

S. D. SCOTT, BRILLIANT EDITORIAL WRITER, PASSES AWAY AT TYPEWRITER

Former Chief of St. John
Sun Succumbs to Heart Trouble.

Dr. S. D. Scott, formerly of St. John, chief editorial writer of the Vancouver Province, and enjoying a reputation that was continent-wide, died suddenly on Sunday in Vancouver, of heart trouble. He passed away while at work at his typewriter. Mr. Scott was editor of the old St. John Sun for years and then editor of the Standard here for some time.

A long tramp in an Armistice Day parade a month ago brought on the seizure which caused his death. He is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Emma Wood, daughter of the late John Wood, J. P., of Amherst; three sons and a daughter, all of them living in Vancouver.

Sketch of Dr. Scott.

Snowdon Dunn Scott was born near Parraboro, N. S., in 1861. He was educated at Dalhousie, Mount Allison and the University of Halifax, graduating B. A. from the latter institution and M. A. from Mount Allison. While in college he first manifested that journalistic bent which determined his later career, and he edited the college papers, the Dalhousie College Gazette and the Mount Allison Argosy.

After his graduation Mr. Scott studied law for a time in the office of H. A. Powell, K. C., in Sackville, but did not remain a devotee or a digressor of Blackstone for long. Journalism called him and he became editor of the Sackville Post. In 1881 he became editor of the Halifax Mail, and remained as successfully editor of the Mail and Herald until 1885, when he came to St. John as editor of the Sun.

Mr. Scott was for many parliamentary sessions a member of that circle of bright newspaper men, the Ottawa press gallery, where he represented the Halifax Herald and St. John Sun. He had a clear grasp of political affairs, and soon learned the strong and weak points of every man in the House. Consequently, it was not long before "Scott's Ottawa Letter" was well known and looked for in every editorial sanctum in Canada.

Dr. Scott was by common consent one of the cleverest writers of political leaders in the Canadian press. He had a terse epigrammatic way of condensing the pith of an article into a luminous phrase or sentence, that the reader came upon unexpectedly and instantly appreciated.

Was Not Bitter. His attacks were not bitter, however keen, and excited party men in the heat of a campaign. He was known to assert with some heat that "Scott was too much of a gentleman." His writings on general subjects were frequently brightened by classical allusions and illustrations suggested by wide and intelligent reading. It is an open secret that only Mr. Scott's predilection for St. John kept him here so long. He had declined flattering offers to take up journalistic work in other Canadian cities.

But it is not alone in journalism that Mr. Scott won deserved recognition. He was a profound student, and has written, on different occasions, scholarly papers for the New Brunswick Historical Society and kindred societies, and had appeared on the lecture platform in St. John and elsewhere.

He was a member of the Board of Regents of Mount Allison University, and had been president of the Alumni Association. He was a past president of the New Brunswick Historical Society, and a member of the Council of the Canadian British Empire League. He was also a member of St. George's Society.

Dr. Scott had always taken an active interest in all works for the amelioration of humanity. He was a member of the board of management and a trustee of the Home for Incurables, having been one of the original trustees nominated in the will of the late W. W. Turnbull. He was also a member of the board of management of the Associated Charities.

The Sun, under his guidance, had always been an advocate of temperance and prohibition. In politics he was a Liberal-Conservative and in religion a Methodist. He went to British Columbia to take the post of editor of the News-Advertiser, and when that newspaper was merged with the Sun, he was appointed to the supervision of the Province's editorial page.

Captain W. J. Hamilton. Many friends here and elsewhere will sincerely lament the death of Captain William J. Hamilton, of Douglas avenue, which occurred on Saturday night after a short illness. Heart trouble was the cause of death. Captain Hamilton was a descendant of United Empire Loyalist stock, his father having been the late James Hamilton, of the North End. The family originally came from Dunfriesshire, Scotland, settling in New York state. They were related to the Douglasses, a family closely connected with Scottish history and members of the ancient Scottish nobility. At the time of the American Revolution the family settled in Clyde River, Shelburne county, N. S., several members afterwards coming to St. John, Shediac and Moncton. Many of them were connected with shipbuilding in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick and it was only natural that William J. Hamilton should go to sea in early life. At 20 he held a master mariner's certificate.

He sailed the seas of the world and shortly after the Spanish war in 1898 Captain Hamilton was given command of a United States naval vessel in the Philippine Islands.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton returned to St. John but a short time ago from Iloilo, where Captain Hamilton spent a large part of his life. He had extensive business interests at Iloilo and was a past president of the British Club there. He occasionally visited St. John and ultimately settled in the North End, the place of his birth.

He was a keen sportsman and was a member of the Westfield Golf Club and president last year of the Beaver Lake Fishing Club. A man of considerable means, he gave liberally to every worthy cause and a citizen of sterling qualities, he will be greatly missed in the community.

Captain Hamilton was 56 years of age and is survived by his wife and two sons. The sons are Gray, a student at Rethesay Collegiate School, and Gordon, at home.

The funeral will take place at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon from his late residence, 60 Douglas avenue.

Edgar Whelpley.

The parish of Greenwich, Kings county, lost one of its best known and highly respected men in the death of Edgar DuVal Whelpley on Saturday, Dec. 8. His illness was of several months' duration, but not until a few weeks ago did the change take place for the worse. His only daughter, Marjorie, a nurse in Montreal, was called home, and was with her father at the time of his death.

Mr. Whelpley was a son of Harvey Whelpley, the well known boat builder of Greenwich, who is now past ninety years of age. Edgar Whelpley, who was fifty-nine years old, was closely associated with the skate factory of J. A. Whelpley & Co., his uncle James A. Whelpley, being the founder and manager until his death years ago. Since the closing of the factory, Edgar Whelpley continued the making of skates on his own account and also did some farming.

Mr. Whelpley was a most active member of the Church of England in Greenwich, and a man ever ready to do a good turn in helping others. His wife was Miss Elizabeth Miller, of Bathurst, who survives. His other living relatives are three brothers, George and Nevill in Winnipeg, and Dan in Cambridge, Mass., and two sisters, Mrs. Frank Akersley, of St. John, and Mrs. M. McKiel, of Fredericton, and numerous other relatives in this city.

The funeral will take place Tuesday afternoon, and interment will be in St. James' church cemetery, Browns' Flat, by the side of his two little daughters who died years ago.

Mrs. James Fowler de Forest.

Very many friends will regret to learn of the death of Addie, beloved wife of James Fowler de Forest, at her home, Meadow Creek, Alta., Nov. 18, after a short illness, leaving her husband, two sons and two daughters to mourn. The funeral took place at Claresholm on Thursday, Nov. 15.

The late Mrs. de Forest was born at Wallace, N. S. She leaves one brother, G. O. Fulton, merchant, of Truro, and two sisters. In her early days she was operator for the Western Union Telegraph Company at Woodstock, N. B. She afterwards married James F. de Forest, who was for years station agent on the I. C. R. They were nine years at Bloomfield Station, where they were very highly esteemed. Mr. and Mrs. de Forest were active members of the Methodist church and took great interest in every good cause. On account of his wife's health they moved to southern Alberta, where they have lived for the last seventeen years.

Mrs. John Marshall.

Mrs. John Marshall, wife of John Marshall, of 115 Erin street, formerly of Spruce Lake, St. John county, died Dec. 9, leaving besides her husband, three daughters and six sons. The daughters are Mrs. Sarah McCullough, of British Columbia; Mrs. Alexander MacEachen and Mrs. Arthur Colvill, of this city. The sons are John, of Toronto; Michael, of Saskatoon; Frank, Thomas and James, of this city, and Hawthorn, of Spruce Lake. The funeral will be held from her late residence to the Cathedral for high mass of requiem Tuesday morning.

John Bohan

Woodstock, N. B., Dec. 9.—The news of the death of John W. Bohan at his home in Bath, N. B., this morning was heard with profound sorrow. He had been ill for several weeks and went to Montreal recently for medical treatment, but did not receive any benefit. Perhaps no man in Carleton and Victoria counties was better known than Mr. Bohan. For years he carried on a general produce business and had warehouses in many sections to facilitate the rapidly increasing trade that attended honest and progressive methods.

He was about 59 years of age and is survived by a son, three daughters, two brothers and three sisters. His wife died about three years ago. He was an ardent Liberal and one of the most prominent and influential members of the party.

Mr. Bohan was the son of the late Mr. Thomas Bohan. His son is Charles Bohan. The three daughters are Misses Genevieve and Ellen at home, and Mrs. W. J. Gorman. The two sons, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Gorman, of Bath, and the sisters, Mrs. Lynch, of Fredericton, and Misses Mary and Catherine Bohan, of this place.

Mr. Bohan was a gentleman of outstanding character and had many warm personal friends wherever he was known. He will be greatly missed, not only in the community in which he lived, but by a large circle of friends and business associates. Much sympathy is felt for the family in their bereavement.

The funeral arrangements have not yet been announced.

Hogan-McAleer.

A wedding of much interest took place on Thursday night, Dec. 6, in the St. Luke's rectory, when Rev. R. P. McKim united in marriage Miss Edith McAleer and Alphonso Hogan, both of this city. They will reside at 77 Victoria street. Their many friends wish them much success and happiness.

At their pantry sale at 88 King street on Saturday the ladies of Central Baptist church raised for a fine display of home cooking, which was soon disposed of. The Mission Band of the church was the real source of the affair. The ladies in charge were Mrs. J. E. B. Herd, general convenor; Mrs. L. M. Hoar, Miss A. Daniels, Miss Annie S. Rhoda, Mrs. J. Kirkpatrick and Mrs. Charles McFarlane.
