

THE EVENING TIMES, ST. JOHN, N. B., WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 26, 1906.

SALVATION ARMY FEEDS AN ARMY OF POOR IN NEW YORK

Twenty-five Thousand People Who Were Made Glad With Substantial Dinners—“Big” Tim Sullivan Feeds 6000 and Gives Them Shoes.

New York, Dec. 25.—New York celebrated today the most bounteous Christmas in its history in many years. Ideal winter weather—clear, cold and sunshiny—marked the day. It is seldom that New York does not turn out its myriads of thousands on holiday to tax the transportation lines, but today it seemed that the city stayed at home for its dinner and other Christmas pleasures. To those who had not homes and a dinner, a feast was provided by the many charitable societies and no one had excuse for going hungry.

Thirty-seven thousand of the city's poor shared in the distribution of Christmas dinners by the Salvation Army, Timothy D. Sullivan and the Bowers Mission. Five thousand baskets and 1,000 bags, each containing a fowl and “fixings” sufficient for a family of five persons or more, were distributed by Commander Eva Booth, of the Salvation Army, at the Grand Central Palace from 11 o'clock. Tickets entitling the bearers to dinners, had been given out by members of the Salvation Army and the holders were admitted to the great hall in squads of 200 and presented with a basket of food.

The usual Christmas dinner at the palace was abandoned as Commander Booth was convinced that the recipients of the gifts preferred to take them to their own homes and prepare their dinners after their own fashion. They made it possible to add 1,000 bags to the amount usually distributed.

In the afternoon occurred the annual Christmas tree and distribution of more than 3,000 toys to the children. Command-

THE WORLD OF SPORT

HOCKEY

New Glasgow Defies M. P. A. A. A. New Glasgow, Dec. 25.—(Special)—The New Glasgow hockey team left for Montreal yesterday morning to play the Stanley cup games with the Montreal Wanderers. The departure of the team is a deliberate defiance of the M. P. A. A. A., and means that the New Glasgow players, as soon as word is received here that they have played with the Wanderers in Montreal, will be declared professionals by the M. P. A. A. A.

The news that the New Glasgow champions had gone was heard in the city yesterday and was much discussed in club circles. Trouble was anticipated after the request of the champions for permission to play the Wanderers in Montreal, but there were few who believed that the ruling of the M. P. A. A. A. would be ignored.

The departure of the New Glasgow team may have an important effect on the N. S. Hockey League. Some, more especially those outside of the city, consider that it means the collapse of the provincial organization.

Speaking to the Telegraph correspondent, an official of the M. P. A. A. A. did not share that opinion. He looked forward to the games being played. He contended that the team had decided to play the Stanley cup games, because they could not go to the city to play in the province. He felt that the N. S. League would go on just the same.

The official in question said that he was glad that the team had decided to play the Stanley cup games, because they could not go to the city to play in the province. He felt that the N. S. League would go on just the same.

CUPID HAD HIS OWN TROUBLES

But Despite Messages That Went Astray and Other Blunders Rev. Mr. Clarke Found His Bride.

St. Stephen, N. B., Dec. 25.—The home of the Misses Clarke, on Marks street, was the scene of a pretty wedding this evening, when their nephew Rev. Harold Clarke, was united in marriage to Miss Lillian O'Donnell, Doaktown (N. B.). The bride looked lovely in a handsome dress of cream color with lace trimmings. They were unattended by Rev. Mr. Rennie, of Milltown, performed the ceremony. It being a quiet home wedding, none but immediate friends were present. The relatives of the groom were taken by surprise having but twelve hours notice in which to prepare for the event. The groom, who is on the Presbyterian mission at Wei Wei Fu, Hoonan, China, sent a cablegram to his fiancée of the date of his arrival, but by some unaccountable blunder the message was not delivered to her.

Mr. Clarke having obtained a leave of absence for three months and taking advantage of the fact that C. P. R. steamer and train from Vancouver, arrived at St. John on Friday and proceeded to the home of his bride, whom he met by accident at Fredericton, where he learned that no message had been received from him. He then wrote his aunt a letter in the train, before leaving again for his home in China.

Rev. Mr. Clarke was born in St. Stephen, graduating from the High School, then attending at Dalhousie, where he received his degree, after which he took a course in the training school at San Fernando, Trinidad. After being ordained he had charge of Doaktown until his appointment four years ago to his present charge. The people of St. Stephen are proud of his position and ability as a clergyman and extend sincere congratulations to himself and bride.

The bell boys of the Dufferin Hotel presented to Victor Scott, the chief clerk, a fine pair of shoes and a neck scarf. They also presented to the type writer, the recipient of a handsome manicule set. The boarders in Carville Hall, on Christmas eve, presented to Mr. and Mrs. John B. Bond a handsome silver candelabra.

The bell boys of the Dufferin Hotel presented to Victor Scott, the chief clerk, a fine pair of shoes and a neck scarf. They also presented to the type writer, the recipient of a handsome manicule set. The boarders in Carville Hall, on Christmas eve, presented to Mr. and Mrs. John B. Bond a handsome silver candelabra.

The bell boys of the Dufferin Hotel presented to Victor Scott, the chief clerk, a fine pair of shoes and a neck scarf. They also presented to the type writer, the recipient of a handsome manicule set. The boarders in Carville Hall, on Christmas eve, presented to Mr. and Mrs. John B. Bond a handsome silver candelabra.

The bell boys of the Dufferin Hotel presented to Victor Scott, the chief clerk, a fine pair of shoes and a neck scarf. They also presented to the type writer, the recipient of a handsome manicule set. The boarders in Carville Hall, on Christmas eve, presented to Mr. and Mrs. John B. Bond a handsome silver candelabra.

The bell boys of the Dufferin Hotel presented to Victor Scott, the chief clerk, a fine pair of shoes and a neck scarf. They also presented to the type writer, the recipient of a handsome manicule set. The boarders in Carville Hall, on Christmas eve, presented to Mr. and Mrs. John B. Bond a handsome silver candelabra.

The bell boys of the Dufferin Hotel presented to Victor Scott, the chief clerk, a fine pair of shoes and a neck scarf. They also presented to the type writer, the recipient of a handsome manicule set. The boarders in Carville Hall, on Christmas eve, presented to Mr. and Mrs. John B. Bond a handsome silver candelabra.

The bell boys of the Dufferin Hotel presented to Victor Scott, the chief clerk, a fine pair of shoes and a neck scarf. They also presented to the type writer, the recipient of a handsome manicule set. The boarders in Carville Hall, on Christmas eve, presented to Mr. and Mrs. John B. Bond a handsome silver candelabra.

The bell boys of the Dufferin Hotel presented to Victor Scott, the chief clerk, a fine pair of shoes and a neck scarf. They also presented to the type writer, the recipient of a handsome manicule set. The boarders in Carville Hall, on Christmas eve, presented to Mr. and Mrs. John B. Bond a handsome silver candelabra.

The bell boys of the Dufferin Hotel presented to Victor Scott, the chief clerk, a fine pair of shoes and a neck scarf. They also presented to the type writer, the recipient of a handsome manicule set. The boarders in Carville Hall, on Christmas eve, presented to Mr. and Mrs. John B. Bond a handsome silver candelabra.

The bell boys of the Dufferin Hotel presented to Victor Scott, the chief clerk, a fine pair of shoes and a neck scarf. They also presented to the type writer, the recipient of a handsome manicule set. The boarders in Carville Hall, on Christmas eve, presented to Mr. and Mrs. John B. Bond a handsome silver candelabra.

The bell boys of the Dufferin Hotel presented to Victor Scott, the chief clerk, a fine pair of shoes and a neck scarf. They also presented to the type writer, the recipient of a handsome manicule set. The boarders in Carville Hall, on Christmas eve, presented to Mr. and Mrs. John B. Bond a handsome silver candelabra.

The bell boys of the Dufferin Hotel presented to Victor Scott, the chief clerk, a fine pair of shoes and a neck scarf. They also presented to the type writer, the recipient of a handsome manicule set. The boarders in Carville Hall, on Christmas eve, presented to Mr. and Mrs. John B. Bond a handsome silver candelabra.

The bell boys of the Dufferin Hotel presented to Victor Scott, the chief clerk, a fine pair of shoes and a neck scarf. They also presented to the type writer, the recipient of a handsome manicule set. The boarders in Carville Hall, on Christmas eve, presented to Mr. and Mrs. John B. Bond a handsome silver candelabra.

The bell boys of the Dufferin Hotel presented to Victor Scott, the chief clerk, a fine pair of shoes and a neck scarf. They also presented to the type writer, the recipient of a handsome manicule set. The boarders in Carville Hall, on Christmas eve, presented to Mr. and Mrs. John B. Bond a handsome silver candelabra.

The bell boys of the Dufferin Hotel presented to Victor Scott, the chief clerk, a fine pair of shoes and a neck scarf. They also presented to the type writer, the recipient of a handsome manicule set. The boarders in Carville Hall, on Christmas eve, presented to Mr. and Mrs. John B. Bond a handsome silver candelabra.

The bell boys of the Dufferin Hotel presented to Victor Scott, the chief clerk, a fine pair of shoes and a neck scarf. They also presented to the type writer, the recipient of a handsome manicule set. The boarders in Carville Hall, on Christmas eve, presented to Mr. and Mrs. John B. Bond a handsome silver candelabra.

The bell boys of the Dufferin Hotel presented to Victor Scott, the chief clerk, a fine pair of shoes and a neck scarf. They also presented to the type writer, the recipient of a handsome manicule set. The boarders in Carville Hall, on Christmas eve, presented to Mr. and Mrs. John B. Bond a handsome silver candelabra.

The bell boys of the Dufferin Hotel presented to Victor Scott, the chief clerk, a fine pair of shoes and a neck scarf. They also presented to the type writer, the recipient of a handsome manicule set. The boarders in Carville Hall, on Christmas eve, presented to Mr. and Mrs. John B. Bond a handsome silver candelabra.

The bell boys of the Dufferin Hotel presented to Victor Scott, the chief clerk, a fine pair of shoes and a neck scarf. They also presented to the type writer, the recipient of a handsome manicule set. The boarders in Carville Hall, on Christmas eve, presented to Mr. and Mrs. John B. Bond a handsome silver candelabra.

The bell boys of the Dufferin Hotel presented to Victor Scott, the chief clerk, a fine pair of shoes and a neck scarf. They also presented to the type writer, the recipient of a handsome manicule set. The boarders in Carville Hall, on Christmas eve, presented to Mr. and Mrs. John B. Bond a handsome silver candelabra.

The bell boys of the Dufferin Hotel presented to Victor Scott, the chief clerk, a fine pair of shoes and a neck scarf. They also presented to the type writer, the recipient of a handsome manicule set. The boarders in Carville Hall, on Christmas eve, presented to Mr. and Mrs. John B. Bond a handsome silver candelabra.

The bell boys of the Dufferin Hotel presented to Victor Scott, the chief clerk, a fine pair of shoes and a neck scarf. They also presented to the type writer, the recipient of a handsome manicule set. The boarders in Carville Hall, on Christmas eve, presented to Mr. and Mrs. John B. Bond a handsome silver candelabra.

The bell boys of the Dufferin Hotel presented to Victor Scott, the chief clerk, a fine pair of shoes and a neck scarf. They also presented to the type writer, the recipient of a handsome manicule set. The boarders in Carville Hall, on Christmas eve, presented to Mr. and Mrs. John B. Bond a handsome silver candelabra.

“Can't You Talk?”

Yes, he can talk, but you won't ask him. So before New Years call at

WILLIAM YOUNG'S
and select a pair of Vici Kid or Patent Leather

Gold Bond Shoes.
Have them fitted with Overshoes or Rubbers and present them to him, he will thank you are a mind reader.

Address, 512-521 Main St.

GILLET'S GOODS ARE STANDARD ARTICLES

IT IS TO THE ADVANTAGE OF EVERY HOUSEKEEPER IN CANADA TO USE THEM

MADE FOR OVER 50 YEARS (ESTABLISHED 1852)

E.W. GILLET COMPANY
TORONTO, ONT.

Soft Coal.
Winter Post, Springfield, Picton, Broad Cove, and Old Mine Sydney.

J. S. GIBBON & CO.
Smythe St. 6 1/2 Charlotte St. and Marsh St.

ST. JOHN FUEL CO.
Will be pleased to quote you prices on all kinds of fuel. Prompt delivery to any part of the city.

BROAD COVE
SOFT COAL
Landing ex. car.

GEORGE DICK, (8 Britain St.)
Telephone 1116

There Are Other Joy-days
Besides Christmas for YOU

Christmas is a day of the past, for nearly another year—other joyous days are in store for you.

Do you want them? Days of pleasure! Days of Leisure! Days of good things to eat! They come every day if you make your meal-time choice.

SCOTCH ZEST BREAD

No hot kitchen. No bread-making worry. Nothing but pleasure in every loaf.

Try it for proof.

UNION BAKERY,
GEO. J. SMITH, Prop.,
122 Charlotte Street.

HEWSON
PURE WOOL TWEEDS
Pure wool means ALL wool—Nova Scotia wool—at the Hewson mill.

A Surprise in Biscuits
Every box of Mooney's Perfection Cream Sodas you open—you will find a new delight in these dainty biscuits.

When you want to surprise yourself, give your appetite a treat with

Mooney's
Perfection Cream Sodas

There was a very well attended service for women in St. John's church, Carleton, last night, followed by an entertainment in the school room. Seventy sailors were present and after service had been conducted by the pastor, Rev. G. F. Seville, adjournment was made to the Sunday school room where the ladies of the congregation had provided ample refreshment. Afterwards the mariners entertained their hosts and hostesses with a very enjoyable programme.

ROYAL BAKERY.
(TWO STORES)
Staten Car, Charlotte and Spring and all Main St. B. B. POUND CAKES A Specialty. Plum, Cherry, Fruit and Sponge. All kinds of pastries made from top flour at better and lower prices.

THE UNITED STATES AT WAR WITH THE ELEMENTS

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 20.—The United States is at war with the elements, disease. This is the view the president takes of the work of the Panama Canal and in his speech at the Panama Canal and in his speech at the Panama Canal and in his speech at the Panama Canal.

It is an extreme case, but it is an actual one. The Panama Canal is the tool of a party boss and he did not need to look after his constituents, and the clerk's salary was just as much to the good. Secretary McCall's eagerly looked for report of his investigation into the recent Japanese trouble in San Francisco was sent to the senate and house this week accompanied by a special message from the president on the subject. It appears from the report that up to October fifteenth there were attending the public schools of San Francisco ninety-three Japanese pupils. These pupils were distributed among twenty-three schools. The ages of the pupils ranged from seven to twenty years. Of the total ninety-three, twenty-five were born in Japan and twenty-five in the United States. These born in this country would be citizens and as such, subject to the laws of the nation and the state. Mr. McCall recommends that the United States and all its people unite in protesting the day after tomorrow in this country and the president states in the same connection that the treaty which guarantees Japanese root and branch protection shall be enforced, and that if necessary he will compel its enforcement. He says that the Japanese both civil and military which he could lawfully command. The message will no doubt be received with enthusiasm by the people and go far toward healing the breach which seems to have had its beginning in trifling differences.

TWO LIVES LOST OFF BRIER ISLAND

Leslie McDormand and Murray Gower Were the Victims—Their Dory Capsized.

Digby, N. S., Dec. 25.—Another drowning accident occurred off Brier Island last night, which has made a gloomy Christmas at Westport today. A large fishing sloop manned by Capt. William McDormand, Edward Cousins, Murray Gower and Leslie McDormand was returning from the fishing grounds off Brier Island on Saturday afternoon, when about two miles to the northwest of Brier Island, one of the dories broke adrift.

In order to save the dory two of the men, Leslie McDormand and Murray Gower cast off the painter of the other dory, hauled her up alongside the sloop and jumped into her. A heavy northeast sea caused the dory and then both dories capsized and the men were both drowned. The bodies were recovered and were recovered. Both men were single. Leslie McDormand was aged 22. He is a clerk for the few months of the congressional session at fifty to seventy-five dollars a month and pocket the remainder. There is still a large class who keep no clerk or whose wives serve as clerks, and the twelve hundred is kept in the family pocket-book. In some instances a son draws the pay of a clerk, while in reality he is in college, and there are cases of a relative being registered as clerk who is a clerk at the full salary. The boy only came to Washington for a week or so during the holidays.

ing the holidays. At the end of each session the congressman's wife was obliged to have the bell boy take to the collar a trunk full of letters from constituents which had never been opened. This is an extreme case, but it is an actual one. The Panama Canal is the tool of a party boss and he did not need to look after his constituents, and the clerk's salary was just as much to the good.

Secretary McCall's eagerly looked for report of his investigation into the recent Japanese trouble in San Francisco was sent to the senate and house this week accompanied by a special message from the president on the subject. It appears from the report that up to October fifteenth there were attending the public schools of San Francisco ninety-three Japanese pupils. These pupils were distributed among twenty-three schools.

The ages of the pupils ranged from seven to twenty years. Of the total ninety-three, twenty-five were born in Japan and twenty-five in the United States. These born in this country would be citizens and as such, subject to the laws of the nation and the state. Mr. McCall recommends that the United States and all its people unite in protesting the day after tomorrow in this country and the president states in the same connection that the treaty which guarantees Japanese root and branch protection shall be enforced, and that if necessary he will compel its enforcement.

He says that the Japanese both civil and military which he could lawfully command. The message will no doubt be received with enthusiasm by the people and go far toward healing the breach which seems to have had its beginning in trifling differences.

ing the holidays. At the end of each session the congressman's wife was obliged to have the bell boy take to the collar a trunk full of letters from constituents which had never been opened. This is an extreme case, but it is an actual one. The Panama Canal is the tool of a party boss and he did not need to look after his constituents, and the clerk's salary was just as much to the good.

Secretary McCall's eagerly looked for report of his investigation into the recent Japanese trouble in San Francisco was sent to the senate and house this week accompanied by a special message from the president on the subject. It appears from the report that up to October fifteenth there were attending the public schools of San Francisco ninety-three Japanese pupils. These pupils were distributed among twenty-three schools.

The ages of the pupils ranged from seven to twenty years. Of the total ninety-three, twenty-five were born in Japan and twenty-five in the United States. These born in this country would be citizens and as such, subject to the laws of the nation and the state. Mr. McCall recommends that the United States and all its people unite in protesting the day after tomorrow in this country and the president states in the same connection that the treaty which guarantees Japanese root and branch protection shall be enforced, and that if necessary he will compel its enforcement.

He says that the Japanese both civil and military which he could lawfully command. The message will no doubt be received with enthusiasm by the people and go far toward healing the breach which seems to have had its beginning in trifling differences.

ing the holidays. At the end of each session the congressman's wife was obliged to have the bell boy take to the collar a trunk full of letters from constituents which had never been opened. This is an extreme case, but it is an actual one. The Panama Canal is the tool of a party boss and he did not need to look after his constituents, and the clerk's salary was just as much to the good.

Secretary McCall's eagerly looked for report of his investigation into the recent Japanese trouble in San Francisco was sent to the senate and house this week accompanied by a special message from the president on the subject. It appears from the report that up to October fifteenth there were attending the public schools of San Francisco ninety-three Japanese pupils. These pupils were distributed among twenty-three schools.

The ages of the pupils ranged from seven to twenty years. Of the total ninety-three, twenty-five were born in Japan and twenty-five in the United States. These born in this country would be citizens and as such, subject to the laws of the nation and the state. Mr. McCall recommends that the United States and all its people unite in protesting the day after tomorrow in this country and the president states in the same connection that the treaty which guarantees Japanese root and branch protection shall be enforced, and that if necessary he will compel its enforcement.

He says that the Japanese both civil and military which he could lawfully command. The message will no doubt be received with enthusiasm by the people and go far toward healing the breach which seems to have had its beginning in trifling differences.

ing the holidays. At the end of each session the congressman's wife was obliged to have the bell boy take to the collar a trunk full of letters from constituents which had never been opened. This is an extreme case, but it is an actual one. The Panama Canal is the tool of a party boss and he did not need to look after his constituents, and the clerk's salary was just as much to the good.

Secretary McCall's eagerly looked for report of his investigation into the recent Japanese trouble in San Francisco was sent to the senate and house this week accompanied by a special message from the president on the subject. It appears from the report that up to October fifteenth there were attending the public schools of San Francisco ninety-three Japanese pupils. These pupils were distributed among twenty-three schools.

The ages of the pupils ranged from seven to twenty years. Of the total ninety-three, twenty-five were born in Japan and twenty-five in the United States. These born in this country would be citizens and as such, subject to the laws of the nation and the state. Mr. McCall recommends that the United States and all its people unite in protesting the day after tomorrow in this country and the president states in the same connection that the treaty which guarantees Japanese root and branch protection shall be enforced, and that if necessary he will compel its enforcement.

He says that the Japanese both civil and military which he could lawfully command. The message will no doubt be received with enthusiasm by the people and go far toward healing the breach which seems to have had its beginning in trifling differences.

ing the holidays. At the end of each session the congressman's wife was obliged to have the bell boy take to the collar a trunk full of letters from constituents which had never been opened. This is an extreme case, but it is an actual one. The Panama Canal is the tool of a party boss and he did not need to look after his constituents, and the clerk's salary was just as much to the good.

Secretary McCall's eagerly looked for report of his investigation into the recent Japanese trouble in San Francisco was sent to the senate and house this week accompanied by a special message from the president on the subject. It appears from the report that up to October fifteenth there were attending the public schools of San Francisco ninety-three Japanese pupils. These pupils were distributed among twenty-three schools.

The ages of the pupils ranged from seven to twenty years. Of the total ninety-three, twenty-five were born in Japan and twenty-five in the United States. These born in this country would be citizens and as such, subject to the laws of the nation and the state. Mr. McCall recommends that the United States and all its people unite in protesting the day after tomorrow in this country and the president states in the same connection that the treaty which guarantees Japanese root and branch protection shall be enforced, and that if necessary he will compel its enforcement.

He says that the Japanese both civil and military which he could lawfully command. The message will no doubt be received with enthusiasm by the people and go far toward healing the breach which seems to have had its beginning in trifling differences.

ing the holidays. At the end of each session the congressman's wife was obliged to have the bell boy take to the collar a trunk full of letters from constituents which had never been opened. This is an extreme case, but it is an actual one. The Panama Canal is the tool of a party boss and he did not need to look after his constituents, and the clerk's salary was just as much to the good.

Secretary McCall's eagerly looked for report of his investigation into the recent Japanese trouble in San Francisco was sent to the senate and house this week accompanied by a special message from the president on the subject. It appears from the report that up to October fifteenth there were attending the public schools of San Francisco ninety-three Japanese pupils. These pupils were distributed among twenty-three schools.

The ages of the pupils ranged from seven to twenty years. Of the total ninety-three, twenty-five were born in Japan and twenty-five in the United States. These born in this country would be citizens and as such, subject to the laws of the nation and the state. Mr. McCall recommends that the United States and all its people unite in protesting the day after tomorrow in this country and the president states in the same connection that the treaty which guarantees Japanese root and branch protection shall be enforced, and that if necessary he will compel its enforcement.

He says that the Japanese both civil and military which he could lawfully command. The message will no doubt be received with enthusiasm by the people and go far toward healing the breach which seems to have had its beginning in trifling differences.

ing the holidays. At the end of each session the congressman's wife was obliged to have the bell boy take to the collar a trunk full of letters from constituents which had never been opened. This is an extreme case, but it is an actual one. The Panama Canal is the tool of a party boss and he did not need to look after his constituents, and the clerk's salary was just as much to the good.

Secretary McCall's eagerly looked for report of his investigation into the recent Japanese trouble in San Francisco was sent to the senate and house this week accompanied by a special message from the president on the subject. It appears from the report that up to October fifteenth there were attending the public schools of San Francisco ninety-three Japanese pupils. These pupils were distributed among twenty-three schools.

The ages of the pupils ranged from seven to twenty years. Of the total ninety-three, twenty-five were born in Japan and twenty-five in the United States. These born in this country would be citizens and as such, subject to the laws of the nation and the state. Mr. McCall recommends that the United States and all its people unite in protesting the day after tomorrow in this country and the president states in the same connection that the treaty which guarantees Japanese root and branch protection shall be enforced, and that if necessary he will compel its enforcement.

He says that the Japanese both civil and military which he could lawfully command. The message will no doubt be received with enthusiasm by the people and go far toward healing the breach which seems to have had its beginning in trifling differences.

ing the holidays. At the end of each session the congressman's wife was obliged to have the bell boy take to the collar a trunk full of letters from constituents which had never been opened. This is an extreme case, but it is an actual one. The Panama Canal is the tool of a party boss and he did not need to look after his constituents, and the clerk's salary was just as much to the good.

Secretary McCall's eagerly looked for report of his investigation into the recent Japanese trouble in San Francisco was sent to the senate and house this week accompanied by a special message from the president on the subject. It appears from the report that up to October fifteenth there were attending the public schools of San Francisco ninety-three Japanese pupils. These pupils were distributed among twenty-three schools.

ing the holidays. At the end of each session the congressman's wife was obliged to have the bell boy take to the collar a trunk full of letters from constituents which had never been opened. This is an extreme case, but it is an actual one. The Panama Canal is the tool of a party boss and he did not need to look after his constituents, and the clerk's salary was just as much to the good.

Secretary McCall's eagerly looked for report of his investigation into the recent Japanese trouble in San Francisco was sent to the senate and house this week accompanied by a special message from the president on the subject. It appears from the report that up to October fifteenth there were attending the public schools of San Francisco ninety-three Japanese pupils. These pupils were distributed among twenty-three schools.

The ages of the pupils ranged from seven to twenty years. Of the total ninety-three, twenty-five were born in Japan and twenty-five in the United States. These born in this country would be citizens and as such, subject to the laws of the nation and the state. Mr. McCall recommends that the United States and all its people unite in protesting the day after tomorrow in this country and the president states in the same connection that the treaty which guarantees Japanese root and branch protection shall be enforced, and that if necessary he will compel its enforcement.

He says that the Japanese both civil and military which he could lawfully command. The message will no doubt be received with enthusiasm by the people and go far toward healing the breach which seems to have had its beginning in trifling differences.

ing the holidays. At the end of each session the congressman's wife was obliged to have the bell boy take to the collar a trunk full of letters from constituents which had never been opened. This is an extreme case, but it is an actual one. The Panama Canal is the tool of a party boss and he did not need to look after his constituents, and the clerk's salary was just as much to the good.

Secretary McCall's eagerly looked for report of his investigation into the recent Japanese trouble in San Francisco was sent to the senate and house this week accompanied by a special message from the president on the subject. It appears from the report that up to October fifteenth there were attending the public schools of San Francisco ninety-three Japanese pupils. These pupils were distributed among twenty-three schools.

The ages of the pupils ranged from seven to twenty years. Of the total ninety-three, twenty-five were born in Japan and twenty-five in the United States. These born in this country would be citizens and as such, subject to the laws of the nation and the state. Mr. McCall recommends that the United States and all its people unite in protesting the day after tomorrow in this country and the president states in the same connection that the treaty which guarantees Japanese root and branch protection shall be enforced, and that if necessary he will compel its enforcement.

He says that the Japanese both civil and military which he could lawfully command. The message will no doubt be received with enthusiasm by the people and go far toward healing the breach which seems to have had its beginning in trifling differences.

ing the holidays. At the end of each session the congressman's wife was obliged to have the bell boy take to the collar a trunk full of letters from constituents which had never been opened. This is an extreme case, but it is an actual one. The Panama Canal is the tool of a party boss and he did not need to look after his constituents, and the clerk's salary was just as much to the good.

Secretary McCall's eagerly looked for report of his investigation into the recent Japanese trouble in San Francisco was sent to the senate and house this week accompanied by a special message from the president on the subject. It appears from the report that up to October fifteenth there were attending the public schools of San Francisco ninety-three Japanese pupils. These pupils were distributed among twenty-three schools.

The ages of the pupils ranged from seven to twenty years. Of the total ninety-three, twenty-five were born in Japan and twenty-five in the United States. These born in this country would be citizens and as such, subject to the laws of the nation and the state. Mr. McCall recommends that the United States and all its people unite in protesting the day after tomorrow in this country and the president states in the same connection that the treaty which guarantees Japanese root and branch protection shall be enforced, and that if necessary he will compel its enforcement.

He says that the Japanese both civil and military which he could lawfully command. The message will no doubt be received with enthusiasm by the people and go far toward healing the breach which seems to have had its beginning in trifling differences.

ing the holidays. At the end of each session the congressman's wife was obliged to have the bell boy take to the collar a trunk full of letters from constituents which had never been opened. This is an extreme case, but it is an actual one. The Panama Canal is the tool of a party boss and he did not need to look after his constituents, and the clerk's salary was just as much to the good.

Secretary McCall's eagerly looked for report of his investigation into the recent Japanese trouble in San Francisco was sent to the senate and house this week accompanied by a special message from the president on the subject. It appears from the report that up to October fifteenth there were attending the public schools of San Francisco ninety-three Japanese pupils. These pupils were distributed among twenty-three schools.

The ages of the pupils ranged from seven to twenty years. Of the total ninety-three, twenty-five were born in Japan and twenty-five in the United States. These born in this country would be citizens and as such, subject to the laws of the nation and the state. Mr. McCall recommends that the United States and all its people unite in protesting the day after tomorrow in this country and the president states in the same connection that the treaty which guarantees Japanese root and branch protection shall be enforced, and that if necessary he will compel its enforcement.

He says that the Japanese both civil and military which he could lawfully command. The message will no doubt be received with enthusiasm by the people and go far toward healing the breach which seems to have had its beginning in trifling differences.

ing the holidays. At the end of each session the congressman's wife was obliged to have the bell boy take to the collar a trunk full of letters from constituents which had never been opened. This is an extreme case, but it is an actual one. The Panama Canal is the tool of a party boss and he did not need to look after his constituents, and the clerk's salary was just as much to the good.

Secretary McCall's eagerly looked for report of his investigation into the recent Japanese trouble in San Francisco was sent to the senate and house this week accompanied by a special message from the president on the subject. It appears from the report that up to October fifteenth there were attending the public schools of San Francisco ninety-three Japanese pupils. These pupils were distributed among twenty-three