

DEW DROPS

VOL. IV.

TORONTO, JULY 21, 1900.

No. 29.

OFF TO THE BEACH.

I wonder if there ever was a little boy or girl who did not enjoy playing in the sand. I think all will agree that it is one of the most delightful things a little child could do. These two wee ones in the picture have started off with their little spade and cart to have a morning's play by the lake shore. They do this every day and never seem to grow tired of it. They build forts, make canals, with splendid foundations of smooth stones. I hope all my little readers will have a chance this summer to play in the sand.