

HEPATITIS A RISK

Adapted from Centers for Disease Control, 2001

■ high □ medium ■ low

HEPATITIS B RISK

Adapted from Centers for Disease Control, 2001 and World Health Organization, 2001

■ high □ medium ■ low

If you have any questions about passports, contact the Passport Office.

Do You Need a Visa?

You need a visa to travel to certain countries. Your travel agent or the country's embassy or consulate in Canada can advise you of the requirements. You can also check our Travel Reports for the countries you intend to visit. Apply for visas well in advance of your trip.

When you arrive at your destination, be prepared to prove that you have enough money to support yourself during your stay.

Be aware of the rules and restrictions governing visas and your length of stay. This knowledge can save you both time and money.

Some countries will allow you to enter only if you can prove you will be leaving. Be prepared to show

Austria, Belgium, Denmark, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, Ireland, Italy, Luxembourg, Netherlands, Portugal, Spain and Sweden participate in the Schengen Convention, which has abolished internal border controls between these countries (except in special cases). However, customs and immigration controls remain in force when you are travelling to one of the above countries from Canada or any other country that does not participate in the Schengen Convention.

near other countries in every country visited when travelling from one Schengen country to another, always carry your passport with you. When travelling within a Schengen country, always carry a photocopy of your passport with you. Visitors should also make sure they do not extend their stay beyond the period of time allowed by each country.

You should ensure that authorities stamp your passport when you enter the Schengen area and that you fulfil all

If you have questions about your status or if you would like information about the entry and registration requirements of Schengen countries, contact their embassies or consulates in Canada before your departure.