$18 suits, now $13.50 and $14.40.

GOLD PRODUCT OF 1913

Something Like $490,000,000—The British Sovereign

London, Jan. 16.—Samuel Montagu, Esq., in his "Bulletin" for 1913, says that "The British sovereign resembles a bird in its migration and nesting propensities, for its stay in a country is very short and perhaps only during the period when the crops are being sown."

He proceeds to say that sovereigns continue to be coined in great numbers, of which only a small proportion remain in Great Britain, the great bulk being exported to India and elsewhere in the British Empire on foreign countries.

"British gold," he says, "has become the handiest form of international remittance. So much is this recognized that the Bank of France makes special efforts to maintain a substantial stock of sovereigns in its vaults."

The report indicates a doubt as to whether next year will exceed that of 1913, which will probably prove to be in the neighborhood of $400,000,000.

A capacious appetite for gold was manifested by India during the year just ended, and it has been followed by indications of satiety.

A WONDERFUL CURE OF AN ABSCESS BY Burdock Blood Bitters.

Mr. A. W. Dryden, Amherst, N.S., writes:—"I am going to tell you what Burdock Blood Bitters has done for me. I took it to a doctor in St. John, N.B., and he lanced it, and told me it would get well in a few days, and wanted me to keep it squeezed out. It did not seem to get any better, so my wife took him back to the doctor to let him take him home and it would soon get better. It would gather and break, and it went on that way until he was over four years old."

"He lost four pieces of bone out of where it was lanced, and two pieces came from his mouth. He has lost all of his cheek bone, and his eye was drawn down. I took him to doctors in St. John, Moncton, and Amherst, and all wanted me to let him go under an operation. He was so small I told them that if he was going to die he might as well die as he was at home, and he would be all cut to pieces, so I decided to have the operation done. I told them I was going to try Burdock Blood Bitters, as I had heard my mother talk so much about it. I got a bottle, and when it was about half gone noticed it was doing good, and before many days the sore stopped running, and healed up, and the abscess has never broken out again. This happened nearly six years ago, so you can see I have great faith in Burdock Blood Bitters, and
