CAUSE OF SHOOTING NOT DISCLOSED

Some Evidence in Syrian Hall Trouble Taken in Police Court.

The preliminary hearing in the case of Charles Simon, who was arrested on a charge of wilfully shooting with a revolver and doing grievous bodily harm to Louis Corey and Thomas Stephen in the Syrian Hall in Prince Edward street on the evening of January 1, was commenced in the police court this morning before Magistrate Hemmison George Corey, Michael Mitchell and Raymond Tobias testified.

George Corey said he was in the Syrian Hall on New Year's night, talking with Louis Corey and others, when Thomas Simon approached and struck him a blow on the head.

Michael Mitchell was then summoned to the hall to secure a doctor. The defendant was still in the hall, he said, and he did not see what was done and he did not see any revolver.

Raymond Tobias said he was standing with George Corey, Fred Isaac, Louis Corey and others and they were discussing plans to entertain a friend who was visiting in the city, when Thomas Simon rushed in and fired a revolver in his hand and head.

Just what started the trouble was not disclosed during the hearing, although one of the witnesses said he saw a revolver, but did not think it advisable to say anything about it.

On request from Sergeant Detective Power the case was set over until the preliminary under treatment, will be able to present.

HYDRO WILL BE OFF. It was announced at the office of the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission this morning that for about half an hour tomorrow morning, on the request of the Civic Power Commission, there would be an interruption in the current as the power would be shut off to allow some changes to be made to the switches in the sub-station.

As Hiram Sees It. "Hiram" said The Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Hornbeam, "I know a youth who suffered an affliction that forced him to withdraw from activities of doors and windows in the house. He had been an active boy who loved life and companionship. He is still in the house. But the thing that impressed me most about his case was that a number of his boy companions met and agreed to make regular visits and carry to him the news of the boy-world outside. Isn't that the real spirit of brotherhood?"

"Yes, sir," said Hiram, "it is so. Then young fellows is what I'd call Good Samaritans. That feller that I laid up kin says: 'I was sick an' ye visited me—an' the Lord's blessing is on them that kin hev said about 'em.' It aint good fer young folks to grow up selfish—an' thinkin' about nothin' but what they kin git fer themselves. I mind one time I was in bed fer three months—an' one feller come to see me two or three times every week. I was layin' by a window where I could look out—an' whenever he come in sight I felt like a noo man. You tell them young fellers that old Hiram is proud of 'em—Ye, sir."
