

THEY SAW MOVIES IN THE MAKING

The capacity crowd at the Imperial last evening received a new thrill in watching experienced motion picture studio directors, cameramen, electricians and stage hands handle a group of St. John's fair daughters, who acted as models in a style show and parade put on by local merchants in conjunction with the theatre. The fashion show was really excellent and the young ladies under the tutelage of Director Hartford and his assistant, Mr. Young, went through their graceful promenade very nicely indeed. They wore some stunning gowns, furs and millinery. The stage was lighted with a battery of ten "studio" lamps, elevated spotlights, etc. The stage and theatre were lighted as at midday in the sun. A "movie" camera in the hands of Chief Cameraman Walter Griffin was located in the orchestra section. Real pictures were "shot." Mr. Lawson, technical superintendent for the Shipman Company superintended the lighting, etc. It was a most interesting procedure and the Imperial can again be credited with staging something new to St. John. The Shipman forces were most gracious in their co-operation, even to the ladies of their professional acting forces who "made up" the girls in the dressing rooms. The same show is booked for tonight.

HOMES LEAD IN BILLIONS BUILDING IN U. S. THIS YEAR

New York, Oct. 6.—The Copper and Brass Research Association, 23 Broadway, has issued a survey estimating that $5,000,000,000 was the amount put into building industry during this year, about one-third being for dwelling construction. Industrial building, office, hotel, school, hospitals and churches came next, in the order named, in the national building operations.

In estimating that 100,000,000 pounds of copper was used, an increase of 100,000,000 pounds over 1921, the association reported: "Activity in the building industry has served greatly to assist in hastening the return of normal business conditions throughout the United States. It is therefore reassuring to note that only a start has been made toward catching up on the accumulated building deficit, and that with increased construction of heavier types of building, even though there may be a somewhat smaller amount of residence construction, we may reasonably expect, during the next three years at least, considerably more than the normal pre-war building activity."

BURGARS BIND WOMAN, FLEE WITH $1,500 GEMS

Arriving in Limousine, They Ransack Apartment—$165 in Bills Also Taken

New York, Oct. 6.—Returning to her apartment at 1,611 Foster avenue, Brooklyn, after a visit to her mother in the same building, Mrs. Audrey Blake, wife of Arthur C. Blake, assistant manager of the Manhattan Steamship Line, was attacked by two burglars, bound to a chair and robbed of $1,500 and two diamond rings worth $1,200. Half an hour before Mrs. Blake, while at the window in the apartment of her mother, Mrs. Isabelle Tilton, noticed two well-dressed young men alight from a dark green limousine. Each wore a blue serge suit and a soft felt hat. The driver of the automobile wore a dark gray suit and a derby hat.

On her return to her apartment, Mrs. Blake had just inserted the key when the door was thrown open, and she was seized and dragged inside. Two men, whom she recognized as those she had seen alight from the automobile, threw her into a chair to which they bound her with strips of cloth torn from her own clothes.

One of the men took her engagement ring, valued at $500, and her wedding ring, from her left hand, and a diamond solitaire, valued at $800, the gift of her mother, from her right hand. With the remark that it would be a pity to deprive her of it, the burglar replaced the wedding ring. The other burglar meanwhile discovered $165 in bills in a bankbook in a bureau drawer. Two suitcases had been filled with nothing, but the intruders, apparently satisfied with the two rings and the money, left them behind.

Mrs. Blake screamed, but could not make herself heard. After half an hour she freed herself from her bond and telephoned the Parkville police station. The detectives who responded found no clue except in Mrs. Blake's description of the two men.

WEEK TO COUNT PENNIES PAID FOR TAXI SERVICE

Greenwich Cab Company Escapes Task Mrs. Hinton Gave it By Employing Bank Staff.

Greenwich, Conn., Oct. 6.—If Mrs. R. L. Hinton of 25 Fifth avenue, New York, is under the impression that she "got square" with the Greenwich Cab Company in sending their office here $2,000 pennies in payment of a bill of $420 for taxi service during the week she occupied the H. L. Grant residence on Edgewood Drive, she was mistaken, for the key was conveyed to the Putnam Trust Company the same night and placed in a private vault thus relieving the company of any further responsibility.

The arduous task of counting the pennies has begun. It took the combined efforts of Robert L. Chamberlain, president of the bank; William H. Brettman, treasurer, and Eric Ackerman, Milo Mosher and Herman Opp of the banking staff, to carry the key weighing 250 pounds, from the vault to the outer banking office.

Asked how long it would take to complete the work, Mr. Brettman said it probably would be done after banking hours, but that instead of a week, the Greenwich Cab Company could send for the funds.

When the key was taken into the bank last Saturday night by four of the cab company's employees, Mr. Chamberlain, who was at his desk, told a reporter he thought the men were bringing in a corpse.

According to C. C. Jensen of the cab company, Mrs. Hinton's photograph, which bore the inscription "Oh, La! La," has been lost, but it is believed that it is a souvenir to hang up in his office after it has been framed.

A one dollar bill and 40 cents accompanied the key and photograph, which was for the taxi service trips of the company to Mrs. Hinton's home here to collect the bill.

SHOT BY AN ARROW IN FIFTH AVENUE

Shaft Enters Furrier's Window and Lodges in His Chest—Boy's Frank Police Think.

New York, Oct. 6.—Standing near an open window in his furrier's shop, Abraham Seligman felt a sudden sharp sting in his chest. A steel-tipped arrow, twenty-six inches long, had winged its way silently through the window, pierced his coat and vest and buried its point in the chest wall. Almost dazed with surprise and fright, Seligman staggered to the window and looked out, half expecting to see the street lined with Indians. But only the usual throngs of shoppers and promenaders were there.

Seligman telephoned to Police Headquarters and Dr. Mondantz came from Flower Hospital. The surgeon took the injured man there, made certain that the anachronistic weapon had not penetrated the lung, and allowed him to go to his home.

Detectives of the East Fifty-first street station, after examining the arrow with its steel tip and its rakish feather, set out on a hunt for the bow and the arm behind it. Atop a building under construction nearby they found another arrow, but workmen would not tell whence it had come. Assured by Seligman that he had not been concerned in a recent furriers' strike and that he had not enemies who might seek to slay him—novel-wise—with curare-poisoned arrows, the detectives finally put the incident down as a prank by a boy with a good bow and a lusty arm.

An address by the honorary president, Rev. A. L. Fleming, was greatly appreciated. Refreshments were served toward the close of the meeting.

MARRIED AT FIFTEEN

Married Girl Had Birth Certificate Which Read 1903, But It Was a Fake

London, Ont., Oct. 6.—Not yet 10 years old, though married and helping to maintain a home, a girl in this city is to be taken from her employment and sent to school part time, in accord with provisions of the adolescent act. Dr. Weir, attendance officer, found the girl and claims she showed him birth certificate bearing the date 1903.

From Toronto he found out the correct date to be 1907. He refuses to give the girl's name but intimates he is taking steps to find out how it happened that the young couple were able to marry in Hamilton a few months ago and how they were permitted to get a license.
