REFORMATION IN TRADE.

Reform, reform is the cry of the day, While old fashloned builts are passing away. While calcute has tnumphed, so plainly 'twould seem, O'or the old fashloned method of puffing by stoam

Let us giance at Toronto, which a few years ago, Was dark Muddy York, as you very well know. And seen it to day, unlet our cines the beat, And desersodly styled, the Queen of the West.

Just look, if you please, at its elegant homes,— Its beautiful charches, their spires and their domes White its the public buildings, exceted with taste, Adora the site of some old marsh) waste

Its marshes have fled by the aid of our drains, its forests are open'd by the sy sed of our trains; The past we have seen, the present we see, Veil, well, we may tak, what the future will be.

Even now, where the waves of Ontario roar, And desh their white spray on the long-beaten shere, That spot so long sacred does science invade, And the billows give place to a grand Esplanado

But reforms as important as those have been made, Which greatly have altered the aspect of trade, Olf styles and old habit, old prices have past, And customs much better are practised at last.

The Bowners for instance, which a few years ago Would cost you a dollar and a quarter, or so. A much their style you now may procure, for loss than one fourth of that sum, I am sure

Nor did you then think that the terms were hard, If you bought a good print for a shilling per yard, But aow you may purchase for half of that price, A cloth quite as good, and a style just as nice.

Will you call at Ma D'ONALD'S I if it is but to try, I kain his well-sorted Stock how choop you can but . And we venture to say, when you look through his Store, You will wonder you never have found it before

Tis a three story house, with the front printed white, Which makes its appearance both graceful and light, Willin very large figure, which you plainly may see, Doscribing its number as One flewners and Thees.
