Mr. Richard C. Kitney

Sales and Marketing Manager

The Canadian factory of Longdon & Co. Ltd was established in Toronto in 1919, with a view of supplying the Dominion with surgical hosiery and other elastic products. Since that time, the company has increased its manufacturing facilities and today is able to offer a wide range of knitted products to various market segments. In April of 1978 the Longdon Corporation was purchased and is now a wholly owned Canadian company. Since this time, Longdon has continued to expand its manufacturing and product base. It is a contract manufacturer of elastic and neoprene body supports for the medical/health care industry and also protective gear for the industrial workplace. It has a large knitting and cut/sew operation and is able to provide assorted goods to other convertors and distributors.
