Pat's heels flew involuntarily into the air, and he fell on his back, but he blushed; hung his head, stood still, and yawned, while even Dr. G. gazed at him in astonishment.

Call here to-morrow, said the doctor, willing to relieve his grateful embarrassment.
Patrick! said Helen, calling him back. I want a word with you. Have you a couple of pleasant rooms in your house to let me? Ann! said the boy astonished.

What? asked Dr. Gregory.
Why, father, said Helen, you certainly have not forgotten your promise made this morning, that when Pat has a house to let I may be married?

Oh, you baggage! said the doctor. Well, when one has a pill to take, the sooner it is off his mind the better. Marry as soon as your mother can get you ready for I see you are both of a mind. But don't you go now and tell Dr. Henry what depends on his endorsement of Paddy here!

Sure Dr. Henry would never tell a lie to save a kingdom, said Pat, earnestly.
Get out of the house, you little rogue, said the doctor. You've done in two hours what my wife and daughter have been trying in vain to do for two years!
Is any body so dull as not to guess the end?

Hon. L. A. WILMOT.—We notice by the Head Quarters that a requisition "numerously signed by persons of all shades of political and religious opinion," has been presented to the Hon. L. A. Wilmot, requesting him to suffer himself to be put in nomination as candidate to represent the County of York. We also observe in the same paper a requisition has been got up calling upon the Hon. THOMAS BAILEY, to offer himself a candidate to represent that County. Mr. Bailey has complied.

Since the above was written, we are informed, the election has taken place, and these gentlemen have been elected.

A NOVEL BEEHIVE.—Some time since a swarm of bees alighted on the head of one of the ornaments in front of Viscount O'Neill's residence, Shane's Castle. They proceeded down his throat, and are at present strong and hearty, and seem "secure from every harm."

A NOVEL ENTERPRISE.—An expedition which promises the most important results both to science and commerce, is at this moment fitting out for the purpose of navigating some of the most important unexplored rivers in South America. It is to be under the command of Lord Ranelagh.

Hard of Hearing.—A night or two since, Lord Brougham declared that he had heard nothing of the potato disease. Mr. Curtis, the artist, waited upon his Lordship the next morning, and has from that time been engaged upon his Lordship's next ears, with it is feared, but very little hopes of opening them to the misfortune of others.

The Fat Man's Friend.—An Irish paper says when Repeal is carried "it will throw England completely into the shade. According to this, Repeal must be something in the shape of a prodigious parasol, or an enormous gumbrella. The sooner it is carried, and hung over the head of England in this warm weather, the better.

Train up a Child &c.—We see that Grammar Schools are to be erected on different railways. The pupils will certainly get perfect in their accidents.

Framing a Bill.—The glazier who has framed the 7,000 broken windows of the Houses of Parliament, has sent into Mr. Barry his account headed thus—"Bill for Panes and Penalties."

Very Alarming.—Lord Brougham said, in the House of Lords, "To do or say anything to spread universal alarm, having heard that he is about to publish his decisions when he was Lord Chancellor. Ergo, but we leave it to his lordship to draw his own inference."

Dog Stealing in London.—A very extensive system of dog-stealing has, during the present month been carried on in the metropolis and suburbs, and many valuable sporting dogs purloined from their owners. A gentleman named Miller of Camberwell sent a brace of setter dogs by his groom to Thames Street, to be conveyed by a Scotch steamer to their owners. The lady who had charge of the dogs was accosted by two men at the Wharf, who told him they were servants to the steam boat company, and they must take the custody of the dogs. The groom, without suspicion, consigned the dogs to the supposed servants but never saw them afterwards.

THE EARL OF ALDBOROUGH CURED BY HOLLOWAYS' PILLS.

THE EARL OF ALDBOROUGH CURED OF A LIVER AND STOMACH COMPLAINT. Extract of a Letter from the Earl of Aldborough, dated 24th March, 1846, to Professor Holloway.

Sir, Various circumstances prevented the possibility of my thanking you before this time for your politeness in sending me your Pills as you did. I now take this opportunity of sending you an order for the quantity, and at the same time to add that your Pills have effected a cure of a disorder in my Liver and Stomach, which all the over the Continent, had not been able to effect, and even the waters of Carlsbad and Merano failed to cure me. I wish to have another box, and a Pot of the Ointment, in case any of my Family should ever require either.

Your most obliged and obedient servant, A. D. B. HOLLOWAY.

A WONDERFUL CURE OF DROPSY OF THE FIVE YEARS STANDING. Copy of a Letter from Mr. Thomas Taylor, Chemist, Stockton, Durham, 17th April 1845.

To Professor HOLLOWAY.

Sir, I think it my duty to inform you that Mrs. Clough, wife of Mr. John Clough, a respectable farmer of Aycliffe, a few miles from Durham, had been suffering from Dropsy for five years, and had been advised by several eminent medical men, but without receiving any relief. Hearing of your Pills, and Ointment, she used them with such surprising success, that in fact she has now given them up, being so well, and quite able to attend to her household duties as formerly, which she never expected to do again. I find almost too good to state that she was given up by the Faculty of Medicine, and she had to get up in the morning, it was impossible to discover a feature in her face, but in such a beautiful state. This cure is entirely the work of your medicine.

Yours truly, &c. &c. L. W. TAYLOR, (Signed) THOMAS TAYLOR, A CURE OF INDIGESTION AND CONSTIPATION OF THE BOWELS.

Copy of a Letter from G. R. WYLLIE, Esq., Author of the "Book of the Bards," &c. &c. T. Bryon, near Newcastle, Newcastle-on-Tyne, North Wales, March 24, 1845.

To Professor HOLLOWAY.

Sir, I consider it my duty to inform you that your Pills, a few boxes of which I purchased at Mr. Moore's, Druggist, of Newcastle, have cured me of constant indigestion and constipation of the bowels, which application to literary pursuits had long entailed upon me. I should strongly recommend your Pills, and sincerely disposed persons generally, to use your valuable Pills. You have my permission to publish this note, if you wish to do so.

I am, Sir, your most obedient servant, G. R. WYLLIE, KATER, A CURE OF ASTHMA AND SHORTNESS OF BREATH.

Extract of a Letter from the Rev. David Williams, Resident Minister at Newcastle, Island of England, North Wales, January 14th, 1845.
