pathy and regret. Benator Ellis said that it was with deep regret he followed the several despatches that gave accounts, some detailed, others general, of the atroci-ties perpertrated upon the Jews. One incident mentioned in the London Tele-graph was that of a carpenter who had his hands sawed off with his own saw. Other men had their limbs pulled out. Women had their eyes torn out, and some were ripped open. The authori-ties had been blamed for the massa-cre, possibly more so than they de-served. It was difficult to know who is responsible for the deeds of a fur-tous mob. Kischinneff, a capital of a portion of Southern Russia, contained shout 140,000 people, about one-third of which were said to be Jews. A reason alleged to be the cause of the massa-cres was the circulation of a report that a child had been found dead in the city, and that it had been murder-ed by a Jew. Reports as to the num-ber killed and wounded varied, the government official report showing it to be much less than that furnished by some of the newspapers. Continuing Senator Ellis said that he read despatches by them to show that an actual condition existed there. The destitute survivors were now depend-ing upon their fellow countrymen in Great Britain, the United States and alsowhere. The governor and local police had given a deaf car to those

Ing upon their fellow countrymen in Great Britain, the United States and elsewhere. The governor and local police had given a deaf ear to those asking for assistance and pfotection from the mob. It was not until troops arrived at the instance of the central government that the atrocities were allayed, and a number of the perpetra-tors arrested. Russia could not afford to look on to such riots with indif-ference. The affair was a blot upon the country. He was glad to see Christians coming forth expressing sympathy and rendering assistance, and hoped the day would come when Israel would not be persecuted in any country.

and hoped the day would come when Israel would not be persecuted in any country. Hon. H. A. McKeown said that he was not able to express in words his feelings of sympathy and sorrow due to the occasion. He assured the Jew-ish people present that the sorrow of their feliow clitzens for the persecu-tions undergone by their brethren in Southern Russian was beyond expres-sion. It was a credit to the Jews of this city to call a meeting for the pur-pose of protesting against the atro-cities perpetrated, and to get relief for the plundered and wounded. The worst condition of mind possible was that of terror for the security of one's life and property. It was regrettable that there were places on the globe where hands could so ruthlessly be laid on the pgrson and property of others, as described in the despatches and let-ters from Southern Russia. He had no doubt but that the Cara desired to uplift his people, whose plane of liv-ing was not as high as one would think it should be. Take away from this country the force of public opin-ion, the knowledge that wickedness in high places would be punished, and the freedom of the press, Neat would be the condition of affairs? In Rus-sia there is no freedom of the press.

H., May 17, 1903, Whereas the treatment of Jews In Russia is and has been for many years past, inhuman and contrary to all us-ages of civilized nations, and Whereas of late mob violence and bloodshed has been added to the list of crueilies hitherto practized, and Whereas we, the citizens of a free and enlightened country cannot view such atrocities with indifference, Be it resolved that we, the citizens of St. John, N. B., and loyal subjects of His Majesty, King Edward VII., at a public meeting assembled, do hereby condemn such practices as contrary to the universally recognized laws of God and man, and protest against their re-petition in the future. And be it further resolved that the government of Canada be requested to represent to the government of Great Britain that it use its good offices with the government of Russia to the end that greater protection be extended to the divisi inhabitants of that country, and that such atrocious crimes as have been perpetrated recently in the city Kischneff shall not be allowed to re-peat themselves. And be it further resolved that a The humbler ranks of the settlers were also made up of men of sturdy virtues, said Dr. Raymond. In this connection he read from the memoirs of Lieut. Jas. Moody of New Jersey, of General Skinner's brigade, to show that those men who left comfortable homes, farms and businesses to settle in an unknown wilderness had come to the decision which exiled them after hard consideration and a prac-tical appreciation of the worth of both sides of the question. Continuing, he spoke of the gigantic folly of the new republic in driving out 70,000 of its best people to found another nationality at its very doors to perpetuate the memory of a griev-ous wrong. But the congregation were not assembled, he said, to recail any such memories but to rejoke in their own growth, and while not abating their loyaity, to be glad of the union betyeen this and the neighboring country. their loyaity, to be glad of the union between this and the neighboring country. Speaking of the common sneer at the toryism of the early Loyalist legislators he wondered if among those who worked under responsible gov-ernment today would be found men more honest or patriotic or more ready to stand by duty and principle and hold aloof from the corruption in poli-tics which was now the greatest dan-ger to our state. The national life of the country was at stake in this mat-ter, and the outcome would show the success or failure of xesponsible gov-ernment. ST. PETERSHURG, May 17-Lieut. General Vonraaben, governor of Bes-sarabia, (the capital of which is Kis-cheneff) has been summoned to St. Petersburg. A ministerial circular for-bidding the Jews to defend themselves has been issued. It is expected that this step will stimulate Jewish emi-gration to America. Three thousand suits for damages have been instituted against the state of Kischeneff. The damages demanded amount to $1,500,000.

N. S. POST OFFICE ROBBED.

HALIFAX, May 17 .- Thursday night

HALIFAX, May 17.—Thursday night this week the post office at West Hiv-er, Pictou, was broken into and $20 taken and list night the post office at Glengarry was also broken into and some money taken. Suspicion rested on a stranger seen about Glengarry. Officer Nicholson, of New Glasgow, came to Glengarry this morning, but before he arrived the man had disap-peared. The crew on the special coal train coming from Stellarton this af-ternoon saw a man walking on the track answering the description of the man suspected. The train slowed up, and when the man saw the train was going to stop he took to the woods. Conductor "Dan" McDonald leaped from the van, ran after the fleeing man, caught him and with the assist-ance of the crew took him in the car, brought him to Truve, and handed him over to Intercolonial Officer Cribb, who took him to jail and notified Postoffice Inspector McDonald. The man proved to be B. J. Simpson, who robbed stores in Middle Stewlacks some time ago and who was sentenced to six months in the county jail by Judge Chipman. THREE DISMISSED.
