Nova Scotia Students do Well At Guelph

Of the thirty students who graduated from the two years' course at the Nova Scotia Agricultural College in 1913, eight entered the third year at the Ontario Agricultural College. The results of their final examinations in this year are just out and are of interest to Nova Scotians.
 Out of a total class of sixty-one, twenty-eight failed in one or more subjects, but the Nova Scotians passed in every subject. The standing of the Nova Scotia students in this class are as follows: Second, Fourth, Eighth, Eleventh, Twelfth, Thirteenth, Fourteenth and Twentieth. The following are the names and addresses of the Nova Scotia students:
 J. G. Archibald, Springside, Upper Stewiacke.
 George Magee, Truro.
 Gordon Crawford, Windsor.
 Ralph Donaldson, Port Williams.
 R. D. L. Bligh, Lakeville.
 M. D. MacCharles, Baddeck Bridge.
 Allan Dugan, Bridgetown.
 J. C. Shipton, Moscelle.

It is evident from this examination report that the Nova Scotia Agricultural College students must receive excellent training at that institution and that, therefore, those Maritime Province students who may wish to take a full course in Agriculture and obtain a degree of B. S. A., do well to take their first two years at Truro, Ontario such an institution of the Ontario Agricultural College or MacDonald College with the prestige of our students who have preceded them have brought to their alma mater at Truro.

Body in Mill Race

Guelph, Ont., May 15—Judge Hugh McDonald Henry, of Halifax, N. S., an inmate of the Homewood Sanitarium for more than three years was drowned this afternoon. He went out for his usual afternoon walk down town and must have started to return through Riverside Park, for his body was found by two little girls about five o'clock, in the mill-race between Riverside dam and Sampson's Mill. Judge Henry was about sixty-three years of age, and had been partially paralyzed for the past fourteen years. He is a brother of W. A. Henry, K. C., Halifax, and was for some years judge of the Supreme Court of Nova Scotia, and one of the best known citizens of Halifax. It is thought that he slipped into the mill-race and could not get out.

Increase Your Dairy Profits

by giving your dairy herd the most comfortable quarters that can be built. Be your own dairy inspector and insure the absolute purity of your dairy products by building your stable and spring house of a material that insures sanitary conditions, and which, at the same time, is economical.

Build with Concrete

It is the most economical material for every kind of farm building, for it requires no repairs, never wears out and never needs painting. Dairy stables of concrete are clean and sanitary. They keep the herd warm and comfortable in winter, and tend to increase both the quantity and quality of the milk.

Whether you build a stable, silo, spring house or other farm building, concrete is the cheapest material to use.

"What the Farmer Can Do with Concrete" is the title of a beautifully illustrated free book that tells all about concrete farm buildings and how to build them to save money.
