a share of the cost of the bridge.
