22 STEAMERS LIKELY LOCKED IN ST. LAWRENCE

Sudden Descent of Winter
Packs Ice 300 Miles
Below Quebec

MONTREAL, Dec. 8.—Twenty-two vessels are in danger of being caught in the St. Lawrence for the winter, besides coastal craft. Navigation was at a standstill between Montreal and Quebec yesterday, except for the movements of ice-breakers, and ice was reported packed 300 miles below Quebec. Shipping men say they have not seen such conditions come so early or so suddenly in 20 years.

Five steamers are at Montreal and one is trying to get here from the Lakes, two are at Three Rivers, five at Sorel, some 10 in Quebec, and another, the Valerius, damaged by running ashore and leaking, is trying to get back to the latter port.

WILL TRY TO GET OUT

The steamers at Quebec will probably try to get out tomorrow under convoy of ice breakers, but the prospects of the steamers further up the river, are not regarded as so bright. The weather has turned milder, but it is believed a week of higher temperature is needed to melt the ice. It is hoped that if it is not possible for the ships at Sorel and Three Rivers to get out, that they may make their way back to Montreal for better protection.

EXPERT EMPLOYED

Dr. Howard T. Barnes, professor of physics at McGill University, today consulted with milling interests and is expected later on when he has filled immediate engagements, to attempt to relieve grain-laden vessels at Midland, Ont., and Fort McNicoll, Ont., so that they may draw up alongside the grain elevators and unload.

SCHOONER LOST

BOSTON, Dec. 8.—The loss of the four-masted schooner Edna M. McKnight is reported here by her captain Alvin Loesch, in a wireless message to Crowell and Thurlow, owners of the vessel. The message said the schooner was abandoned in a gale, Captain Loesch reported, but he did not state where the schooner foundered. Her owners believed it was somewhere off Bermuda. She sailed from Gulfport, Miss., November 18, for Boston, with a cargo of 863,000 feet of lumber.

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., Dec. 8.—The Marine department of the Chamber of Commerce, was advised that the liner Asaka Maru of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, is on the rocks, 245 miles from Yokohama. She was bound from the Japanese port for Vancouver, B. C. No report has been received of the condition of passengers and crew.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Dec. 8.—

SAULS TELL TALE TO MAYOR'S CLERK

A tale smacking of the old days of the sailorman was poured into the ears of the Mayor's clerk this morning by H. McDonald from Montreal, who said he and five others were stranded here when they should have been sent to their home port, Montreal. He said that on August 13 the six men shipped on the tanker El Grillo for a trip to Brazil to be returned to Montreal within six weeks but were carried through the Panama Canal to the west coast of South America, thence to Norway and then after four months to Newcastle, England, and discharged there. After a two weeks' light, he said, they were given transportation to this port and arrived here yesterday on the Metegama.

An effort was made to obtain transportation to Montreal and the shipping master was called on. That official informed them he could do nothing and sent them to the immigration inspector, J. V. Lantieri, who also said he could not furnish transportation.

This morning they called to see the Mayor but he was not in his office. Others in the party were Armand Cormier, Lionel Daoust, Albert and William Auck and Tom O'Connor.
