CARRIES PARASOL OF MRS. LONGWORTH BLUE.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Miss Pearl Handel sways in unison with eleven other young women, making up the show girl line in "Seeing New York," on the New York Theatre roof. She is dependable, for the reason that she is painfully exact in all things. At rehearsal on Tuesday she broke the trick parasol carried by the girls in "L'Orangie" scene. Mr.

Miss Pearl Handel.

Hart was pained. He could not, he said, get another made in less than a week. She bade him be of good cheer, explaining that she had a parasol at home which might serve.

"But our color scheme! Our color scheme!" he wailed. "We must have regard for it! What shade is your parasol at home?"

"Mrs. Nicholas Longworth blue," she replied.

IRISH AFFAIRS

The New York Sun correspondent cables from London as follows:—Reynolds' Newspaper says it is in a position to announce that as the result of negotiations the government has framed an Irish government bill, to be introduced at the next session of parliament, which is acceptable to the Irish Nationalists. The essential feature of the measure is the establishment of a representative assembly at Dublin for dealing with Irish local affairs.

Irish bank reports show increases in deposits and other evidences of commercial activity with which bankers have to do. Banks only increase their business when business generally is good. Ireland is getting its share of the prosperity of the growing time.

A KENTUCKY STRADDLE

(Montreal Gazette.)

A Kentucky Republican convention has made one plank of its campaign platform out of a declaration that "all differences arising between labor and capital should be so adjusted as to give justice to both labor and capital." Mr. Guthrie holds the championship for the Canadian parliament by a declaration that if employers would give their workmen all they asked for there would be no strikes. He must take a second place, however, to the statesmen who framed the Kentucky straddle.

DOCTORS AND TEMPERANCE

Resolutions Adopted by French Speaking Physicians at Three Rivers, Quebec.

(Montreal Witness).

Alcoholism was one of the principal questions discussed at the recent congress of the French-speaking doctors of North America, held in Three Rivers. It will be remembered that among those who took part in the proceedings as specially invited guests were Drs. Loir and Tisboulet, of the Paris faculty, the latter gentleman being one of the highest European authorities on alcoholism.

At the close of the congress the following resolutions were adopted:—

1st. The surest means to secure the removal of alcoholism from our country would be the adoption of a law prohibiting the manufacture and commerce of all kinds of distilled alcoholic liquors, throughout the whole Dominion of Canada, except for pharmaceutical and industrial purposes.

2nd. In the event of it being impossible to carry out the above proposal, for reasons of political economy or other reasons, then it is desirable that the provincial government should itself take up the traffic of alcoholic liquors in the province.

3rd. In the event of the provincial government refusing to nationalize the traffic, we recommend that a charter be granted to a private company to take charge of the trade in the province, with the express understanding that such company will pay its shareholders a moderate and definite dividend only, the surplus of profits being used for charitable, philanthropic or other purposes as directed by the government.

In the event of none of the above measures being found acceptable, this congress recommends that the license law be amended by limiting the rights and privileges of the municipal councils and allowing them to grant one hotel license only for each thousand of the population.

The congress also proposed the adoption of a law making it obligatory for all schools and houses of education to teach a catechism of hygiene, anti-tuberculosis and anti-alcoholism, the pupils to be submitted to a severe examination on those matters at the end of each year, before being promoted to a higher class.

It was decided to send copies of all these resolutions to the federal and provincial governments.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed for ever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Suggestions to Yachtsmen

(Chatham World).

Every boat, especially every open boat, should have a sufficient number of buoyant articles on board to sustain the occupants for a reasonable time in the water, and cork cushions are the least likely to be stowed away or fastened down when they are needed.

Something of this kind would have been mighty convenient for the crew of the Fedora, when she was knocked over, filled and sank off Chatham some years ago, and her owner has always carried them ever since on his boats.

Most of the drownings that occur from the upsetting of boats would be prevented if boats of all kinds were furnished with buoyant articles that would come to the surface when the craft goes down.

When a boat upsets some people say she hasn't ballast enough, but it is very convenient for the occupants when there isn't enough ballast on board to sink her. Open boats should not carry ballast enough to sink them. A decked boat, with enough ballast low down to right her in case of a knock down, is the safest craft, both for amateurs and experts. When there is only a small cockpit for the water to get into the boat will soon come up, after being knocked on her side, no matter how heavy the wind may blow.

Cut a thick slice from both ends of a cucumber; then cut crosswise in one-inch slices. Cut the slices round and round to form ribbons, using a small, sharp vegetable knife. Plunge into cold water and let stand half an hour that they may become crisp.—Gannie Merritt Farmer in the Women's Home Companion for July.

A LIFE STORY IN CLASSIFIED ADS

CHAPTER I.

By way of a brief introduction we'll say,
A St. John home was made glad
And a childless young couple made happy one day
Through an Evening Times Classified Ad.

The ad was as follows: "A baby boy bright,
A lonely young couple desires;
His training will be in paths that are right,
Such as every young hopeful requires.

The ad brought the baby and happiness too—
Our story has now but begun,
His history in chapters we'll publish for you,
Each day in this space you'll find one.

(To be continued tomorrow.)
