LOCAL AND DISTRICT

The Street Car Company placed their open cars on the Dundas street line Saturday. The Police Magistrate discharged one drunk on Saturday and bound over Berney Kelly for threatening language. Prof. Saunders, World's Fair commissioner will be here on Monday and Tuesday next. Coburg defeated Brantford at base ball by 10 to 9 at Brantford on Friday. Ball teams—Humphreys, Mulhall and Brown; Gleason and Sayer. This is expected to be Miss Van Cortlandt's last season in Canada for some time, as her next season will open in the far west and continue to the coast. The following new post offices were established in Ontario on September 1: Adolph, West Middlesex; Deer Lake, East Peterboro'; Nissouri, North Oxford. "There are dozens and dozens of dog-owners who have not paid their taxes yet, and we're going to issue distress warrants against them right away," Inspector Bell said Saturday. Mr. Richard Gibson, the well-known cattle breeder of Delaware, is selecting live stock for the World's Fair. He will be at Ottawa Fair, and will afterwards visit Ottawa on the same mission. The appeal of Dr. Medoff against the Windsor Record was heard at Toronto on Friday, and judgment given for defendants. The case was one of libel heard at the Essex Spring Assizes. Judgment on appeal by the defendant, in cousins vs. Cousins, from an order of the master of the High Court in a summary action requiring the defendant to pay interim alimony and disbursements, his resulted in its dismissal. Costs to the plaintiff in the cause. Mr. W. R. Robeson, of Coborne, an undergraduate of Toronto, and a graduate of Manitoba University, and likewise a first year post graduate of Cornell University, has been appointed to the vacant post on the Mitchell High School staff. Customs Officer McKee, of Windsor, on Friday relieved a man of $10 worth of cutley that he was trying to smuggle. Customs Officers Laing and Thomson also surprised a row-bait smuggler and relieved him of 800 pounds of ham. The confiscated goods will be sold. A son of Thomas Gumb, of West Nissouri, returning from St. Mary's with a wagon load of hams, was stopped by a talk with a neighbor, leaving the team standing on the road. The horses ran away and two wheels passed over Gumb's leg, breaking the bone below the knee. Peter Munroe, an inmate of the London Asylum, watched his chance Saturday got out of the yard where he was working and made his escape. He is about 40 years of age, and came from the neighborhood of St. Thomas. He is not considered either a dangerous or a very hopeless case. The barn and outbuildings belonging to Mr. C. C. Hodgies, Warden of Middlesex, situated on lot 4, concession 2, township of Biddulph, one mile south of Lucan, were struck by lightning on Thursday evening and completely destroyed, together with the contents, including this season's crop. Only a small insurance on contents. Mr. W. E. Reid, of Windsor, who has been very ill for some time, died Friday night. The deceased was an old resident of Windsor, and had been in the employ of the Grand Trunk Railroad over thirty years. He was an Oddfellow of twenty-four years' standing and was the founder of the Grand Trunk Relief sick fund in Windsor. The funeral will take place Sunday. The annual meeting of the Division Court Clerks' Association of Ontario was held in the Legislative Chamber, Toronto. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, W. G. Fraser, Petrolia; 1st Vice-President, G. F. Bruce, Beaverton; 2nd Vice-President, F. W. MacQueen, Woodstock; Secretary, Peter McIntyre, Woodville; Executive Com- mittee, J. Barker, of Kincardine; B. Allen, Owen Sound; J. Stephenson, Unionville; W. Whelan, Centreville, and J. W. Main, Brimpton. At Osgoode Hall on Friday in the suit of Jackson vs. Huron & Middlesex Mutual Fire Insurance Co., Mr. W. W. Fitzgerald (London), for the defendants, the insurance company, appealed from the report of the master at Goderich. Hoyle, Q.C., for the plaintiffs, and Kirwan Martin (Hamilton), for the defendant Huron, contra. The chief question raised by the appeal was as to the costs of certain garnishee proceedings, which are referred to the master for disposition. The master reported that they should be paid by the appellants. The report of the results attained, during the past year by the Houskeepers' Mission may have convinced all who read that a needed and good work is being accomplished through its medium, and at an outlay which must satisfy the most con- siderate. In order that the mission shall be carried on with like success this year, we trust its past friends will send from their stores of canned and preserved goods with the same liberality as hitherto. It is also earnestly hoped that many who have not before contributed will do so. As has been stated, jars of equivalent size and value will be returned upon delivery, the fruit only being asked for. The object of the mission is a most laudable one, which must appeal to the sympathies of all housekeepers, the fruit being distributed to the various homes and also to the sick and aged poor. The mission is to be hoped a generous support will be accorded it. The mission is located in the "Y" rooms, 276 Dundas street, where the fruit is received and distributed.—COM.

CHILDREN AT THE FAIR

The School Boys and Girls Have a Big Time. GETTING EVERYTHING INTO SHAPE. Introductory Review of Ladies' Work and Fine Arts. ATTRACTIONS IN THE RING. The Main Building Given a Casual Glance—Interesting Notes of a General Nature.

Children's Day at the Western Fair was attended by a throng of happy youngsters, numbering three thousand, while their older friends to the number of twelve hundred more were on the grounds during the day. The weather was delightful—clear and warm, and the day was a success. The children's day was a kind of inauguration day with the great show. It brings the first large crowd to the grounds, "breaking the ice" for the immense throngs that visit the Exhibition on the "big" days. And next to the newspapers it's the best advertising wrinkle possible, for the children go home and tell their friends all about what they saw and a little more, an old fair man told a reporter. The first day of the ring attractions held the attention of the older people for the afternoon, but the children spent the entire day among the buildings, roaming among the side-shows or utilizing the seats of the side-shows, and present in great profusion and did a thriving business. The Main Building is frequently the criterion by which a whole exhibition is "sized up," for it is expected to be the greatest of these mammoth shows. But the visitor to the grounds on Saturday could not fairly see the Main Building in coming to a conclusion for much of the exhibit to arrive were not in position, and there were some vacancies here and there that will not exist this week. A great corner of the building, upstairs, was a busy quarter late in the afternoon of Saturday. The Canadian Pacific Railway Company's exhibit had just reached the place on the Toronto Industrial, and a force of men under the direction of District Passenger Agent W. R. Callaway and W. F. Dockrill, Travelling Passenger Agent, Toronto, were unpacking large cases and bringing to light many things that will serve to interest visitors for the next few days. The exhibit includes the large model of the C.P.R. steamship Empress of Japan, which in itself is a remarkable piece of workmanship. Then there are grains and fruits of a varied description from British Columbia, the Territories and Manitoba, neatly arranged in cases, while on suspension are some beautiful paintings of the grand scenery found among the Rocky Mountain districts. The display by the London Water- works Department this year is similar, consisting of a fountain, out of which a stream of water is sent into a basin bordered with ferns and foliage plants. This is in the centre of the building, and at the four corners surrounding it are displays of confectionery, fine china, furs and a stationary engine. In the fur exhibit is found a pair of Persian lambs, a fine collection of skins and pelts, harness, wire work, hardware, bicycle, chemicals, dyes, brushes, tapestries, leather in all its various conditions found at a tannery, boots and shoes, plumbers' goods, machines in motion for making egg-sacking cases and tin-working, together with a collection of tools in profusion, go to make up the display on the ground here. Upstairs are found the displays of ladies' work at the south-west corner; on the south side is the art exhibit, which in addition to the many beautiful oil and water color paintings is found some excellent work in painted china from the London Asylum. Crayon scenes, and engravings, oil of insects, Indian relics, stuffed birds, carving to wood, and organs and sewing machines are included on the south side. At the east end are the furniture displays—the finest ever seen in the Main Building. On the north side are additional fine displays of decorated china, and pictures also found here, together with other displays of a minor nature. Only one photographer is showing this year, and other well-known exhibitors have taken no interest in the Main Building—the outcome of an unfair discrimination said to have been exercised, and which will be found a serious matter if allowed to stand.

THE LADIES' FANCY WORK

The ladies' fancy work department is at the west end of the Main Building, and the greater part of its space was given up to hook mats, home made rugs and the pre-eminence patchwork quilt. There were some beautiful point lace and some very pretty samples of tatted work displayed. Five or six tea cozies were piled on the mats, and it seemed to be in gold and green. The work in them was admirable. One or two very pretty round sofa pillows were noticed. One had a cream linen cover drawn over a puffing of pumpkin yellow silk that was particularly nice. The quantity of work displayed was rather slim, and some of the things looked as if they had been exhibited a good many times. Miss Raack, of the city, had a pretty and fresh display in glass cases. One of her odd conceits was a tooth-brush holder of wire decorated with crocheted work. THE ART DISPLAY. No one can go through the gallery devoted to pictures without a feeling of sympathy for the artists who have to display their work there. The pictures were nearly all hung straight, and with cross lights, shadows and other drawbacks it is extremely difficult to get a good view of any one of them. It is to be hoped that the new building which the Art Society of this city has been advocating for will soon be erected, and that they will have a chance to properly display their works. The new building is very badly needed. The picture that seemed to attract the greatest amount of interest was down on the floor in a corner. The figure drawing is open to criticism, but the general effect of the picture is highly gratifying. Bell Smith takes the first prize in marine subjects in both oil and water colors. The latter picture is remarkable for its tranquil clearness and good perspective. To look at it has a

SUICIDE OF A FARMER

George Mahler, of Delaware Township, Dies by the Rope. George Mahler, a well-to-do farmer on the first concession of Delaware Township, a short distance southeast of Delaware village, committed suicide early Friday morning by hanging himself in his barn. Deceased was aged 55 years, and leaves a family of four boys and two girls, together with his widow, one of the daughters and the widow being the only members of the family at home. His sons are in the apple exporting business at Delaware, Chatham and elsewhere. Of late deceased had evidenced a slightly unsound mind, and a watch was kept upon him for a while, but was subsequently relaxed. On Friday morning about five o'clock he arose and went to the barn to secure the balter to feed his horses and attend to the chores. Shortly after six o'clock his daughter called him to breakfast, but receiving no answer she went to the barn, where to her horror she found him hanging from a pole running between the beams in the barn. She lost his in summing help, but the first neighbor to arrive, owing to a rather hazy idea of the law in such cases, hesitated to cut the man down, and he was left hanging until Mr. Alexander Bremner and others arrived on the scene. When the body was lowered life was expired. Deceased had used a ladder with which to secure the balter to feed his horses and then having placed the other end about his neck he swung off, his feet being about a foot and a half from the barn floor. Everything pointed to a deliberate suicide, doubtless will, the unfortunate man was laboring under mental aberration. Dr. Mahler summoned a jury Friday and the inquest will be continued today.

A Witness With a Record

During the trial of Kelly and Vandenburg, of Simcoe, at the Toronto Assizes on Friday for obtaining money under false pretences, one of the accused, who pleaded guilty some time ago, named John A. Chrysler, turned Queen's evidence and detailed the scheme of the prisoner. Mr. Heyd's cross examination of the witness was searching, and from his own mouth it was proved that Chrysler's character had been rather shady. He admitted that while acting as a customs officer at Clifton he had been suspended on a charge of drunkenness and inefficiency; he denied that he had stolen any valises from a Jew, or a waterproof coat from another party. He admitted he had been discharged from a mail boat and joined a company in Buffalo and from the Singer Sewing Machine Company for irregularities. He admitted that he had twice stood his trial at Detroit on a charge of rape, but the jury had acquitted him. He admitted that in recent years four times fires had occurred in his own or his wife's property, and that a man who occupied a room one evening with him had lost $10; that his landlady at Teuterville had lost some jewellery during his stay with her; that a dog or boarding at Vandenburg's hotel had been witness to a mail boat and joined a company in Buffalo and from the Singer Sewing Machine Company for irregularities.
