IF I SHOULD DIE TO NIGHT.

If I should die tenight My friends would look upon my quiet face Before they laid it in its restingplace, And deem that death had left it almost fair ; And fold my hands with lingering caress-Poor hands, so supty and so cold te-night!

If I should die tonight

thought, Some gentle word the trozen lips had said; Errands on which the willing feet had sped-The memory of my selfishness and pride, . My, hasty words would all be put aside,

If I should die to night Even hearts estranged would turn once more to me, Recalling other days remorsfully, The eyes that chill me with averted glance Would look upon me as of vore, perchance, And soften in the old familiar way, For who would war with dumb uncon clay ? So I might rest, forgiven of all to-night.
