

Woman's Realm --- the Household, Fashions and Society

SOCIETY

The diamond jubilee of the Royal Canadian Yacht Club will be celebrated this year. It having been founded in the year 1852. Preparations to celebrate the event are now in progress. A beautiful party will be held at the club's quarters at Centre Island on the afternoon of Monday, Aug. 23. The occasion will be marked by the presence of Their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall, the former being one of the club's patrons, and Princess Patricia. The band of the 48th Highlanders will furnish the music.

Sir George Reid, high commissioner for the commonwealth of Australia, who arrived last week by the Laurentic to represent the commonwealth at the celebration in Halifax, will be accompanied by his wife, Lady Reid, who sails from England on Aug. 21. They will return to England in October.

Among the guests at the luncheon party which Mrs. William Taylor gave at the Ritz Hotel, London, recently, in honor of Mrs. Borden and Mrs. Howard, were the Marchioness of Donegal, Lady Allen Roberts, the Hon. Mrs. Howard and Miss Frances Howard, Lady Dawson, Mrs. Hugh Allan, Lady Aiken, Mrs. Donald McMaster, Mrs. Donald Armour, Mrs. Henshaw of Vancouver, Mrs. Drummond and Mrs. Orr-Lewis.

The engagement is announced of Jean Mackay, eldest daughter of Mrs. N. M. Campbell, Mr. E. Campbell Miller, son of Mr. George A. Miller, Montreal, the marriage to take place the last week in August.

Dr. Herbert Bruce returns from England at the end of this week.

Miss Molewsky is visiting Miss Fell at Niagara-on-the-Lake.

Mrs. J. D. Rose and Miss Ross are paying visits in Toronto, and later go to Montreal before returning home to Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Clark Macklem spent the week-end at Niagara-on-the-Lake.

Miss O'Donohue spent a few days recently at Chelsea.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Richardson of Winnipeg announce the engagement of their daughter, Hazel Gwendoline, to Mr. Kenneth Clapham, second son of Lieut.-Col. and Mrs. J. Pennington Macpherson, Ottawa. The marriage will take place early in the autumn.

Mrs. Cox, who spent some time with Mrs. G. Reid, has returned home to Ottawa.

Miss Muriel Burrows, Ottawa, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Gordon Richardson, at Indian Head, Manitoba.

Lieut.-Col. and Mrs. Van Nostrand announce the engagement of their daughter, Elsie Margaret, to Mr. Robert Ellsworth Campbell of Hamilton. The marriage is arranged to take place in September.

Mrs. T. H. T. Jarvis is in town from Montreal with Mrs. Edmund Phillips.

Mrs. Douglas Young is in town for a few days on her way to Quebec and Lower St. Lawrence.

Mr. Acton Burrows and Miss Blair Burrows have returned from Quebec.

Miss Jean Caldwell of West Blocton is taking the Saguenay trip and expects to be home about the end of August.

Miss Jessie Mathewson spent the week-end with friends in Thorold.

The engagement is announced of Miss Hazel Rochester, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Rochester, Vancouver, B.C., to Mr. Henry Stikeman, Montreal, son of Mr. H. G. Browning of Berlin, Ont. The marriage will take place in St. Andrew's Church, Vancouver, on Aug. 21.

The engagement is announced of Helen Mildred Stikeman, youngest daughter of Mr. Henry Stikeman, Montreal, to Mr. Leslie Garnet Shadoff of Harefield, Eng. The marriage will take place early in October.

Mr. Morley Dunlop spent a few days with his uncle at East Oakland last week.

Mrs. Potter and her children are visiting Mrs. John Shriver in Thorold.

Rev. J. C. and Mrs. Garrett, Niagara-on-the-Lake, are spending a few days in Grimsby with Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Nelles.

Mrs. Morrison and her daughter are spending their holidays with Mrs. Oxy at East Oakland.

Mrs. J. C. Clark, Niagara, spent a few days in town this week.

Lord Edward Beauchamp Seymour, son of the late Marquis of Hertford, has purchased the Willow farm, Etobicoke, comprising 30 acres, and will go in for market gardening and fruit raising. There is already on the property a large orchard in full bearing, and this will be added to during the coming years.

Mr. Lawrence Baldwin was in Hamilton for a few days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Jones of London, Ont., announce the engagement of their eldest daughter, Miss Edna May of Toronto, to Mr. Kenneth Delbert Jarvis, professor of zoology, Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Jarvis of Grimsby. The marriage is to take place early in September.

Mrs. W. H. Rider, Seashooter, Ohio, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Yelloweas.

Lila Kate G. White is visiting her mother, Mrs. Melville White of Hawthorne-avenue.

A wedding took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Sarah M. Wilkes, 31 Fuller-street, when her daughter, Edna May, became the bride of Mr. Percy Dean Hentley, son of Mr. John Hentley, Rev. A. Williams of St. John's Church officiated, and acted. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. J. Beatty, who was dressed in a white messaline frock, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was dressed in a white tuxedo, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The ceremony was played by Mrs. Millie Broughton. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl brooch, and the bride's gift to the groom was a pearl necklace. After the ceremony Mrs. Wilkes, who was dressed in black silk, entertained about fifty of her friends. Mrs. J. D.

The Daily Hint From Paris

A Lace and Silk Confection.

The verdict of many experts is that the most charming of this season's dresses are those made of lace and silk. One of the prettiest of these is the subject of this sketch. The skirt is of cream colored lawn embroidered, its flounces edged with pleatings of turquoise blue taffeta. The same silk is used to make the coat, which closes far to the side, under a bo-wal the same. The hat, of fine tan colored straw, trimmed with a lace rill and pink roses and finished with long black velvet ties.

Montic, mother of the groom, was also dressed in black silk. Mr. and Mrs. Hentley left on the evening train to visit Buffalo and Detroit, after which they will spend a week at Port Dover before returning home to take up their residence on Fuller-street.

Col. and Mrs. Bertram of Dundas announce the engagement of their only daughter, Florence Millie, to Mr. Fred J. Sharp, son of Rev. James Sharp of Bridgewater, Nova Scotia. The marriage will take place in the early autumn.

Mrs. Arthur Murphy, the author of "Janey Canuck in the West" and "Open Trails" is the guest of her brother, Mr. W. N. Ferguson, K.C., at 311 Palmerston-boulevard. Mrs. Murphy is the president of the Women's Canadian Club of Edmonton.

Dr. and Mrs. T. Shaw Webster and their family arrived on Sunday from abroad. Their trip was cut short by the severe influenza which Mrs. Webster, whose London physicians advised her immediate return to Canada.

Miss Edna E. Hamilton leaves today for Jackson's Point to be the guest of Miss Irene Gillis for a few days.

Rev. and Mrs. G. S. Patterson have returned to Toronto, and are at 24 Dalton-road until Sept. 1, when they leave for Vancouver, en route to Tokyo, Japan.

Mrs. Emily Brooks of Dundonald is spending the remainder of the summer at Paris, Ont., the guest of Miss Capron.

Mrs. W. Hamilton is the guest of her son, Mr. G. Powell Hamilton, and Mrs. Hamilton Guep.

Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Ryan and their family are leaving on the 15th for their home in Brazil.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Hart and Miss Louise Hart have returned from the seaside.

Mr. J. C. Boddy announces the engagement of his eldest daughter, Edna May, to Mr. Clarence A. Hayes, third son of Mrs. S. A. Hayes, the wedding to take place early in September.

Mrs. John Tucker of Owen Sound is visiting her daughters, Mrs. J. T. Royer of Harcourt, Quebec-avenue, and Mrs. George Harcourt, Quebec-avenue, West Toronto.

Mrs. W. Boyd, Langley-avenue, and Mrs. C. J. Willis are staying at Hotel Kress, Preston Springs, for a couple of weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex. L. Johnston, 376 Indian-road, left on Saturday for Port Arthur.

Mrs. W. H. Rider, Seashooter, Ohio, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Yelloweas.

Lila Kate G. White is visiting her mother, Mrs. Melville White of Hawthorne-avenue.

A wedding took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Sarah M. Wilkes, 31 Fuller-street, when her daughter, Edna May, became the bride of Mr. Percy Dean Hentley, son of Mr. John Hentley, Rev. A. Williams of St. John's Church officiated, and acted. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. J. Beatty, who was dressed in a white messaline frock, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was dressed in a white tuxedo, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The ceremony was played by Mrs. Millie Broughton. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl brooch, and the bride's gift to the groom was a pearl necklace. After the ceremony Mrs. Wilkes, who was dressed in black silk, entertained about fifty of her friends. Mrs. J. D.

A wedding took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Sarah M. Wilkes, 31 Fuller-street, when her daughter, Edna May, became the bride of Mr. Percy Dean Hentley, son of Mr. John Hentley, Rev. A. Williams of St. John's Church officiated, and acted. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. J. Beatty, who was dressed in a white messaline frock, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was dressed in a white tuxedo, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The ceremony was played by Mrs. Millie Broughton. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl brooch, and the bride's gift to the groom was a pearl necklace. After the ceremony Mrs. Wilkes, who was dressed in black silk, entertained about fifty of her friends. Mrs. J. D.

A wedding took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Sarah M. Wilkes, 31 Fuller-street, when her daughter, Edna May, became the bride of Mr. Percy Dean Hentley, son of Mr. John Hentley, Rev. A. Williams of St. John's Church officiated, and acted. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. J. Beatty, who was dressed in a white messaline frock, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was dressed in a white tuxedo, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The ceremony was played by Mrs. Millie Broughton. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl brooch, and the bride's gift to the groom was a pearl necklace. After the ceremony Mrs. Wilkes, who was dressed in black silk, entertained about fifty of her friends. Mrs. J. D.

A wedding took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Sarah M. Wilkes, 31 Fuller-street, when her daughter, Edna May, became the bride of Mr. Percy Dean Hentley, son of Mr. John Hentley, Rev. A. Williams of St. John's Church officiated, and acted. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. J. Beatty, who was dressed in a white messaline frock, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was dressed in a white tuxedo, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The ceremony was played by Mrs. Millie Broughton. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl brooch, and the bride's gift to the groom was a pearl necklace. After the ceremony Mrs. Wilkes, who was dressed in black silk, entertained about fifty of her friends. Mrs. J. D.

A wedding took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Sarah M. Wilkes, 31 Fuller-street, when her daughter, Edna May, became the bride of Mr. Percy Dean Hentley, son of Mr. John Hentley, Rev. A. Williams of St. John's Church officiated, and acted. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. J. Beatty, who was dressed in a white messaline frock, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was dressed in a white tuxedo, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The ceremony was played by Mrs. Millie Broughton. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl brooch, and the bride's gift to the groom was a pearl necklace. After the ceremony Mrs. Wilkes, who was dressed in black silk, entertained about fifty of her friends. Mrs. J. D.

A wedding took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Sarah M. Wilkes, 31 Fuller-street, when her daughter, Edna May, became the bride of Mr. Percy Dean Hentley, son of Mr. John Hentley, Rev. A. Williams of St. John's Church officiated, and acted. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. J. Beatty, who was dressed in a white messaline frock, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was dressed in a white tuxedo, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The ceremony was played by Mrs. Millie Broughton. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl brooch, and the bride's gift to the groom was a pearl necklace. After the ceremony Mrs. Wilkes, who was dressed in black silk, entertained about fifty of her friends. Mrs. J. D.

A wedding took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Sarah M. Wilkes, 31 Fuller-street, when her daughter, Edna May, became the bride of Mr. Percy Dean Hentley, son of Mr. John Hentley, Rev. A. Williams of St. John's Church officiated, and acted. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. J. Beatty, who was dressed in a white messaline frock, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was dressed in a white tuxedo, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The ceremony was played by Mrs. Millie Broughton. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl brooch, and the bride's gift to the groom was a pearl necklace. After the ceremony Mrs. Wilkes, who was dressed in black silk, entertained about fifty of her friends. Mrs. J. D.

A wedding took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Sarah M. Wilkes, 31 Fuller-street, when her daughter, Edna May, became the bride of Mr. Percy Dean Hentley, son of Mr. John Hentley, Rev. A. Williams of St. John's Church officiated, and acted. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. J. Beatty, who was dressed in a white messaline frock, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was dressed in a white tuxedo, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The ceremony was played by Mrs. Millie Broughton. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl brooch, and the bride's gift to the groom was a pearl necklace. After the ceremony Mrs. Wilkes, who was dressed in black silk, entertained about fifty of her friends. Mrs. J. D.

A wedding took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Sarah M. Wilkes, 31 Fuller-street, when her daughter, Edna May, became the bride of Mr. Percy Dean Hentley, son of Mr. John Hentley, Rev. A. Williams of St. John's Church officiated, and acted. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. J. Beatty, who was dressed in a white messaline frock, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was dressed in a white tuxedo, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The ceremony was played by Mrs. Millie Broughton. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl brooch, and the bride's gift to the groom was a pearl necklace. After the ceremony Mrs. Wilkes, who was dressed in black silk, entertained about fifty of her friends. Mrs. J. D.

A wedding took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Sarah M. Wilkes, 31 Fuller-street, when her daughter, Edna May, became the bride of Mr. Percy Dean Hentley, son of Mr. John Hentley, Rev. A. Williams of St. John's Church officiated, and acted. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. J. Beatty, who was dressed in a white messaline frock, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was dressed in a white tuxedo, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The ceremony was played by Mrs. Millie Broughton. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl brooch, and the bride's gift to the groom was a pearl necklace. After the ceremony Mrs. Wilkes, who was dressed in black silk, entertained about fifty of her friends. Mrs. J. D.

A wedding took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Sarah M. Wilkes, 31 Fuller-street, when her daughter, Edna May, became the bride of Mr. Percy Dean Hentley, son of Mr. John Hentley, Rev. A. Williams of St. John's Church officiated, and acted. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. J. Beatty, who was dressed in a white messaline frock, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was dressed in a white tuxedo, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The ceremony was played by Mrs. Millie Broughton. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl brooch, and the bride's gift to the groom was a pearl necklace. After the ceremony Mrs. Wilkes, who was dressed in black silk, entertained about fifty of her friends. Mrs. J. D.

A wedding took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Sarah M. Wilkes, 31 Fuller-street, when her daughter, Edna May, became the bride of Mr. Percy Dean Hentley, son of Mr. John Hentley, Rev. A. Williams of St. John's Church officiated, and acted. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. J. Beatty, who was dressed in a white messaline frock, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was dressed in a white tuxedo, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The ceremony was played by Mrs. Millie Broughton. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl brooch, and the bride's gift to the groom was a pearl necklace. After the ceremony Mrs. Wilkes, who was dressed in black silk, entertained about fifty of her friends. Mrs. J. D.

A wedding took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Sarah M. Wilkes, 31 Fuller-street, when her daughter, Edna May, became the bride of Mr. Percy Dean Hentley, son of Mr. John Hentley, Rev. A. Williams of St. John's Church officiated, and acted. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. J. Beatty, who was dressed in a white messaline frock, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was dressed in a white tuxedo, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The ceremony was played by Mrs. Millie Broughton. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl brooch, and the bride's gift to the groom was a pearl necklace. After the ceremony Mrs. Wilkes, who was dressed in black silk, entertained about fifty of her friends. Mrs. J. D.

A wedding took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Sarah M. Wilkes, 31 Fuller-street, when her daughter, Edna May, became the bride of Mr. Percy Dean Hentley, son of Mr. John Hentley, Rev. A. Williams of St. John's Church officiated, and acted. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. J. Beatty, who was dressed in a white messaline frock, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was dressed in a white tuxedo, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The ceremony was played by Mrs. Millie Broughton. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl brooch, and the bride's gift to the groom was a pearl necklace. After the ceremony Mrs. Wilkes, who was dressed in black silk, entertained about fifty of her friends. Mrs. J. D.

A wedding took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Sarah M. Wilkes, 31 Fuller-street, when her daughter, Edna May, became the bride of Mr. Percy Dean Hentley, son of Mr. John Hentley, Rev. A. Williams of St. John's Church officiated, and acted. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. J. Beatty, who was dressed in a white messaline frock, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was dressed in a white tuxedo, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The ceremony was played by Mrs. Millie Broughton. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl brooch, and the bride's gift to the groom was a pearl necklace. After the ceremony Mrs. Wilkes, who was dressed in black silk, entertained about fifty of her friends. Mrs. J. D.

A wedding took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Sarah M. Wilkes, 31 Fuller-street, when her daughter, Edna May, became the bride of Mr. Percy Dean Hentley, son of Mr. John Hentley, Rev. A. Williams of St. John's Church officiated, and acted. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. J. Beatty, who was dressed in a white messaline frock, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was dressed in a white tuxedo, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The ceremony was played by Mrs. Millie Broughton. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl brooch, and the bride's gift to the groom was a pearl necklace. After the ceremony Mrs. Wilkes, who was dressed in black silk, entertained about fifty of her friends. Mrs. J. D.

A wedding took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Sarah M. Wilkes, 31 Fuller-street, when her daughter, Edna May, became the bride of Mr. Percy Dean Hentley, son of Mr. John Hentley, Rev. A. Williams of St. John's Church officiated, and acted. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. J. Beatty, who was dressed in a white messaline frock, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was dressed in a white tuxedo, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The ceremony was played by Mrs. Millie Broughton. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl brooch, and the bride's gift to the groom was a pearl necklace. After the ceremony Mrs. Wilkes, who was dressed in black silk, entertained about fifty of her friends. Mrs. J. D.

A wedding took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Sarah M. Wilkes, 31 Fuller-street, when her daughter, Edna May, became the bride of Mr. Percy Dean Hentley, son of Mr. John Hentley, Rev. A. Williams of St. John's Church officiated, and acted. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. J. Beatty, who was dressed in a white messaline frock, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was dressed in a white tuxedo, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The ceremony was played by Mrs. Millie Broughton. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl brooch, and the bride's gift to the groom was a pearl necklace. After the ceremony Mrs. Wilkes, who was dressed in black silk, entertained about fifty of her friends. Mrs. J. D.

A wedding took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Sarah M. Wilkes, 31 Fuller-street, when her daughter, Edna May, became the bride of Mr. Percy Dean Hentley, son of Mr. John Hentley, Rev. A. Williams of St. John's Church officiated, and acted. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. J. Beatty, who was dressed in a white messaline frock, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was dressed in a white tuxedo, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The ceremony was played by Mrs. Millie Broughton. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl brooch, and the bride's gift to the groom was a pearl necklace. After the ceremony Mrs. Wilkes, who was dressed in black silk, entertained about fifty of her friends. Mrs. J. D.

A wedding took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Sarah M. Wilkes, 31 Fuller-street, when her daughter, Edna May, became the bride of Mr. Percy Dean Hentley, son of Mr. John Hentley, Rev. A. Williams of St. John's Church officiated, and acted. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. J. Beatty, who was dressed in a white messaline frock, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was dressed in a white tuxedo, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The ceremony was played by Mrs. Millie Broughton. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl brooch, and the bride's gift to the groom was a pearl necklace. After the ceremony Mrs. Wilkes, who was dressed in black silk, entertained about fifty of her friends. Mrs. J. D.

A wedding took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Sarah M. Wilkes, 31 Fuller-street, when her daughter, Edna May, became the bride of Mr. Percy Dean Hentley, son of Mr. John Hentley, Rev. A. Williams of St. John's Church officiated, and acted. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. J. Beatty, who was dressed in a white messaline frock, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was dressed in a white tuxedo, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The ceremony was played by Mrs. Millie Broughton. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl brooch, and the bride's gift to the groom was a pearl necklace. After the ceremony Mrs. Wilkes, who was dressed in black silk, entertained about fifty of her friends. Mrs. J. D.

A wedding took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Sarah M. Wilkes, 31 Fuller-street, when her daughter, Edna May, became the bride of Mr. Percy Dean Hentley, son of Mr. John Hentley, Rev. A. Williams of St. John's Church officiated, and acted. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. J. Beatty, who was dressed in a white messaline frock, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was dressed in a white tuxedo, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The ceremony was played by Mrs. Millie Broughton. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl brooch, and the bride's gift to the groom was a pearl necklace. After the ceremony Mrs. Wilkes, who was dressed in black silk, entertained about fifty of her friends. Mrs. J. D.

A wedding took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Sarah M. Wilkes, 31 Fuller-street, when her daughter, Edna May, became the bride of Mr. Percy Dean Hentley, son of Mr. John Hentley, Rev. A. Williams of St. John's Church officiated, and acted. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. J. Beatty, who was dressed in a white messaline frock, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was dressed in a white tuxedo, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The ceremony was played by Mrs. Millie Broughton. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl brooch, and the bride's gift to the groom was a pearl necklace. After the ceremony Mrs. Wilkes, who was dressed in black silk, entertained about fifty of her friends. Mrs. J. D.

A wedding took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Sarah M. Wilkes, 31 Fuller-street, when her daughter, Edna May, became the bride of Mr. Percy Dean Hentley, son of Mr. John Hentley, Rev. A. Williams of St. John's Church officiated, and acted. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. J. Beatty, who was dressed in a white messaline frock, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was dressed in a white tuxedo, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The ceremony was played by Mrs. Millie Broughton. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl brooch, and the bride's gift to the groom was a pearl necklace. After the ceremony Mrs. Wilkes, who was dressed in black silk, entertained about fifty of her friends. Mrs. J. D.

A wedding took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Sarah M. Wilkes, 31 Fuller-street, when her daughter, Edna May, became the bride of Mr. Percy Dean Hentley, son of Mr. John Hentley, Rev. A. Williams of St. John's Church officiated, and acted. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. J. Beatty, who was dressed in a white messaline frock, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was dressed in a white tuxedo, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The ceremony was played by Mrs. Millie Broughton. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl brooch, and the bride's gift to the groom was a pearl necklace. After the ceremony Mrs. Wilkes, who was dressed in black silk, entertained about fifty of her friends. Mrs. J. D.

A wedding took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Sarah M. Wilkes, 31 Fuller-street, when her daughter, Edna May, became the bride of Mr. Percy Dean Hentley, son of Mr. John Hentley, Rev. A. Williams of St. John's Church officiated, and acted. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. J. Beatty, who was dressed in a white messaline frock, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was dressed in a white tuxedo, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The ceremony was played by Mrs. Millie Broughton. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl brooch, and the bride's gift to the groom was a pearl necklace. After the ceremony Mrs. Wilkes, who was dressed in black silk, entertained about fifty of her friends. Mrs. J. D.

A wedding took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Sarah M. Wilkes, 31 Fuller-street, when her daughter, Edna May, became the bride of Mr. Percy Dean Hentley, son of Mr. John Hentley, Rev. A. Williams of St. John's Church officiated, and acted. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. J. Beatty, who was dressed in a white messaline frock, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was dressed in a white tuxedo, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The ceremony was played by Mrs. Millie Broughton. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl brooch, and the bride's gift to the groom was a pearl necklace. After the ceremony Mrs. Wilkes, who was dressed in black silk, entertained about fifty of her friends. Mrs. J. D.

A wedding took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Sarah M. Wilkes, 31 Fuller-street, when her daughter, Edna May, became the bride of Mr. Percy Dean Hentley, son of Mr. John Hentley, Rev. A. Williams of St. John's Church officiated, and acted. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. J. Beatty, who was dressed in a white messaline frock, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was dressed in a white tuxedo, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The ceremony was played by Mrs. Millie Broughton. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl brooch, and the bride's gift to the groom was a pearl necklace. After the ceremony Mrs. Wilkes, who was dressed in black silk, entertained about fifty of her friends. Mrs. J. D.

A wedding took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Sarah M. Wilkes, 31 Fuller-street, when her daughter, Edna May, became the bride of Mr. Percy Dean Hentley, son of Mr. John Hentley, Rev. A. Williams of St. John's Church officiated, and acted. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. J. Beatty, who was dressed in a white messaline frock, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was dressed in a white tuxedo, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The ceremony was played by Mrs. Millie Broughton. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl brooch, and the bride's gift to the groom was a pearl necklace. After the ceremony Mrs. Wilkes, who was dressed in black silk, entertained about fifty of her friends. Mrs. J. D.

A wedding took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Sarah M. Wilkes, 31 Fuller-street, when her daughter, Edna May, became the bride of Mr. Percy Dean Hentley, son of Mr. John Hentley, Rev. A. Williams of St. John's Church officiated, and acted. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. J. Beatty, who was dressed in a white messaline frock, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was dressed in a white tuxedo, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The ceremony was played by Mrs. Millie Broughton. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl brooch, and the bride's gift to the groom was a pearl necklace. After the ceremony Mrs. Wilkes, who was dressed in black silk, entertained about fifty of her friends. Mrs. J. D.

A wedding took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Sarah M. Wilkes, 31 Fuller-street, when her daughter, Edna May, became the bride of Mr. Percy Dean Hentley, son of Mr. John Hentley, Rev. A. Williams of St. John's Church officiated, and acted. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. J. Beatty, who was dressed in a white messaline frock, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was dressed in a white tuxedo, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The ceremony was played by Mrs. Millie Broughton. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl brooch, and the bride's gift to the groom was a pearl necklace. After the ceremony Mrs. Wilkes, who was dressed in black silk, entertained about fifty of her friends. Mrs. J. D.

A wedding took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Sarah M. Wilkes, 31 Fuller-street, when her daughter, Edna May, became the bride of Mr. Percy Dean Hentley, son of Mr. John Hentley, Rev. A. Williams of St. John's Church officiated, and acted. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. J. Beatty, who was dressed in a white messaline frock, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was dressed in a white tuxedo, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The ceremony was played by Mrs. Millie Broughton. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl brooch, and the bride's gift to the groom was a pearl necklace. After the ceremony Mrs. Wilkes, who was dressed in black silk, entertained about fifty of her friends. Mrs. J. D.

A wedding took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Sarah M. Wilkes, 31 Fuller-street, when her daughter, Edna May, became the bride of Mr. Percy Dean Hentley, son of Mr. John Hentley, Rev. A. Williams of St. John's Church officiated, and acted. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. J. Beatty, who was dressed in a white messaline frock, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was dressed in a white tuxedo, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The ceremony was played by Mrs. Millie Broughton. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl brooch, and the bride's gift to the groom was a pearl necklace. After the ceremony Mrs. Wilkes, who was dressed in black silk, entertained about fifty of her friends. Mrs. J. D.

A wedding took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Sarah M. Wilkes, 31 Fuller-street, when her daughter, Edna May, became the bride of Mr. Percy Dean Hentley, son of Mr. John Hentley, Rev. A. Williams of St. John's Church officiated, and acted. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. J. Beatty, who was dressed in a white messaline frock, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was dressed in a white tuxedo, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The ceremony was played by Mrs. Millie Broughton. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl brooch, and the bride's gift to the groom was a pearl necklace. After the ceremony Mrs. Wilkes, who was dressed in black silk, entertained about fifty of her friends. Mrs. J. D.

A wedding took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Sarah M. Wilkes, 31 Fuller-street, when her daughter, Edna May, became the bride of Mr. Percy Dean Hentley, son of Mr. John Hentley, Rev. A. Williams of St. John's Church officiated, and acted. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. J. Beatty, who was dressed in a white messaline frock, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was dressed in a white tuxedo, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The ceremony was played by Mrs. Millie Broughton. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl brooch, and the bride's gift to the groom was a pearl necklace. After the ceremony Mrs. Wilkes, who was dressed in black silk, entertained about fifty of her friends. Mrs. J. D.

Seasonable Recipes