Predict Liberal-Farmer Coalition In Manitoba

MAJOR PARTIES FIND LIBERALS IN ASCENDANCY

Battle Waged by Premier Norris Has Depleted Ranks of Farmers.

FUSION LOOMS CERTAIN

Conservatives Assured Of Third Place in Election On Tuesday.

Special to London Advertiser.

Winnipeg, Man., July 14.—Manitoba is again on the verge of electing a coalition Legislature.

With three major parties, Liberals, Farmers and Conservatives, endeavoring to gain control of the Legislature, and the remote possibility of any of them doing so, the last days of a three-months election campaign finds political seers already speculating as to the possibilities of a fusion between the Liberals and Farmers following the elections.

When the Norris government was defeated on the floor of the Legislature last March indications were then that the United Farmers of Manitoba would sweep the country.

Four cabinet ministers announced their withdrawal from public life, and Premier Norris, along with his chief lieutenant, Hon. C. D. McPherson, minister of public works, was practically to face the Farmer tide alone.

A provincial convention of Liberals was called by the Dominion Liberal Association, and Norris was endorsed as provincial leader.

Since that time the premier, along with old-time Liberals, have been making an intense battle for supremacy at the polls, and the result has been that the support which the farmers had reckoned on obtaining has been transferred to the Liberal party.

An accurate forecast as to the outcome of the elections in Manitoba yesterday is somewhat hazardous, owing to the many three-cornered fights and the appearance of new parties into the field. Indications, however, are the United Farmers of Manitoba and the Winnipeg wing of the organization, the Progressives, will return the largest group to the Legislature, with the Liberal party second in strength, Conservatives third in voting power, with Labor a close fourth.

Independent candidates who are seeking support on account of the views on the sale of liquor, will also be evident in the next house.

The Manitoba Assembly is composed of 55 members, 10 of whom are elected from Winnipeg, and in order to have a clear majority it would be necessary for a party to elect 28 members.

POLICE SEARCH OTTAWA FOR MONTREAL BANDITS

Big Reward is Offered for Information Concerning Robbers.

Montreal, July 14.—Private and city detectives engaged in the search for the men who on Friday last held up the paymaster of the Dominion Textile Company and robbed him of a satchel containing $29,000, are now at work in the vicinity of Ottawa. Information was received today that the robbers were supposed to be in this direction.

In order that anyone having information which might lead to the arrest and recovery of part of the money, a substantial reward is being offered by the insurance company who had to pay the loss.

Minister of Labor Appoints Able London Lawyer As Chairman of Board.

8,000 Stationary Firemen in U. S. To Join Strike On Monday.

BULLETIN.

Ottawa, July 14.—D'Arcy Scott of Ottawa, was this morning appointed by the minister of labor to act as chairman of the board of conciliation between the Canadian Pacific Railway and its station agents, telegraphers, dispatchers and linemen. U. E. Gillen of Toronto, represents the company, and David Campbell, Winnipeg, represents the men. The subject of the dispute relates to wages.

Ottawa, July 14.—The reduction in wages in the shop trades, which had been put into effect on the United States railways, will not go into force on the Canadian section of the line which is being conducted into the dispute between the company and its Canadian employees under the industrial disputes investigation act.

Word to this effect was received by the minister of labor this morning in a letter by General Manager Speaker of the Michigan Central. The board of conciliation is now fully constituted, J. M. McEvoy, K.C., of London, having been appointed chairman by the minister of labor, as the representatives of the company and the employees could not agree upon the choice of a presiding officer.

The company is represented by D. T. Macdonald of Hamilton, and the employees by W. D. Robbins of Toronto.

Warren, manager of the motor bus company running between Woodstock and London, appeared in police court this morning charged with operating a bus line and refusing to carry passengers to a point not on his line of traffic. At the request of J. M. McEvoy, K.C., the case is adjourned one week to July 21.

TRIES TO KILL MILLER AND ON BASTILLE DAY

Anarchist Fires Three Times At Carriage of Police Prefect of Paris.

ESCAPES FATAL BEATING

Paris, July 14.—Considerable excitement was caused during the return of the presidential cortege from the military review at Longchamps, when an unidentified man fired three times at the carriage of Armand Naudin, police prefect of Paris, which was proceeding the carriage of President Millerand.

The assassin, who was about 20 years old, and appeared demented, was arrested after having been beaten badly by the crowds.

He was found to be Gustav Bouvet, an anarchist, well-known to the police, and shot in the belief that it was President Millerand at whom he was aiming. None of the shots took effect.

The dense crowd around was at first terrified by the shots. Then it turned upon the man who had fired them, and he was being beaten to death by the enraged spectators when the police came up and seized him.

Honor Bastille Day.

Soldiers of France from the land, sea and air forces passed in review today before President Millerand and a crowd of hundreds of thousands of persons at the Longchamps race course for the annual 14th of July military pageant, the chief feature of Bastille Day.

Three marshals of France—Foch, Joffre and Pétain, were present to see the marshal's baton presented by the head of the state to Generals Foyatier and Franchet d'Espèrey.

A big yellow dirigible, three squadrons of military airplanes and an observation balloon hovered over the vast field, while on the green lawn of the trees of the Bois de Boulogne, 20,000 men with a mass of war material, marched for an hour and a cheering people and the thickly massed crowds that encircled the field and darkened the surrounding slopes.

The martial spirit of the many thousands of veterans came to the surface when 14 massed bands struck up the Marseillaise as President Millerand, in his carriage of state, with outriders and a guard of honor, drove on to the field, while the regular cannonading of the presidential salute sounded like great drums keeping time to the music.

Later as the bands passed, leading their own units, the contingents of veterans sang the songs to which they had marched during the war.

Premier Poincaré and the other cabinet members were present, together with hundreds of notable men from all walks of life and most of the foreign ambassadors.

SUSPECT MAKING OF "MOONSHINE"

Provincial Authorities Allege Operations Being Conducted Near Muncey Reserve.

Alleging illicit manufacture of "moonshine" in a wholesale fashion, provincial authorities, it was reported Friday, will conduct another thorough investigation in the Muncey reservation district.

While the case against an Indian resident of the reserve, involving a barrel of alleged "mash," recently confiscated by northwest mounted police, has been quashed by orders from the department of inland revenue, Ottawa, the authorities intimate that their activities in West Middlesex in this respect are by no means completed.

That persons, other than Indians, are operating stills and disposing of their product in that district, is the firm belief of the officers who have been more or less conversant with conditions in the vicinity of the reservation during the past weeks, by reason of visits there for suspected cattle rustlers.

In addition to the alleged liquor traffic a veritable epidemic of law-breaking has been noted in the western section of the county during the past few weeks, the authorities state, while three Indians are at this moment awaiting trial at the next sessions for various offences, ranging from theft to breaking lawful arrest, warrants have been issued for another three, who have in the meanwhile, however, quietly departed for distant points.

LONDON, July 14.—Considerable amusement was aroused in society circles here today when it was ascertained that Lady Bathurst, only woman in England owning a newspaper, the London Morning Post, raises pedigreed goats as a hobby.

PICK GUTELIUS FOR RAIL POST

Washington Hears Premier King and Hon. W. C. Kennedy Have Decided Presidency.

Builder of Crow's Nest Pass a Railroad of Rare Executive Ability.

Special to London Advertiser.

Washington, D. C., July 14.—That Frederick Gutelius, vice-president and general manager of the Hudson & Delaware Railway, is slated for the presidency of the Canadian National Railways when that road is co-ordinated with the Grand Trunk Railway is rumored in well-informed railroad circles here today.

It is said here that a few days ago Premier W. L. Mackenzie King and the Hon. W. C. Kennedy, paid a flying visit to New York where a conference was held with Mr. Gutelius. The result of the conference is not known, but a prominent American railway official stated today that the premier and the Canadian minister of railways and canals are doing everything in their power to induce the builder of the Crow's Nest Pass to return to Canada.

Railway officials in this city regard Mr. Gutelius as a likely candidate for the president's chair of the reorganized Canadian National Railways, as he is generally recognized as a man of rare executive ability and a practical railroadier.

Won Degree in 1887.

Mr. Gutelius received the degree of C. E. from Lafayette College in 1887, and for eight years held important posts in various railroads in the United States.

From 1885 to 1898 he was divisional superintendent of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and in 1902 Turn to Page 2, Column 2.

Issues Regulations On Dress Of Ottawa Nurses

BANS SHORT SKIRTS.

OTTAWA, July 14.—"A nurse's profession is one of the highest held by women, and that is one of the reasons that I think girls who are preparing themselves for this noble calling should dress in a fitting manner and not imitate the woman of the street," said Rev. Felix De Valois, superior of the Ottawa General Hospital, in an interview.

On July 6 she issued an order for the nurse's dress, reading: "After Aug. 6, all nurses in training will be strictly required to wear, when they are not on duty, dresses with sleeves covering at least three-quarters of the arms' length, not decollete, and no shorter than nine inches above the ground."

"All those who do not care to comply with this regulation are requested to advise me at once, so that I may give admission to others who want to come and follow the courses here."

Other city hospitals state that no such rules have been issued to their nurses in training, but that it is expected of them to dress in a sensible manner becoming to their profession.

A summary by provinces for the week ended July 8, follows: Dominion, $4,040,000; Alberta, $545,500; British Columbia, $455,000; Ontario, $2,227,500; Quebec, $55,000; Saskatchewan, $665,000.

Playing Bowl of Soup To Win At Windsor

BY AN OPPONENT OF VICE.

WELL, FOLKS, me and Joe went to the horse races at Windsor on Thursday. Some folks took their children to Ringling's circus so they could show them the animals, so I went with Joe to see the horses run.

We got on the train at the station here, a most natural thing to do, and when the conductor came to take our tickets, he says, "So you're going to see the ponies?" I told him I had important business to transact in the Border City and tried to look like a man who was going to swing a million-dollar deal. I could see I hadn't pulled a new one, for he remarked that there was a big heap of important business going on in Windsor. After that I tried to look wise and went into the traveling kitchen that trails this train.

I ordered pretty heavy in there, and when the waiter got the derick to bring my platter to attention, he remarked that it was a good thing to have a square meal on the way down for a lot of folks had to travel empty on the way back. And all this just because I was going to take care of Joe.

WELL, in due time we arrived at Windsor, and on the way down we had picked up so many big business men that we had quite something resembling a jail delivery when we got to that place. Joe says we better have a taxi to the track because we may have to walk back. This was carried without a struggle. Joe paying for the hack.

Arrived at the grounds. Paid $2.00 to get past the doorkeeper of the temple, bought one racing form, one entry card, one sure-thing tip sheet, one drink of orange juice and then went in to demonstrate how these places can still run and pay big money to the winners, the directors, the jockeys, the trainers, and leave a little over for Peter Smith to hand over to Mr. Raney.

First race was still a half hour off. Had splendid change to see a tip. Play Bowl of Soup to win. Did. After while Bowl of Soup came parading past with a jockey on his neck. Looked good and was pleased with the outfit of said jockey. Looked as though he had been used as a molding board for a quilting bee. As they were passing I says to the jockey, "Go it, Soup, my word is in your hands." Of course, I'd just gone down with Joe to see the races, but here was a chance to go home bulging with sucker money, and the only time I ever made any easy money before was when I got $2 for my vote and then stayed at home.

I WAS right down close to the rail because I wanted to have first chance to get out on the track when the race was over and yell "Good boy, Soup." Well, they got them all strung across the road in front of a wire after one man had played a few blasts on a trumpet and away they went. Bowl of Soup along with them.

For quite a spell I couldn't get the life of me where my nag was, but when they came down the stretch I yells out, "Come on, Soup," and took a look around to see that they hadn't moved the money slots. For the life of me I couldn't see where Soup was because he certainly wasn't leading the procession. Finally he came along well toward the rear, but his feet weren't working right or something. I guess Soup was a circus horse used to hopping around in a pen and staying in his place. Anyhow, when I looked at my ticket I found that the man who Turn to Page 2, Column 3.

MENTION TUSTIN AS NEW OFFICER

Authorities Look for Humane Society Inspector to Succeed Palmer.

Will George Tustin, inspector for the London Humane Society, receive the appointment of provincial officer for the county of Middlesex to supplement Arthur Palmer, whose transfer to Whitby, Ontario County, was ordered a week ago by Major-General Williams, commissioner of the provincial force?

While no definite announcement has been forthcoming as yet from headquarters in Toronto, Inspector Tustin's name is persistently mentioned in county police circles as having been seriously suggested for the vacancy.

It is pointed out that in pursuit of his present duties, Officer Tustin has become quite conversant with the county exclusive of the experience that he has gained while rendering assistance during past months to Officer Palmer.

While the latter has been notified of the proposed change, he is not sure as yet, he states, just when he will assume his duties at Whitby.

Questioned Friday afternoon, Inspector Tustin stated that while he had been approached by certain citizens who evinced a desire to recommend him for the vacancy he had told them that he was hardly in the position to accept at this time.

REPORTS LONDONERS ON BOARD STRANDED NORONIC

Northern Navigation Steamer Gets Clear and Resumes Journey Under Own Power.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., July 14.—After lying stranded on Birch Point, in Upper St. Mary's River, all night, the palatial steamer Noronic, queen of the Northern Navigation Company fleet, cleared this morning at 9:30 a.m. standard time and sailed into the New Ontario dock here under her own steam.

The Noronic went aground in a dense fog, which has prevailed here virtually all week, but the ship was not thought to be in any great danger at any time, as the weather, with the exception of the fog, was very favorable.

Most of the passengers on the Noronic are from lower lake points. The following passengers from London are known to be on the ship: Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Ruse, Mr. and Mrs. W. Haddon, Leslie Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. E. de la Hooke, Mrs. M. A. Richardson, Fred Hunt, and a party of young girls, Misses Frances Ruse, Ellen Skelton, Orchard, Minnie and Vera Dobbyn, and Vera Morrison.

IMPORTATION OF BEES PROHIBITED

Ottawa, July 14.—Canadian Press.

Bees may no longer be imported from Europe. This is the effect of an order which has been issued by the minister of agriculture, and it applies to all raw live products, excepting honey and wax. The reason for the restriction is the danger of introducing a contagious disease known as "Foul Brood," which is a deadly malady, which is parasitic in character when once firmly established, is said to quickly exterminate a colony.

COURT CLASSIFIES GOATS AS CATTLE

Winnipeg, July 14.—The question of whether goats come under the heading of cattle is a point which has caused considerable local interest, and the Manitoba Court of Appeals may be called upon to give a ruling.

A. T. McIntosh, as fined $15 in the St. James' police court yesterday for keeping more goats than two, as allowed by a municipal bylaw. The case hinges upon the definition of the word "cattle," for municipalities may legislate only in the matter of nuisance arising from the keeping of cattle and pigs.

AMATEURS GAIN HONORS FOR RADIO TELEGRAPHY

Ottawa, July 14.—(Canadian Press.)—The department of marine announces that eighteen candidates were examined during the month of June, of which the following were among those who obtained certificates of proficiency in radio-telegraphy: First class (amateur)—R. It is pointed out that in pursuit of his present duties, Officer Tustin has become quite conversant with the county exclusive of the experience that he has gained while rendering assistance during past months to Officer Palmer.

IRISH "REBELS" SCORE VICTORY

Capture Limerick Barracks When 54 Free Staters Surrender.

Seven Killed in Fray As Fighting Gains Momentum Throughout South.

Cork, July 14.—Capture of the barracks at Killalock, County Limerick, together with the free state garrison, arms and equipment, is claimed in a Republican dispatch issued this morning.

The regular Republican bulletin given out from Clonmel last night, says the agreement covering Limerick city and the Limerick brigade area has been broken by the free state officers, who signed it, and that fighting is now in progress there.

The Republicans are declared to hold the initiative, and have reinforcements on the way. The bulletin gives the casualties thus far as six free staters killed and five wounded; Republicans, one killed. Six government soldiers are declared to have deserted to the insurgents.

Confirming previous reports of the capture of the free state barracks at Caherelish, County Limerick, the statement says 54 of the garrison surrendered after a fight lasting three hours, and a number of rifles and a large quantity of supplies were taken.

The statement adds: "Our troops now surround Thurles, in which the Free Staters have taken up positions. Fighting is not yet reported, but an early attack is certain. Our columns are also operating around Kilkenny, the enemy not moving out. Railroads are blocked and communications are now impossible for the enemy in that area. Their men are deserting and joining our columns, bringing their arms."

The insurgents admit the loss of the town of Galway, declaring their force there were surprised and lost. Lieut. Donnellan killed and five wounded.

The capture of the Free State posts at Kilmough, with 48 prisoners, and Clonmel, with 24 prisoners, is claimed. Several rifles and ammunition were taken in both places.

Reporting that the government forces captured the Republican barracks at Sligo, the statement says: "One shotgun and a broken revolver fell into their hands, and they arrested three police."

TURK CABINET RESIGNS AS RESULT OF NEW LAW

Angora, July 14.—The Turkish nationalist cabinet resigned yesterday as a result of the adoption by the Angora Assembly of a new law providing that the nomination of the executive council shall be made by Parliament as a whole instead of by the presidential national assembly. The national assembly has elected a new cabinet, in which Reuf Bey succeeds Feizi Pasha as prime minister.

RICHTER WROTH AT BUTTONHOLE APPOINTMENTS

Charges Several Officials Couldn't Get System in Their Heads in Thousand Years.

ADMITS GRANT'S ABILITY

Demands Commissioner Be Given Free Hand To Hire and Fire Staff.

Replying to criticism directed against his scheme, which has been initiated throughout the city for assessment purposes, J. G. Richter informed The Advertiser Friday morning that until Mayor Cameron Wilson and certain members of the city council cease urging the appointment of citizens to positions as assessors who "buttonhole them, belong to the same church or other organization, or who are just good fellows, the Richter system of assessment will result in confusion."

Mr. Richter stated emphatically that his system of assessment demands the employment of assessors who possess a practical knowledge of the work, and that there were several officials on the job this year "who could not get the system through their heads in a thousand years."

He urges that the assessment commissioner be given a free hand "to hire or fire his assessors as he pleases, with the responsibility of assessment placed entirely on his shoulders."

"So long as the assessors are appointed by the city council or anyone else but the assessment commissioner, there is going to be up against trouble," he declared Mr. Richter. "Just because a man belongs to the same church or other organization, or is just a good fellow, and buttonholes the mayor or aldermen for a job is no reason why he can fill it satisfactorily. They should be selected with their actual practical knowledge of the work as a basis."

Must Be Reliable.

"First of all, they must be reliable, with no tendency to trim assessments. They must be directed by a competent assessment commissioner with a free hand to hire or fire his assessors. Admitting that Mr. Stephen Grant is the right man on the assessment commissioner's job he should not be interfered with in any way. Under the present system of making appointments he does not get the best men for the position."

"Many men have been put on assessing who should not have been put on," continued Mr. Richter. "They are kept on the job too long at that. This year there were two or more men on the assessing job who could not get my system through their heads in a thousand years, and so long as this system continues we will get confusion, irregularities and inequities in city assessment."

"Every assessor has his own system of assessment and my scheme was introduced to provide a common system upon which they could all work. Admitting that one system is necessary, you must have it defined and carried out."

Expend Millions Yearly.

"The city council and other representatives on civic bodies expend two million dollars per year. How many of these officials would a company, turning over two million dollars a year, employ? How many of them know what they are doing? About two of them, and yet they take it upon themselves to appoint Turn to Page 2, Column 2.
